The New-York Times.

VOL. XIX.....NO. 5690. NEW-YORK, THURSDAY, AUGUST 18, 1870. PRICE FOUR CENTS.

FROM THE FRONT.

Serious Engagement at Gravellotte, Near Metz, on Tuesday.

A Victory Claimed by France—Heavy Losses Admitted.

The Recent Movements at Metz—No Reliable Reports Received.

Napoleon Preparing for Flight.

French Naval Movements—A Blockade of the German Ports Established.

Occupied Provinces of France Supplied with German Governors.

Gen. Sheridan to Follow the German Campaign.

THE SEAT OF WAR.

Great Battle Fought Near Metz on Tuesday—The French Victorious—Heavy Losses.

PARIS, Aug. 17.—The following official dispatch has just been made public:

METZ, Aug. 17—3 P. M.—We had a serious engagement yesterday, (the 16th,) near Gravellotte. We gained the advantage, but lost heavily.

[Gravellotte is a small village six miles southwest of Metz, and two miles west of the Moselle.]

The Recent Movements—A Brief French Official Dispatch—Unsatisfactory News—An Armistice Refused by Napoleon—Reports Through English Channels—The Imperial Family Preparing for Flight.

PARIS, Aug. 17—Noon.—The following official news has just been bulletined at the Ministry of War in this city:

The Department of War has just received news from the army, which continues to carry out the movement combined after the brilliant combat Sunday night. Two divisions of the enemy sought to intercept the French march, and were repulsed. The Emperor has arrived at Chalons, where he is organizing a large force.

THE OFFICIAL JOURNALS.

The Journal Officiel has appeared, but it has nothing of the great battle. The Soulois, however, states that important and satisfactory dispatches were received here yesterday. Marshal BAZAINE insists upon secrecy being observed so far as his movements are concerned.

AN ARMISTICE DENIED.

It is reported that Prince FREDERICK CHARLES has sent a flag of truce demanding an armistice, in order to bury his dead, which was refused by the French Commander. There is no doubt that hard fighting has been going on since Saturday last, the French being engaged in a great strategical movement, involving a series of engagements. As the operations are carried on in a place where communication is difficult—the telegraph wires having been cut—the news necessarily comes forward slowly.

PRESENT POSITION OF THE FRENCH ARMY.

LONDON, Aug. 17.—The main body of the French Army is concentrated at Etain, about twelve miles east north-east of Verdun, and seventy-six kilometres from Chalons. The troops now in Algeria are not to be recalled. The Gardes de Paris are demanding to be led into active service.

STARVING TROOPS.

The correspondents of the various London papers confirm the reports previously published that the French Army entered the last conflict in a starving condition.

PREPARATIONS FOR FLIGHT.

It is said that boxes containing NAPOLEON'S private property are arriving at Madrid. Similar stories are telegraphed here from various points in Belgium. The rumor that the Empress EUGENIE has applied to the Belgian Government for permission to traverse that country on her way to England is confirmed.

ENGLISH OPINIONS.

The growing unpopularity of the Emperor at Paris is due altogether to his interference with the army, instead of leaving it to the command of military experts. The Post says:

"The telegraphs have been cut in the rear of the Prussians. The French are chary of news at present. The fighting seems to have gone on for a week without a decisive result. The French are ready to fight till the last. Paris thus far, is unadvised of any reverses. If the Prussians approach Paris a revolution is inevitable."

The Times says:

"The French Army received a drinking stroke at Metz. A decisive battle will be fought at Chalons, after which English intervention will take place."

Strasbourg—A Sortie from the Fortress—The French Driven Back—Skirmishes—The Present Situation.

LONDON, Aug. 17.—Last evening the garrison at Strasbourg made a sortie toward Hönheim, but were driven back with a heavy loss of men. They also lost three guns. A dispatch from Carlsruhe, the head-quarters of the Baden Army, dated Aug. 14, says the people and garrison of Strasbourg have labored with zeal to arm the ramparts, clear the glacis and barricade the entrances, but the besiegers have destroyed much of their work. On the 13th, three slight conflicts took place. A detachment of Baden troops set fire to a railway train while it was standing in the station, and one of their batteries approached within 300 paces of the fortress and fired on the ramparts. The Baden troops lost three killed and seventeen wounded.

PARIS.

The City Excited—Tone of the Press—Preparations for the Reception of the Wounded—Reported Arrest of Le Bœuf.

PARIS, Aug. 17.—The city is greatly agitated. All night long great crowds surrounded the Ministry of the Interior and other places where news is posted. Many rumors are circulating, but without the official advices they cannot be traced. In view of the public impatience to know the result of the late battle, the Constitutionnel this morning publishes an article saying that the brave Generals now risking their lives in the defense of their country cannot, while thus engaged, know all the results gained; besides, it were inconsiderate in view of operations so multiplied and complicated, to give partial details, which might prove to be premature. We engage that the citizens will await the result with confidence. The Government will be faithful to its promise, and will communicate immediately all that comes to it. It will be more than ever prompt on this occasion. The other Paris journals have articles similar in tone.

HOSPITAL ACCOMMODATIONS.

LONDON, Aug. 17.—The Archbishop of Paris has surrendered all the Diocesan schools and other institutions under his charge to the French authorities for hospital uses. Over 3,000 beds have already been set up in those places. The Count DE CHAMBORD, the Comtesse MONTALEMBERT, and other French legitimists, have also lent their estates to the military authorities for hospital uses.

A SENSATIONAL STORY ABOUT LEBŒUF.

Paris gossip has it that LEBŒUF'S wife is a Prussian, and that the General is confined in the prison of Vincennes.

THE PARIS JOURNALS.

The Paris journals confess their inability to explain the course of recent military events, in consequence of the confusion of dates and lack of authentic advices.

THE FRENCH NAVY.

Blockade of the German Ports—Official Proclamation of the Naval Commander—Seizure of a Prussian Schooner—The Continental Austria.

PARIS, Aug. 17.—The Journal Officiel publishes, this morning, the following notification of the blockade of the coast of the German and Prussian States:

We, the undersigned, Vice-Admiral Obenmaeron-Chief of the naval forces of the Emperor of the French in the North Sea, considering the state of war between France and Prussia, as well as the States of the North-German Confederation, in virtue of the power in us vested, declare that from and after the 15th day of August, 1870, the coasts of Prussia and the North German Confederation, extending from the Island of Rickum to the north of the Eider, with all its ports, harbors, rivers, roads &c., in a state of effective blockade by the naval forces placed in our command; and that friendly or neutral vessels shall be allowed ten days in which to finish loading and quit blockaded ports. Proceedings will be instituted against all vessels which shall try to break through said blockade, according to international laws and treaties now in force with neutral Powers.

Given on board the French Emperor's ironclad Magnanime, stationed between the English island of Heligoland and the Prussian coast, the 15th day of August, 1870. The Vice-Admiral, Commander-in-Chief, FOURICHON.

A FRENCH SEIZURE.

LONDON, Aug. 17.—The North-German schooner Fyfel (Aryon) which recently sailed from Hartlepool, has been seized by a French war steamer.

THE AUSTRIAN SHIPPING.

The blockade of the German ports having been established, Austria is permitted by the Russian Government to pass merchandise duty free through the port of Riga. The name of the consignee is required to be shown on bills of lading.

A British Steam-ship Overhauled—The French Blockading Squadron—Action of the Hamburg Authorities—Encouragement on Vessels to German Ports.

LONDON, Aug. 17.—The steamer Haswell, while on the passage from Hamburg for Sunderland, was fired into by a French iron-clad near the Elbe. She paid no attention, but kept on her course, when the Frenchman gave chase and fired a second shot, which induced her to show English colors and heave to. She was then boarded by a French officer, who, after examining her papers, suffered her to proceed. The steamer Sentinel, belonging to the Tyne Steam Shipping Company, has arrived on the Tyne with a general cargo from a German port. This is the tenth trip made by the steamers of that Company since war was declared. The Sentinel on Saturday passed the French fleet blockading the Elbe without molestation. She, however, dipped the British ensign, to which the French fleet replied by hoisting and dipping the French ensign.

THE BLOCKADING FLEET.

The French blockading squadron consists of ten large iron-clads, nine of which are anchored in a row south-west of Heligoland, and, one of them, a paddle-wheel steamer, is cruising in the roadstead. The news of their approach was taken to Hamburg on Friday afternoon by a Norwegian vessel. The Hamburg authorities at once ordered a lighter loaded with torpedoes, which had been lying in readiness, to go down the river to Cuxhaven, and await orders. They also dispatched two fast steamers, the Cuxhaven and Heligoland, to the mouth of the Elbe to reconnoitre. The Sentinel met these vessels Saturday morning south of Heligoland, steaming as fast as possible for Hamburg with the news that the French ships were close to the island, and that a real blockade was effected. As the Sentinel passed the fleet—a French cruiser was overhauling a screw collier bound inward. Great activity was apparent on the decks of the iron-cads, but it could not be discovered whether the moving figures were soldiers or sailors.

MARINE INSURANCE IN ENGLAND.

At a meeting of the Tyne Ship Insurance Societies, yesterday, a formal resolution was adopted not to insure vessels bound to ports under blockade, or the approach to which has been rendered dangerous by the removal of beacons, lights and buoys.

LONDON WAR NOTES.

Cause of the French Reverses—The Emperor Deceived—Royal Volunteers for France—The Prussian Loans.

LONDON, Aug. 17.—The Times says the Emperor now knows how greatly he has been misled as to the war establishment, and how the public money has been squandered. He can also see how he has been misguided as to the anti-Prussian feeling in Hanover, Bavaria, Saxony, &c. ....Three nephews of BERNADOTTE, King of Sweden, have joined the ranks of the French Army....The French Governments has issued a notification that all peacefully disposed natives of Germany desiring to remain in France, may do so on the condition of taking out permits of residence....A Prussian loan of 40,000,000 thalers is announced at sixty-three. The new Prussian loan is unsuccessful at Hamburg.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The Conquered French Provinces—German Governors Appointed—Still Another Secret Treaty—The Neutral Powers.

SAARBRUCK, Aug. 17, via BERLIN.—King WILLIAM has appointed Gen. BONIN Governor-General of Lorraine, and Gen. BISMARCK-BOHLEN Governor-General of Alsace.

ANOTHER SECRET TREATY.

BERLIN, Aug. 17.—Another Prussian note divulging certain secret negotiations of France, is published today. The contents are similar to those of documents already made public.

AUSTRIA.

VIENNA, Aug. 17.—The Abendpost denies the correctness of the statement made in the London Times in regard to the friendly attitude of Baron von BEUST toward French pretensions, and it positively contradicts the Times' report that the Austrian Premier had offered to form a treaty of alliance with France.

ITALY.

FLORENCE, Aug. 17.—The Italian Government has increased her army. An extraordinary loan for war purposes has been negotiated.

RUSSIA.

LONDON, Aug. 17.—The Russian Press is alarmed at the rapid conquests of the Prussians.

Gen. Sheridan—Courtesies Extended by Prussia.

FRANKFORT, Aug. 17.—Gen. SHERIDAN, with Consul-General WEBSTER, has, through the good offices of Minister BANCROFT, been cheerfully accorded permission by the military authorities to follow the campaign with the head-quarters of the King.

Washington Dispatches—The American Plan in German Waters—A Report Contradicted—The European Squadron.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 17.—The order of the Secretary of the Navy to Admiral GLISSON to send a vessel of war up the Elbe and Weser Rivers, and along the Baltic coast, was in accordance with the request of a number of American citizens sojourning in North Germany. They said that while they would thus be gratified in seeing their own flag in foreign waters, the vessel might be able to afford them shelter or protection should any be required.

FRENCH OFFICERS IN PARIS.

Official information has been received here denying that the French Government has ordered a general removal of the Prussians from Paris. It has, however, required passage 1,000 Prussians to leave that city, for the reason that they violated the privileges of domicile by unfriendly demonstrations against the French.

THE EUROPEAN FLEET.

The United States steamer Shenandoah, Commander WALLE, which was put in commission at Boston on Monday, will reinforce the fleet in European waters.

Proposed German Fair in St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 17.—The German ladies of St. Louis will shortly hold a grand fair, the proceeds to be devoted to the relief of wounded German soldiers.

The Battles in the Moselle Valley.

The most remarkable thing about the struggle now in progress in the south-west corner of the Department of Moselle is the continued lack of any reliable indication as to its nature and extent. We may conclude with tolerable certainty, that up to this point it has been, on the whole, indecisive, since, in spite of all the protestations of caution so liberally made, the moral effect of anything like a victory, would at this critical stage of the campaign, outweigh all considerations which, in regard to the general movements, might call for the strictest reticence. Our calculations as to the decisive struggle of the war would be materially assisted, did we know whether the troops who have now for three days carried on a desultory conflict amid the vineclad hills of the Valley of the Moselle have been on either side reinforced from the corps which were proceeding by the more southerly line of Nancy, Commercy and Bar-le-Duc toward the capital. We have as yet no confirmation of the statement that the Crown Prince had arrived at Bar-le-Duc, but it is clear that if he has continued his march with the same vigor which has hitherto characterized it, he can scarcely fail to be pretty near that point. His opponents, MCMAHON and FAILLY, have apparently continued steadily their retreat toward Chalons. Around this centre, as we have repeatedly stated, must be conducted the practically final movements of the campaign.

Should the statement prove correct which places the main body of the French Army at Etain, situated amid a marshy district on the more northerly of the two highways from Metz to Verdun, it seems obvious that an immediate retreat upon Chalons is meditated. The road to which we have referred leads in a south-westerly direction of forty-eight miles to the great camp on the Marne, crossing the Meuse at Verdun and the Aisne at St. Menehould; and between them crossing the wooded plateau of the Argonnes before descending into the plain watered by the Marne. The fighting to the south-west of Metz would thus be confined to the rear division of the main army, already advanced twenty miles further. We cannot, however, use too much caution in dealing with statements which may after all be mere random conjectures of movements which seem for the present to be kept studiously concealed.

German National Subscriptions.

The latest list of the acting Treasurer of the German Patriotic Aid Society, of this City, Mr. EMIL SAUER, shows that the subscriptions received by the society for the aid of the wounded German soldiers and the support of the families of fallen German soldiers during the European war, amount to $63,697 94. The following is a list of the principal subscriptions, in addition to the lists published in the Times before:

G. F. Dambmann & Co., $1,000; Flatmann & Co., $500; Forchmann & Co., $600; David Jones, $500; Sixtentic Ward, German Patriotic Aid Society, $1,000; Ehrlich Ward, German Patriotic Aid Society, $374; John Kreamer, $200; Julius Doeding, $250; Kettel, Kittelberg & Co., $250; F. & M. Schaefer, $250; F. Wigand, $250; Charles Hausell, $200; A. R. Godefroy, $200; Hagemeyer & Brunn, $200; H. Erbioli, $200; H. Sintzer, $200; Rudolph Bonn, $150; Staats Island German Patriotic Aid Society, $137 15; Otto Schlosser, $100; C. F. A. Hinrichs, $100; Julius Zeller, $100; E. Westermann & Co., $100; A. Hammacher, $100; Frans Garlichs, $100; Eggers & Heinlein, $100; Strl. Ludw. Kapff & Son, $100; Henry Clausen, $100; Heidlinger, Schmadt & Co., $100; Ed. Brunker, $100; D. Appleton & Co., $100; Weddigen, Jr., $100; Ad. Scherfel, $100; Sigismund Seeliger, $100; Friedrich Krapens, $100; Wm. Graumann, $100; G. Breck, $100; F. Wiebusch, $100; Thiele, Motz & Co., $100; Wm. Roeddo, $100; O. Zellikoffer, $100; Chas. Kuetgen, $100. Aside from the subscriptions received by the German Patriotic Aid Society, of this City, the North German Union Society, of this City, has received subscriptions to the amount of $2,065, the principal contributions having been: German Patriotic Aid Society at Hoboken, N. J., $9,700; Wm. Paulsen, $100.

The Gold Market.

The market was not very active yesterday considering the character of the news from the seat of war. The fluctuations did not exceed one per cent. all day, though the market was very much stronger than is has been, for some days. The feeling is intensely German, as the majority of the operators are of that nationality, and as long as they retain their confidence, not only in the immediate but ultimate success of the Prussian arms, a brisk movement has very little chance of prevailing, though one may be inaugurated almost any day.

Second Day of the Beaville Camp-Meeting.

The meeting which commenced Tuesday under such favorable auspices continues to increase in interest and numbers. The tents are now all erected, many of them being neat and substantial cottages, in place of the canvas and cotton under shelter of which the Methodists of the olden time were accustomed to gather to the "Feast of the Tabernacle." Morris-avenue seems to be the favorite street for the better class of cottages. The grounds last evening, as well as on Tuesday night, were brilliantly lighted by kerosene lamps suspended from trees. A large number of clergymen are now on the grounds, and religious exercises are in full blast. Among the distinguished divines present are Rev. Dr. PORTER, late of the Methodist Book Concern, Rev. M. B. ELLISON, of the Morristown District, Rev. J. L. HURLBURT, of Paterson. Among the most noted laymen are Dr. OGDEN, of Jersey City; Mr. BARTLEY, of Bergen City; Mr. CALUM TOMPKINS, of New-York, who has a very fine cottage, which is open for the accommodation of all the clergy who have no other places provided on their arrival.

The hours of public service are 10½ A. M., 3 P. M., and 7½ P. M. Two prayer-meetings are held before the morning and afternoon services. Private prayer-meetings are crowded, in whenever there is opportunity. So far sermons have been preached by Rev. Mr. COLE, of North Haverstraw; Rev. Mr. GILBERT, of Vernon, Rev. J. R. DANIELS, of Newark, and Rev. Mr. HAYNES, of Bernardsville and Rev. Mr. CLEMENTS, of Newville. Several other clergymen have also conducted preliminary services. The sermon by Rev. Mr. CLEMENTS on Sunday afternoon was very eloquent and earnest. Prof. BOWMAN, of the Methodist Dickinson College, at Carlisle, Penn., and MARY KEAN, of Orange, N. J., are among the late arrivals. The meeting is under the personal charge of Rev Dr. CRANE, of Newark. Friday is set apart as a memorial day in honor of the late Hon. GEO. T. CORS.

German-American School Association.

The General Committee of the German-American School Association held their regular monthly meeting at Liederkranz Hall, in East Fourth-street, last evening, Mr. WILLY WALLACH presiding. The Chairman reported that $766 had been collected by the Association for the benefit of the Children's Aid Society of this City, and that after the deduction of $62 52 for expenses, $723 68 had been handed over to the Committee of the Children's Aid Society. By the Special Committee for the introduction of German in the public schools, a report was made that the Board of Education had adopted a plan for introducing German as a regular branch of instruction in the lower classes of the grammar schools. It had been handed over to the Committee on the Board of Education for the publication of this plan. After the transaction of some minor business, the meeting adjourned.

GENERAL TELEGRAMS.

GENERAL EUROPEAN NEWS.

The Exhibition of 1871 Not to be Postponed—A General Monetary Unit Recommended—Accident to the Steam-ship India.

LONDON, Aug. 17.—The Exhibition of 1871, in this city, will not be postponed on account of the war.....Mr. WALLACHAN, an officer of the Bank of Stockholm, and late member of the International Commission for fixing a uniform standard of coins, weights and measures, has written a letter urging the adoption of the twenty-five-franc piece, with a fixed alloy of one-tenth as the monetary unit.....There was much disorder at a political meeting in Dublin, yesterday, but no violence was committed.....Mr. MITCHELL, formerly Attorney-General of Ireland, is dead.....The Press urge the Government to take action on the position of Liverpool for harbor defenses.....The steam-ship India, which sailed from the Clyde Aug. 4, for New-York, has put into Greenock for repairs.

Recall of the Papal Nuncio from Austria—Dutch Ambassador to London—Affairs in Spain.

VIENNA, Aug. 17.—In consequence of the abolition of the Concordat, Monseigneur FARCHELLI, the Papal Nuncio, has been recalled.

THE HAGUE, Aug. 17.—Baron GRELLE has been appointed Ambassador of Holland to the Court of St. James.

MADRID, Aug. 17.—The Spanish amnesty is absolute. All pending proceedings against political offenders are quashed. Col. HAY, Secretary of the American Legation, has gone to Washington to adjust questions arising from the Cuban situation.

SOUTH AMERICA.

Peace Between Brazil and Paraguay Formally Proclaimed—Importation of Coolies.

LONDON, Aug. 17.—The latest advices from Rio Janeiro state that peace with Paraguay has been formally proclaimed....The Brazilian Government has made extensive contracts for the importation of coolies for ten years.

MEXICO.

The Government Completely Bankrupt—Probable Resignation of Romero—Opposition to the Tehuantepec Concession.

HAVANA, Aug. 17.—Advices from Mexico to the 11th inst. have been received. The wife of JUAREZ was so seriously ill that no hopes of her recovery are entertained.....The trial of NEGRETE was slowly progressing. The excitement was allayed.....The Government is completely bankrupt; the salaries of employes remain unpaid, and Government employment is deserted.....ROMERO will probably leave the Cabinet and go as Minister to Washington. MARISCAL will succeed him in the Ministry. ROMERO'S resignation is a political necessity.....The complicity of Minister MAZIA and Gen. CARTOS in the assassination of Gen. PATONI is no longer doubted....A strong opposition to the Tehuantepec concession is forming. LERDO'S organ admits the value and necessity of the work, but says the Mexicans ought to do it. The Two Republics replies strongly in favor of the American enterprise.....The gravest sensational telegrams of the European war are manufactured by the Press at the Capital....MARIANO, brother of GARCIA CARPENA, and other revolutionists, have been captured and executed.

THE PACIFIC COAST.

The Mines of California and New-Mexico—University Appointments in San Francisco—Miscellaneous Matters.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—The treasure remittances, last week, overland to New-York, amounted to $320,000....In Arizona, SYLVESTER MOWRY is stumping the Territory against McCORMICK....The troops killed thirty-three Indians in the past three months....The mines are flourishing, the quartz-crushers fully employed, and the placers vigorously worked.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17.—The Regents of the University of California have elected HENRY DURANT, of Oakland, President, and appointed FRANK BRETT HARTE, Librarian, with the title of Professor of Literature....Late New-Mexican advices confirm the almost incredible richness of the "Burro" mines and other rich discoveries in that vicinity. Wood and water are abundant, and there are no Indians in the district.

Trouble in North Carolina—The Prisoners to Have a Fair Trial.

RALEIGH, N. C., Aug. 17.—On Saturday last Col. KIRK, leaving 100 men at Yanceyville, came to Company Shops with all the Alamance and Caswell prisoners, where he remained till Sunday night at 8 o'clock, when he again departed for Graham, three miles distant, where he now is.

Last night Hon. JOSIAH TURNER, Jr., editor of the Sentinel, Sheriff GRIFFITH, and WILEY, of Caswell, who, with others, had been kept in the Court-house at Graham since their removal there, were taken out of the Court-house by KIRK'S men and locked up in the dungeon cells of the county jail. The United States Marshal will to-morrow bring the prisoners arrested by order of Gov. HOLDEN before Judge BROOKS, at Salisbury. It is stated that Judge BROOKS intends giving the parties a fair investigation, and will not allow the presence of HOLDEN'S State troops at Salisbury to intimidate the parties or the people. The following counsel appear for the arrested parties: Ex-Gov. GRAHAM and BRAGG, Ex-Judges BATTLE and MERRYMAN. It is stated that Gov. HOLDEN is endeavoring to get Judge PEARSON to come to Raleigh and try those for whom he issued warrants. In this event he will not surrender at least half of the prisoners to BROOKS. PEARSON, however, declared his power exhausted before the petition was carried to BROOKS, and it is said BROOKS will demand all of the prisoners regardless of person.

Meeting of the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows of the State.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 17.—The meeting of the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows of the State had been largely attended. The following-named officers of the Grand Encampment were elected: Grand Patriarch, William Ragland, of Utica; Grand High Priest, Edward Whitney, of Albany; Grand Senior Warden, Thomas Pruden, of New-York City; Grand Scribe, Charles V. Clark, of New-York City; Grand Treasurer, George Smith, of New-York City; Grand Junior Warden, Jacob Levi, of Syracuse; Representative to G. L. U. S. A., John Modele, of New-York City. The afternoon a procession of the several lodges was formed, and marched through the principal streets. There were about 700 persons in the line. Three bands furnished the music. Addresses were made by WM. H. BARNES, P. G. M., of New-York City; D. P. BARNARD, P. G. M., of Brooklyn; JOHN A. KENNEDY, P. G. S., New-York City; A. P. HUTTS, P. G., of Brockport, N. Y., and by DANIEL WOOD, of Rochester, M. W. and President of the day. The demonstration was a success in every respect. Today will close the proceedings.

Desperate Encounter with Burglars at Binghamton—A Clerk Shot Dead in the Struggle.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Aug. 17.—The store of D. M. & E. G. HALSEY was entered at 3 o'clock this morning, by three burglars. The noise awoke two clerks who habitually slept in the store, and who attacked the burglars, beating one of them very severely and capturing him, while the others made their escape. But while the clerks were preparing to secure their captive his companions returned to rescue him, and shot one of the clerks through the head, killing him instantly. His name was FREDERICK A. MANNING. The clerks had a revolver, but it missed fire. The burglars fired five shots altogether, and evidently supposed they had killed both the clerks. The name of the surviving clerk is GUILBERT BURROWS. He is but slightly wounded. Rewards are offered for the capture of the murderers as follows: By the city, $4,000; by the county, $2,500; by the Mayor, HALSEY, $1,000.

WASHINGTON.

No War News—The Release of the Last Member of Congress—Aid for French Wounded—Miscellaneous.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—No war news has been received here today by either the Prussian or French Legations. The State Department is also without information from either Paris or Berlin.

THE TALK OF LAST SESSION.

The bound volumes of the Congressional Globe for the last session have just been completed. The proceedings fill seven volumes, which is two more than were ever required before. One entire volume is taken up with speeches which were never delivered, but appear in the Globe by virtue of leave to print.

FRENCH SYMPATHY.

A Committee of French citizens residing here have called a public meeting of Frenchmen and their sympathizers, to be held on Saturday evening, to open a subscription in aid of the French wounded and orphans.

NEUTRALITY.

A neutrality proclamation has been prepared and submitted to President GRANT for his consideration.

MOVEMENTS OF THE PRESIDENT.

The President is expected to leave Long Branch for Washington, to-morrow evening, arriving here on Friday morning. A Cabinet session will be held on that day.

CONSULAR FEES IN EUROPE.

The State Department today instructed the Consul General at Paris, and will also instruct other Consuls, that while the currency of European countries is depreciated by the war, Consular fees must be paid in coin.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRES.

A Railroad Oil Conflagration at Belvidere, N. Y.—Twenty Cars and Several Railroad Buildings Destroyed.

ELMIRA, N. Y., Aug. 17.—The Advertiser of today has the following: A very destructive accident occurred at Belvidere, on the Erie Railway, yesterday forenoon. A wildcat train, eastward bound, consisting of nine cars of merchandise and five of oil, broke in two a little above that station. The track there is a down grade, and the front part of the train being brought to a stop, the detached portion came in collision with it, bursting open a large tank of oil on one of the cars. Extra Freight No. 30 was standing on the adjoining track, and the fire from its engine communicated with the oil from the broken tank, and soon everything thereabouts was in flames. The destruction of property by the fire that followed was very great. Twenty cars with their contents were destroyed, together with one engine, the depot buildings and freight house, six houses, four shanties, a lumber-yard, the wood-shed, and every other building and article of a combustible character which the flames could reach. The work of the fire-fiend ceased only when there were no more buildings or property to be destroyed. Telegraphic communication was cut off for a considerable time, in consequence of the burning of the telegraph-poles, and of the office, and full particulars in regard to the destructive accident have not yet been received. In consequence of the accident and the failure to get orders by telegraph in regard to the situation of affairs, express passenger train No. 8 was detained at Hornellsville nine hours. We have no estimate as to the money value of the property destroyed, but it is one of the most serious accidents, pecuniarily speaking, which has occurred on the Erie Road for many a month. Fortunately, no persons, so far as we have learned, were injured by the accident.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Aug. 16.—WHITTAKER & Co.'s cotton factory, at Huntington, was burned this evening. Loss $40,000; insured about $22,000.

Extensive Conflagration in Fremont, Nebraska—Several Buildings Burned at Cape Elizabeth, Me.

FREMONT, Nebraska, Aug. 17.—About 3 o'clock this morning a fire caught in the stable of Mr. OTTO BAUMAN, and it, with two horses, BAUMAN'S Hotel, HERMAN'S shoe-shop, GREAVE'S dwelling, ANDERSON'S billiard hall, PASCOE'S grocery, HALL'S daguerrean gallery, KETTLE'S law office, BULLOCK'S paint-shop and MARKLEY'S shoe-shop, were totally destroyed. Loss about $20,000.

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 17.—The buildings owned by GEORGE R. DAVIS, at Knightville, Cape Elizabeth, were burned last night. The house and stable were insured for $4,000 in the Hanover office of New-York; the store and adjoining building were insured for $1,700 in the Merchants' office of Providence, JOSEPH SEAVY had an insurance of $1,500 on the stock in the store.

A Vessel Destroyed by Lightning.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Aug. 17.—The American bark Eagle, from New-York for Galveston, July 16, was struck by lightning on the 24th, at Barry's Island, Bahamas. The vessel and cargo are a total loss. The crew were saved and landed at Nassau.

Return of the Bishop of Albany from the Ecumenical Council—Reception by the People.

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 17.—Bishop CONROY, of the Diocese of Albany, arrived here this afternoon on his return from Rome. He was met at the depot by a vast concourse of citizens, and a procession was formed which escorted him to the Cathedral, where he delivered a brief address to the congregation. The bells of the Cathedral rang a joyous peal of welcome while the procession was moving and until it entered the church.

Meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science at Troy.

TROY, N. Y., Aug. 17.—The American Association for the advancement of science, met in this city today. There were about 150 members present at the opening, some of them among the most distinguished of the scientists and savans of the country. The meeting promises to be one of great interest. Already a large number of papers have been announced, and will be read during the session.

A Burglar Shot—Fire-Damp Explosion at Shenandoah.

SCRANTON, Penn., Aug. 17.—A burglar was fatally shot by the Police, about 2 o'clock this morning, while attempting to gain an entrance to the First National Bank building at Carbondale....An explosion of fire-damp occurred this morning in the new shaft of the Reading Brook Coal Company, at Dunmore. Eight men were seriously burned.

Yachting—The Fleet at Newport.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Aug. 17.—The yacht Palmer beat the Gamblers seven minutes over allowed time in the race off Newport today.

Judgment Recovered in a Suit for Taxes Paid Under Protest.

BOSTON, Aug. 17.—In the case of the Merchants' Insurance Company of Boston against Ex-Collector W. H. MCCARTNEY, being a suit to recover taxes paid by the Company under protest to defendant while Collector of the Third District, judgment has been given for the Company, in the sum of $5,200, with interest and costs.

THE INDIANS.

Traces of Civilization—Effects of Disease on Bands of Kickapoos—Civil Agents.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—The Agent for the Pueblo Indians in New-Mexico, writes to the Indian Bureau that they are quiet, and generally engaged in cultivating their lands. The Agent at Fort Cobb, New-Mexico, under date of July 21, says he has not heard of any depredations during that month by the Indians, who are out on the war-path. The Agent at the Kansas Agency says during the entire winter the Indians have been quite destitute of provisions of all kinds, in consequence of which they have become very restless, and therefore it was impracticable to keep them on the reservation. Two companies of them paid visits to the Osages to trade for ponies, but they had very poor success, as the Osages were not at home. Another company went on a visit to the Iowa Indians, and returned with twenty-three ponies and colts. These, and some of their former stock, they have traded for provisions. The wagons purchased have been a help to them in procuring subsistence by cutting and hauling wood to town, and on the line of the railroad.... The Army bill having abolished the military Indian Agents, the Secretary of the Interior has made arrangements with the Indian Bureau for restoring the agencies to civil control. More attention than heretofore is to be paid to moral qualifications and capacity, and wherever practicable, such agents, before appointment, are required to have the indorsement of the religious bodies to which they may respectively belong, as in the case of the Friends a year ago, under the Indian peace policy of President GRANT.

Miscellaneous Telegrams.

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 17.—Sergt. MCMANN, of Company E, committed suicide today by blowing his brains out, because he was under arrest for keeping late hours.

NORFOLK, Va., Aug. 17.—The Board of Health have rescinded the order requiring vessels arriving from Philadelphia to be quarantined.

A Sham Duel in Virginia.

The Richmond Enquirer of a recent date says: "A sham duel came off, yesterday afternoon, about 5 o'clock, on the bloody ground near the Poor-house, one of the principals of which was in dead earnest. It seems that young Mr. M. felt aggrieved at the conduct of Mr. C., several years his senior, and this unpleasantness, through the intervention of friends, culminated in a challenge to mortal combat. Our FRITZ was not more in earnest or in hotter blood at Hagueneau than young M., and the bullet he gave his second to use, in loading his pistol, was as deadly looking a missile as the Prussians or French will use during the war. Mr. C., as were both the seconds, Messrs. S. and J., was in a joke, and feigned an awful calmness, looking for all the world as if he had made his will and was bent on blood. The ground reached and the distance measured, the belligerents were placed in position with all the formalities known to the code. The pistols were loaded as if with bullets, and the word given. C. fired in the air quickly, but M., with more deliberation, fired straight at his antagonist, who, at the crack of his antagonist's pistol, leaped into the air and tragically yelled, 'I am shot!' The seconds rushed to him, while M. hastily retreated from the supposed field of blood. The outside friends, who were not in the joke, were paralyze-stricken—one hastily filling his brandywine chagrose with water from the nearest branch for the dying man. Hanover market carmen, who formed the field from the road, were seized with the like consternation when they beheld the seconds lift C. from the ground, place him in a wagon as if mortally hurt, and drive with all haste to the city. The news of the sham duel spread rapidly, and by night was laughed over by everybody, we presume, except the young gentleman who was the victim of a mischievous conspiracy."

The Jeff. Davis Mansion—A Final Adjustment.

The State Journal, Richmond, Va., of the 16th inst., says: "The Council, last evening, agreed to adjust the difficulty between some of our former Councilmen and the War Department in regard to the Jeff. Davis mansion. A letter from the Secretary of War of the United States was laid before the Council by Mr. ENGLISH. This communication conveyed the intelligence that it would be necessary, before the Jeff. Davis house could be turned over to the Council, that they should, by a formal resolution, release the United States Government from all claims or liabilities for rent, use or damages. On motion of Mr. WYNNE, the resolution was adopted, and 'Mayor' KELLEY was authorized to receive the property and execute a deed of release, such as is demanded by the authorities at Washington."

Presbyterian Reunion Meeting at Southold, Long Island.

The Presbytery of Long Island met at Southold, according to order of the Synod, on Tuesday evening at 7½ o'clock, with a full congregation of the citizens. A full representation was present from the various churches of the Presbytery. The church organization, in whose house the meeting was held, is 200 years old. The present edifice was built at the beginning of the present century. It is a substantial building, but needs enlarging to accommodate the number who worship there. The Presbytery was opened with an able and appropriate discourse by Rev. WM. H. REMYN, of Quogue. Among the prominent ministers present and enrolled were Revs. Phineas Robinson, Dr. Sturges, E. Whittaker, W. H. Cooper, Thos. Harries, Edward Stratton, Wm. Guthrie Barnes and Jas. T. Hamlin.

Among the corresponding members were Revs. Dr. WEWELL, of Philadelphia; T. H. HOLLOWAY, of Paterson, N. J.; JAMES M. HOPKINS, of Jamaica; JOHN BEBB, of England; and E. H. SAYRE, of India. Rev. W. B. REMYN was unanimously elected Moderator, and Rev. EPHS WHITTAKER Stated Clerk.

Rev. EDWARD STRATTON was chosen temporary Clerk. The music was under the direction of Prof. D. P. HORTON, of Brooklyn, with a well-trained and efficient choir. The session of Wednesday morning was opened with devotional service, in which the Moderator, Rev. E. HALE, Rev. J. M. HUNTTING, and Elders FOSTER and SERLEY took part. Most of the session was devoted to the consideration of the $100,000 Memorial Fund to mark the great event of reunion. Eloquent addresses on this subject were made by Rev. Messrs. BARNES, HARRIS, WHITTAKER, Dr. WEWELL and others. The session will probably close with a missionary meeting, in which Rev. Mr. SAYRE, of India, will speak.

The Lambert Bond Case—The Accused Discharged and Recaptured.

An examination was held yesterday by Justice SHANDLEY at the Tombs in the case of WM. G. LAMBERT, who is accused of having defrauded Messrs. CORBIN & CO. of the sum of $19,000, by giving them a stolen United States bond for that amount, as security for a temporary loan. The evidence adduced on cross-examination of Mr. ISAAC D. REED, the cashier, and complainant in the case, afforded no new facts, so the Magistrate decided to dismiss the complaint against Mr. LAMBERT on the ground that there was not sufficient evidence to show that he knew the bond was a stolen one.

As Mr. LAMBERT left the Court-room in company with his counsel, he was arrested by two United States Deputy Marshals, and will be arraigned in due time before a United States Commissioner on the complaint of the Treasury Department.

Personal.

Chief-Justice Chase and daughter, Senator Sprague of Rhode Island, and Gen. Parker, Commissioner of Indian Affairs, are at the Hoffman House. Senator Stockton, of New-Jersey, is at the St. James Hotel. Rev. T. P. Revel, of Italy, is at the Coleman House. Mr. Pasco, of the British Legation, is WAR CORRESPONDENCE.

Details of Operations at the Scene of Conflict.

Belgium and Its Relations to the Belligerents—"On to Paris, On to Berlin"—The Border Country on Both Sides the Rhine.

SAARBRUCK.

Exaggerated Reports at Metz—The Situation of the Town of Saarbruck—Distribution of the French Troops—Subsequent Movements.

From Our Special Correspondent.

METZ, Thursday, Aug. 4, 1870—Morning.

People unused to the exaggerated manner in which Frenchmen in general, and French journalists in particular, are in the habit of talking, would think, on hearing the reports which are abroad respecting the advance of the French troops, the day before yesterday, that the whole of the Prussian Army had been annihilated. Every one in Metz knows, or rather pretends to know, every detail of the skirmish. If you happen to get into conversation with a person who, at first sight, appears to know something about the matter, he will lead you to infer that he was present at the engagement, but if asked positively whether he was there or not, he will admit that he was not, but will at once guarantee his information as exact. The sort of information which is to be gathered from gentlemen of this description, and, in fact, from the inhabitants of Metz generally, is to the effect that the Prussians fled before the mitrailleuses like chaff before the wind, that about five hundred prisoners, and any amount of horses, were captured, and that the dead and wounded, on the Prussian side, are estimated at between eight hundred and one thousand. To have heard people talk, yesterday, about "the battle," one one would have thought that a great victory had been gained, and I believe that it required but little more for the town to be illuminated on the strength of it.

THE FACTS.

Up to the present, however, we have only seen fourteen Prussian prisoners, and about forty or fifty wounded, among whom there are hardly any Prussians, have been brought here by rail. The prisoners belong almost exclusively to the artillery and the line. If Frenchmen are endowed with a greater amount of valor than the rest of mankind, their feeling of generosity to a fallen enemy is certainly not up to the average. As an illustration of this I will mention that when the Prussian prisoners and the few wounded, who had been picked up by the French Army, arrived at the railway station, the howling and shouting were tremendous. The prisoners were insulted in the grossest manner, and one individual, a burly drover, standing about six feet high, deliberately struck one of them with his fist. It is needless to add that the culprit was taken before the Provost Marshal, who immediately sent him to prison, where, it is to be hoped that he will be kept until he gets into a more humane state of feeling. While posting my last letter at the railway station, I came across a large number of sick soldiers who were to be conveyed that night to Paris, and I have since learned that all the sick who could endure the journey have been removed from the military hospital to make room for the wounded who may be sent here, which evidently means that the French Armies intend advancing. The military hospital is a fine building, situated inside Fort Double Couronne. It contains ten large airy rooms, with accommodation for as many as 1,600 patients. Besides this a large temporary hospital, constructed of wood, is being built in the centre of the Polygon Camp. The obstacles which are still thrown in the way of newspaper correspondents have, up to the present, prevented me from moving toward Saarbrück, but since sending to you last I have seen an officer attached to the First Major of the French Army, who was present at the engagement—if such it can be called—of the 2d inst.

THE SITUATION OF SAARBRUCK.

The French, composed of the Second Corps d'Armée, numbering something like thirty or forty thousand, were quartered at Forbach under the command of Gen. FRIDERIC. Forbach, which is the last French town on the road from Metz to Saarbrück, is situated at a distance of forty-four miles from the former, and six miles from the latter town. On the right of the road from Forbach to Saarbrück, and about halfway between the two towns, is the village of Spikeren, situated on a hill, and it was here that the second division of the army took up its position, early on the morning of the 2d inst. To the north-east of Spikeren, built almost on the bank of the River Saar, and at a distance of only one mile from Saarbrück, is the village of Arnéval, or Arnual, behind which on a hill the Prussians had established a battery. Saarbrück is situated to the north-west of Arnual, and is hidden from the two villages by a hill covered with trees, which was also occupied by the Prussians; the railroad passes round the left side of the hill, and the road from Forbach round the right side, the town of Saarbrück lying in a valley behind. We therefore have three hills forming an acute triangle, inclosing a valley across the centre of which runs the high road. The hill to the north was occupied by the Prussians, and masked the town; the hill to the right behind Arnual was also occupied by the Prussians, and the hill to the left (Spikeren) was occupied by the French. The plan of the French Army was to take possession of the hill to the north-east of Spikeren, which masked the town of Saarbrück, but in order to achieve this it was necessary to cross the valley. While performing this march the Sixty-seventh Regiment of the line suffered considerably from the Prussian battery stationed on the hill of Arnual. As the French troops and artillery advanced the Prussians abandoned their position, and gaining Saarbrück established themselves in the railway station—which is to the east of the town—to cover their retreat.

Every one knows, except the French provincial, who is the most idiotic, thick-headed, presumptuous donkey I ever met, that the Prussians never intended making any kind of stand or defence at Saarbrück, and from what I hear from a reliable quarter, it would appear that no guns were captured, and that the Prussians carried away their dead and wounded, so that they may be said to have retired in excellent order before a superior force, merely covering their retreat by the artillery. When the French had gained the abandoned positions of the Prussian troops they commenced firing at the railway bridge which crosses the river Saar to the left, and at the railway station, both of which were fortified and occupied by the Prussians. Whether the Prussians still occupy these positions I am unable to ascertain, but as no fresh attack has been made I presume that they do not and that they were simply occupied with a view of covering their retreat. The officer to whom I owe the foregoing information, tells me that the Prussians have retired in the direction of Saint Wendel, which is on the road to Mayence. A most absurd report has been current in the town for the last few days, to the effect that the French had not occupied the town of Saarbrück, because they feared that it had been undermined. I am told that the advanced guard of the French Army are either in the town or encamped within a few yards of it, and that Saarbrück itself has not been occupied, because it is feared that the troops would be pillaging and annoying the inhabitants. I omitted to mention that Saarbrück is protected on the north by a range of hills covered with woods, which, of course, facilitated the retreat of the Prussian troops.

It appears that the mitrailleuses were really very successful. There were six batteries of them in the field—that is to say, thirty-six guns. The first shot which was fired from them was of course pointed by the Emperor, who, with the Prince Imperial, arrived on the field at 11 o'clock, and remained about an hour. I am told that several houses were burned in Saarbrück, fire having been seen in five or six different places. Sarrebrück, or Saarbrück in German, is an unfortified manufacturing and commercial town of from twelve to fifteen thousand inhabitants.

4TH AUGUST—Afternoon.

I interrupted my letter this morning to go to see the Imperial Guard leave. It is said that they are going to Boulay, and that Marshal BAZAINE is marching upon Saar-louis, which is a fortified town of 6,000 inhabitants on the River Saar, between Saarbrück and the Luxembourg frontier, at a distance of about twelve miles from Saarbrück. The Emperor left for Boulay this morning, and has not yet returned. It seems to me that the plan which has been adopted by the French is now beyond doubt. Marshal BAZAINE marches upon Saar-louis today, and when Saar-louis is taken it is evident that L'AMIRAULT, who is at Sierck, a small town not far from Thionville, will march upon Treves, which he will either take or leave a certain number of men to watch.

Marshal MCMAHON, who was at Strasbourg, is said to be moving in the direction of Mannheim and Mayence. In that case, it seems to me that the First Corps, commanded by Marshal MCMAHON; the Second Corps, commanded by Gen. FRIDERIC, who has just taken Saarbrück; the Third Corps, commanded by Marshal BAZAINE, who is attacking Saar-Louis today; the Fourth Corps, commanded by Gen. L'AMIRAULT, who will, I think, march upon Treves; and the Eighth Corps, (the Imperial Guard,) commanded by Gen. BOURBAKI, who is with the Emperor, are intended to meet somewhere near Mayence, or Coblentz, as I said in a previous letter.

I hear from a reliable quarter that the Prussian troops are in force at a village called Wendel, thirty or forty miles to the north-east of Saarbrück. If this be true, it is very likely that the Prussians may intend fighting a battle before the French troops reach the Rhine.

VIZ.

VIEWS FROM BELGIUM.

Spa in War Time—Liege—Two Millions of Guns Sent to France—Bismarck's Policy—Exaggerated War News—Grim Humor—Army Supplies—Royal Family Ties—Motive of the War.

From Our Own Correspondent.

SPA, Belgium, Thursday, Aug. 4, 1870.

Spa was once the most celebrated watering-place in the world, and it is still one of the most beautiful. For three hundred years it has been the resort of the royalty and aristocracy of Europe. It gave its name to all other Spas. One of its noble avenues of trees, La Promenade de Sept-heures—7 o'clock walk—was planted in 1750 by an Archbishop. You drink the waters, the finest and most agreeable I have ever tasted, in a building erected to commemorate the visit of PETER the Great, of Russia. The edifice erected for the baths is magnificent. There is a pretty theatre, and the music of the bands is delightful. The great gambling-house, where play goes on every day from noon to midnight, is so splendid in all its arrangements that you feel under the necessity of losing a few Napoleons to do your share toward paying for so much magnificence. You can play as low as two francs and as high as 4,000 at a single venture. I watched the play an hour or so last night after an open-air concert. It is rapid, but monotonous. The Stock Exchange and Gold Room beat it hollow. Homburg and Baden are deserted, being within the seat of war, but Spa is a few miles west of the German frontier, on the route from Liege to Luxembourg, and as safe as a little valley amongst wooded hills in neutral territory ought to be. Still there was a panic when the war broke out; the Germans and French went home to attend to their fighting, and the English went to the only country where they think war is impossible; because the English, as I was told by an American in the Promenade de Sept-heures, yesterday, are not like the Americans; they start to go to one place, and if they cannot go or stay there, they go home again, but Americans go anywhere. They do so. There are some dozens here, for example—and American ladies who are known over Europe for their beauty, and, I fear I must say, for their extravagance—some are very conspicuous and all are very charming.

COST OF LIVING.

Would you like to know what it costs to live at this delightful place? At the station I got into one of the six or eight hotel omnibuses, and have a pleasant, well-furnished room, with a delightful prospect, for three francs a day. Board and lodging are five francs a day. But Belgium must be, I think, the cheapest country in Europe. At Liege I stopped at the largest of three or four hotels, near the station, and my lodging, breakfast, and some other items, came to the enormous sum of half a dollar.

LIEGE.

The great plain of Belgium breaks up into wooded hills just as you come to Liege, one of its great industrial cities, and also one of the prettiest of towns, with a beautiful river, and delightful promenades and gardens. Liege has nearly a hundred coal mines in full activity and no smoke. These employ eighteen thousand men and women, for there are more than two thousand women and girls at work on the coal, but only some eight hundred under ground. There are also furnaces for making coke and smelting iron and zinc; of the latter, one company, which has its centre here, makes seventy-five millions pounds a year, and sends it all over the world. The iron and steel works are very extensive, and Liege makes cannon and rifles for Belgium and exports great quantities. They have sent two millions of various kinds of guns to France alone in a single year. Hardware, glass, linen, spirits, cigars—nothing comes amiss to the industry of Liege; in this respect, one of the most interesting towns in Europe. It is no wonder if France would like to annex a dozen cities like Liege; and the interest of the war seems now to centre on Belgium.

THE WAR SENTIMENT.

My American—the first I stumbled on in Spain—has lived some time in Germany, and just come from there. He is, like every American I have met here, full of German sympathy. There never was such a people so patriotic, so united. The whole country, north and south—even Hanover and Frankfort—go into the war with the same enthusiasm. The only exceptions are a few crotchetty individuals attached to the old dynasties. But the great body of the people are determined to go with the war and have it over. Well, it is just so in France. They have been expecting it for four years. France, they think, has been deceived and insulted by Prussia, and now they mean to make her respected. My friends, I fear, do not trouble themselves to defend the politics of M. BISMARCK. M. BENEDETTI was duped, he was tempted, and so far yielded to the temptation as to write down the terms of that treaty project, which BISMARCK then put in his pocket. But if BENEDETTI was Eve, the serpent was BISMARCK. The French sneer at the candid innocence of their diplomatist, but they do not love any the more the wily Prussian. If they cannot negotiate they can fight.

ENGLAND'S NEUTRALITY.

And England, you see, is going to do something, vote two millions—the Abyssinian business cost ten millions—and add twenty thousand men to their army, if they can get them; as many as the French or Germans may lose in a single action. And Lord RUSSELL wants to call out the militia. It is magnificent, but it is not war. There was even an absurd report that the English were about to occupy Antwerp, or, as they insist on calling it here, Anvers. And they persist in the neutrality of selling coal and horses and cartridges to both belligerents. Of course the French get them all, and the Germans none, but that is not England's fault. They have no partiality for French gold.

ADVANTAGES OF FRANCE.

Otherwise the French have some advantages. The Bank of France is full of bullion. There has been a great accumulation of money. The army, within a few years, has been entirely reorganized, and is now as perfect as an army can well be. Its arms are the best in Europe, and the Chassepot, there seems no doubt, is quite superior to the German needle-gun. Landwehr and Landsturm are noble things. It is beautiful to see a whole people leaving their fields and shops to defend their country, but I cannot see that such a levée en masse is an army. Of course I may be wrong before you read this the Germans may be marching victoriously on Paris and the French routed and demoralized; but all seems sands, and looking at the whole matter as one looks at machinery, I do not expect it. I believe the French army cannot be beaten on any thing like equal terms, by any army in Europe. I do not know that they were ever beaten without some terrible odds against them—a Russian Winter, an overwhelming disparity of numbers, as at Leipsic, or fresh troops arriving at a critical moment, as at Waterloo. They may, of course, be beaten in strategy; that depends upon individual genius; but in fighting a fair field, I think not. The Germans are an excellent people; I do not wonder at the sympathy that is felt for them in England and America; I think the war will make a united Germany—but beating the French Army and marching on Paris, is another affair altogether.

FIRST NEWS FROM SAARBRUCK.

Yesterday your pleasure-loving world was startled with the news of the first important battle. Thirty or forty thousand French troops invaded the German territory, and I was assured that the Prussians were driven from their position with a loss of sixteen thousand killed, the French losing six thousand only! My Belgian informants did not suppress their exultation; they respect their King and royal family, they like their national independence, but they are thoroughly French, and those who are not French are not Germans. Here on the frontier they are more French than at Brussels. At the news of this action, whatever it was, reached you as soon as it did me, and as you well know the subsequent events before this can reach you—as, in short, writing about it is like telling a story you have heard some time ago and partly forgotten—I will see if I can give you some items of interest which may not have reached you, and which bear upon the opening campaign.

INCIDENTS.

A few days ago Marshal MCMAHON showed the army at Strasbourg what could be done with the mitrailleuse, and the soldiers, it is said, were "stupefied and enchanted." At the taking of the heights of Saarbrück they produced "an effect unheard of." The heights were quickly taken and the Prussians soon driven out of the town. These heights are important as commanding the railway to Treves. And here, says the official dispatch, the Prince Imperial received his "baptism of fire." This boy of thirteen, by the side of his father, on the field of battle, and his mother praying by the hour at Notre Dame des Victoires, at Paris!

RUMORS OF THE WAR.

"Let us show to the astonished Prussians," says the Figaro, "that France has but one thought: to vanquish them; one desire: to vanquish them! one ambition: to vanquish them! one duty: to vanquish them! Let us show Europe that we do not do things by halves. The only business of France is victory." And all the Paris papers I see are full of this sort of eloquent enthusiasm on two pages, and as full of sharp jokes and criticisms on the others. The German papers are more roundly abusive. The Cologne Gazette offers a reward of fifty thalers to the first German who will take prisoner a Turco, to be exhibited in the Cologne Zoological Gardens, and ten thalers extra if the said Turco is taken with the inevitable cat. The French comment on this is, "Bon appétit, Messieurs!" At Berlin the Italian minstrels are filling their hats with coppers, singing:

"Viva la Prussia,
Viva l'Italia,
Morte alla Francia,
Viva la Libertà!"

In Paris they get sons, also, by singing the same tunes, only the words are changed a little. There it is "Viva la Francia!" and "Mort alla Prussia!"

THE 15TH OF AUGUST.

There is a strong feeling against having the usual celebration of the 15th of August at Paris. If there are great victories Paris will, of course, burst into a blaze of illumination; but it would be a pity to waste money and powder. Figaro appeals to the Empress—"It is for you, Madame, it is to your heart that the public appeals. All opinions are merged in patriotism, all prayers follow the flag whose folds cover your husband and your son. Many mothers are watching, hoping and praying like you. It would be wrong to sing festive songs before those troubled faces, those heavy hearts, those hands joined in supplication! Let us receive our rejoicings for our victories!" Such an appeal, one would think, could scarcely be resisted; but if it can be managed the 15th of August will have its battle, perhaps its victory. The first important action of the war was on the anniversary of the departure of NAPOLEON I. for St. Helena.

PRUSSIAN AND FRENCH OFFICERS.

My American friend here considers the war in Germany a people's war, not a war of the aristocracy; yet I see by the official paper of Berlin that out of 220 appointments of officers in the army, 190—all but thirty—belong to the nobility. This is far more aristocratic than in England; and in France, as every one knows, officers of all grades, even to the Marshals, rise from the ranks. "Every soldier carries in his knapsack the baton of a Marshal." I find that more democratic, and the French find it more effective. None but French officers, however, are allowed to serve in the French Army. The Emperor has had offers on every side, especially from America, but they have all been declined with thanks.

ARMY SUPPLIES.

The French military stores all ready for the outbreak of war at any time—and not necessary to collect in a hurry and buy at a disadvantage—were something stupendous: 3,000,000 yards of cloth for uniforms; 2,400,000 pairs of shoes, and of the best quality, as bad shoes will beat a good army; 1,800,000 knapsacks; 800,000 dozen of shirts; and so on of all the other necessaries. The whole army is amply provided with tents. As soon, however, as the preparations for war began, the work of replenishing the magazines commenced, so as to keep up the supply.

CARE OF THE WOUNDED.

The surgical staff is very large, the provision of ambulances, &c., has been well provided for, and the armies of France, for two hundred years, have been attended by the Sisters of Charity, those heroic women whose white bonnets have been seen on every battle-field, hovering over the wounded and dying. But now many other ladies are offering their services to the French Society for the succor of the wounded, and these improvised sisters of Charity have adopted as a uniform a woolen robe, black or dark green, and a small white bonnet and white apron. An American lady who has joined the army as a volunteer nurse, with a horse for herself and another for her medicines, lint, and bandages, is said to have adopted a more romantic costume—a hat and feather; a short robe with a leather belt, knickerbockers and Hessian boots. A Paris paper remarks that this would be very neat for the opera comique.

DENMARK.

We await with some anxiety the news from Denmark. The Prince of WALES is, or has been, at Copenhagen, where he met King CHARLES of Sweden—both strong friends of Denmark. A Danish newspaper publishes portraits of the Emperor, Empress, and Prince Imperial, and gives the Marseillaise in French with a Danish translation. But the King of Denmark has two married daughters. One will be Queen of England, the other Empress of Russia. He must consult his relations on both sides, and the Russians are nearest and most interested. England refused to join with France for his protection. Now a French fleet is in his waters, but he can hardly move without the consent of Russia.

THE BELLIGERENTS' OPINIONS OF EACH.

The German papers have plenty of letters from Paris, written by German residents. One of them writes: "The appearance of Paris could not be more melancholy, if the Prussians were within four leagues of the city." Another says Frenchmen are making friends with him, so as to have his protection when Paris is taken! These are German jokes, no doubt, but the French do not understand them. On the other side, French correspondents write that a frightful misery prevails in Germany, that the peasants are dis-ordered, the money exhausted, and that the levies march unwillingly toward the frontier. I read in the Moniteur:

"The regiments of the regular army of Prussia, it must be said, have solid and decided antipathies. They are crack drilled, manœuvre with a beautiful precision, fire like clockwork, and have the military spirit in them to move with the martial fire. For the first method they are indebted to the military system established gradually from their business, they support with virility the hardships of a campaign. They never come as foot are worn out with fatigue and disabled with swollen feet, so that often they fall in the road. They make them snuff some vinegar and compel them to resume their march. I have seen with my own eyes officers beat with the flat of their swords some of their unhappy and panting exhausted with fatigue."

But on the whole, both nations seem to be quite sufficiently pacific and warlike, and in neither has there been any serious effort in any quarter in favor of peace.

MOTIVE OF THE WAR.

Have you got at the real motive of the war? We no longer hear a word of that Prince of Hohenzollern-Sigmaringen. We have read M. BISMARCK's long explications on French and German diplomacy without any marked increase in our respect for either. Whatever the Emperor may wish for, the establishment of French ESTRACK is not the pretense of action. Here is what a Frenchman, JULES RICHARD—writer of the reasons which impel France to this tremendous contest. I shall lose some of the force by translation, but there much be a few Americans who would not smile the original:

"It is then, the last war, France, armed with electric wires, furrowed by railway with steam engines, with manufactories illuminated by a daily increasing spread of intelligence, can no longer endure. The indescribable enthusiasm which animates France from one end to the other, the inexplicable harmony which unites a nation divided in four years, is a sufficient indication. Yes, it must be finished, absolutely, irrevocably. Commercial and industrial necessities may require a rapid solution, but a slower one may be more likely to suit Prussia. A victory over Prussia is but one page added to the volumes of our glory, but the ruin of Prussia will be peace, a durable peace, a productive peace, a peace in which great armies will be no longer needed."

And the Germans on their side rise as one man, and rush to the front, this thing long and terrible suspense of nations may be finished, that France may no longer disturb Europe and hinder the unity of Germany, and that there may be a durable peace.

On to Paris!
On to Berlin!

In the meantime I think I will go on to Luxembourg.

MONADNOCK.

THE BORDER COUNTRY.

Nature of the Territory Along the Rhine—Military Movements—Feeling of Security at Frankfort—Hamburg Deserted—Rivers of the War in the German Towns.

From Our Special Correspondent.

FRANKFURT-ON-THE-MAIN, Wednesday, July 27, 1870.

For the last two days communication has been very difficult. With Berlin I have been able to exchange some telegrams, but have had to resort to a variety of expedients to get letters through and to make my own movements. Yet, in every instance, so far, I have been treated with politeness and consideration. The great demand upon all the railway lines in this vicinity has made them for the moment military roads, and even those branches not in the line of military transportation have been obliged to discontinue their trains, in order to lend their rolling stock to the great routes. The results of my excursion west of the Rhine, yesterday, are not satisfactory, for I am obliged to refrain from saying anything in this letter of the condition of things there; at least, I am under obligation not to write at this moment what I saw there of the situation of the Prussian forces. It is most likely my next letter will be from that Saar district, and under circumstances to admit of unrestricted reports.

For the sake of convenience I shall speak of the section of Prussian territory between the Rhine and the frontier of France, and the Moselle and Rhenish Bavaria, as a quadrilateral. The angles being respectively at Coblentz, Mayence, Luxembourg (the Duchy) and the western extremity of Bavaria at Saarbrück and Saarguemund. This, the western side of this quadrilateral, lies along the entire length of the line which separates France from Prussia proper, a distance of less than fifty miles. The theory that the French would confine their advance to this narrow front has been greatly weakened lately by the active adherence of Bavaria, Baden and Wurtemburg to the Prussian cause. There is no longer any hope of winning sympathy in these provinces by respecting their territory. But the scene of operations on which the campaign will open, will be, nevertheless, in and around the section I have marked out.

THE RHINE BORDER.

No other part of the world is so thoroughly known by military men as the borders of the Rhine. Here have been illustrated all the most famous systems of strategy. The experiences of the greatest Generals of past times have shown all the advantages and difficulties arising from the nature of the country. However, we can judge little of what will be done now by studying CESAR's campaigns, or the battles of CLOVIS or FREDERICK BARBAROSSA. The great TURENNE moved his forces without the aid of railroads; so, too, did KLEBER and DESAIX. The country throughout the parallelogram I have named, is very irregular and picturesque. A series of ridges riding one behind the other, called in German hundertücken, abrupt metaphyr cliffs, rugged hills, here termed mountains, and crooked valleys form the surface of this interesting district. The railway, which is just now the most important line in Prussia, leaving the Rhine road at Bingenbrück, follows the Nahe, and forms an arc upon the southern side of our quadrilateral, which it cuts at the point where it is joined by the line from Mannheim. There are dozens of tunnels and scores of bridges, and the course is very crooked. If the Prussians should have to retreat they will destroy this line, and it could be done so as to impose on the French the work of repairing it. The great coal mines, yielding annually 2,000,000 tons, are near the junction I have mentioned. They belong to the Government. A few miles west the Brennende Berg is still smoking. This is a coal-bed which ignited spontaneously 175 years ago. Saarbrück is just beyond. This is the corner of my "quadrilateral," and here the two lines are cut which cross the Saar and pass on into France. The road continues northward along the Saar, which is generally navigable from this point, but at the present season too low to be much used as far as Treves, where it crosses the Moselle and leads to Luxembourg. This railroad and river are five or ten miles back from the frontier, and the fortress of Saar-louis occupies the centre of this line. I am not looking for an advance of the French in the sul de sac north of the Moselle, between Belgium and the strongest and most difficult part of the Rhine district. A report that they were marching into Luxembourg, which arrived last night, would, if true, change my opinion, but I do not believe it so far. The borders of the Rhine change their character entirely at Bingen, and above that point the broad and fertile plains offer many more advantages to an invading army than do the steep and secluded clefts between Bingen and Bonn, with Coblentz and Ehrenbreitstein in the centre. Further north the country is level again; but while they were marching either it seems to me the Prussians would be in position to attack the column both front and rear, i. e., from Cologne and from our quadrilateral. Therefore, unless a battle is fought on the Saar or thereabouts, I shall prepare for an advance of the French further up the river. Above Mayence, which is the military position par excellence in this part of the Rhine, are posts of importance and several fortresses—notably, Germersheim, Rastadt, and Landau. The latter is not on the river, but in the plain between the Rhine and the Vosges district.

THE SCENE OF THE FIGHTING.

It is on the railway running north from Strasbourg to Mannheim. Mannheim has been in former wars a favorite crossing-place with the French. But I shall go up the river if operations take a turn in that direction, and then will describe those localities. MARSHAL MCMAHON cannot repeat the John movement of his ancestor, for the railway system would enable the Prussians to meet him. Neither can he leave behind him Rheinbreitstein and Mayence without endangering his means of subsistence. Possibly they may make such an advance with the intention of subsisting on the country. As a change for the horses it would be very, but for the men it would be difficult, as they would have marching to do instead of harvesting and reaping. These are some of my reasons for believing a battle imminent on the lines I have described by a quadrilateral. The supposition which prevailed everywhere that the French would make the attack becomes more and more uncertain. Disappointment is to taken for granted in Paris, but here they expect to hear, quite possibly, at least, that the Prussian Army has gone into France, and view they look with confidence for victory. Here in Frankfort business has changed materially since last week. Bankers and others with whom I have talked say that the French have lost their opportunity.

THE FEELING OF SECURITY IN FRANKFORT.

Frankfort-on-the-Main would be the prize second only to Berlin in the estimation of the French Army, and it is but fair to speak of it in France as their future head-quarters. However, the feeling of security is now very strong here. American banks have fallen with some values. Money still has the ascendancy of the time. It is great demand. The Bank of France has lent the Bank of Frankfort [illegible] on United States bonds to satisfy the requirements of soldiers. It is an exceptional concession on the part of that institution. The beautiful city is quiet and peaceful. But for the railroads there would be nothing to indicate to the eye the terrible presence of war. As I write I am looking down from my window, and a train is passing over the line coming from the north and going toward Mannheim. There are three locomotives and fifty-two cars, of which all but ten are filled with soldiers. The ten platform cars have on them eight batteries, guns and caissons. There is a similar train almost every hour. The Hanoverians are now south, and the troops of Baden, Bavaria and Wurtemberg north. In both cases they will be sandwiched with Prussian regiments. This is a wise precaution against possible disaffection among the men of either of these dependencies.

The London Telegraph, of Monday, states that King WILLIAM's head-quarters are at Frankfort, that the hotels have been taken for hospitals, visitors all ordered away from the watering places of the Rhein Gau, and that everything goes to show that the Prussian commanders expect the great battle to be fought in a triangle bounded, by the Rhine, the Main and the Bere Stream. None of these statements are in accordance with facts, and the only one likely to be true hereafter is that relating to hospitals. The King is expected at Bingen. He is expected also at the Hotel du Nord, Cologne. If you hear he is at Coblentz, you may believe it. The Journal I have referred to must be but badly informed if it believes the first great battle is to be on this side of the Rhine. It may come to that, but it is not the intention.

I am informed here that this city sent to our Sanitary Commission, during the late war for the Union, fifty tons at one time of stores for our sick and wounded soldiers, and that the American Consul having advertised that he would receive books for the German readers in our army, the quantity brought to him was much greater than he could send.

AT HOMBURG.

Although the crowds have gone from Homburg, departing in a terrible scramble at the first news of the declaration of war, yet there are still a great many people there enjoying themselves immensely. An American related to me how he encouraged the panic in order to have more room for himself. The Kursaal and the Spielbank are in full operation, and there is music every day as usual. Gov. CURTIN, Minister of the United States to the Court of Russia, is at Homburg, with his family. He returns shortly to St. Petersburg. The fact that Prince GORTSCHAKOFF remains at Wildbad, combined with other indications, convince Gov. CURTIN that Russia is taking no present action in regard to this war. There are four venerable English Generals at Homburg, whose theories in regard to the probabilities of the campaign are listened to with interest by the simple civilians who haunt the Kursaal. I met Mr. BEDLOE, Mr. MURPHY, Mr. LORILLARD RONALDS, Mr. HARRIS, and a dozen other Americans at Homburg. Most of them intend to go to Switzerland. We talked war in the pure American tongue, which was a great relief to my organs of speech. We came to the conclusion that BISMARCK has given Schleswig to Denmark, by secret treaty, and so secured her neutrality; that Russia, with her million soldiers, who are all ready, would try the efficiency of her new railroads by a sudden pounce upon Turkey, and that Prussia was prepared to receive the enemy on the north as well as on the west. This latter is the only one of these conclusions which I am competent to vouch for, but I am glad to find a non-committal manner of telling you the two former. One Yankee declared that if NAPOLEON got into a tight place he would declare France a republic, and that wonderful results, which I will not mention now, would follow. Dr. ——, who was a surgeon in our army, was planning a hospital at Homburg. It will be a capital place for the wounded. Perhaps before this is in print this gay watering-place may receive mangled and dying the same men who are now going forward in these long trains, singing as they go. I have witnessed many parting scenes. The grief is deep, but silent, with very little that looks like excitement. At a small station, one of those villages where every inhabitant is every other's friend and neighbor, two or three hundred men were embarking. A poor little hunchback woman in the crowd was crying bitterly, yet, as each squad passed the point where she was, she would stand on tiptoes and wave her pictorial handkerchief, hiding the tears the while.

Today being a national day of prayer, business places were closed until afternoon. The churches were largely attended. There was no Bourse, or I should have attended, in order to have observed that most sensitive thermometer of public confidence.

HOTELS AND THEATRES CLOSED.

During the war in the United States, if what I observed was the same in other parts, the hotels were always crowded, and with the places of amusement did more business than in ordinary times. Here it is quite the reverse. At Cologne, Bonn, Coblentz, Mayence and Mannheim, all the concert halls and theatres are closed. Hotels are nearly empty. In Frankfort the same is true of the hotels, but the theatres are still open. There is opera as the Stadt Theatre, "Fidelio" being performed to-morrow night.

I shall go either to Mayence or Mannheim to-night, and then my movements depend on whether the fighting is most likely to be chiefly on the Saar or up the Rhine toward Strasbourg. The destruction of the line railway bridge at Kehl by the Prussians, as well as the massing of troops on the upper Rhine, shows that they expect a column of the French to attempt the passage in that vicinity.

Provisions are getting high and scarce, but not so noticeably so here as in those small places toward the Saar, each of which has near it a portion of the seven hundred thousand consumers said to be now at the front. I have reason to think that figure too high at this moment, though it will not be in a day or two.

A gentleman just from Vienna, and a very intelligent German, says that there is no possibility of Austria taking part in the war. There is no inclination, no money, no soldiers.

RICKWAKET.

Railroads and Military Routes—The Battle-Ground and Movements of Troops—A Glance at Mayence—The Sanitary Companies—A Trip to Wiesbaden.

From Our Special Correspondent.

HEAD-QUARTERS ARMY OF SOUTH GERMANY, SPEYER, Monday, Aug. 1, 1870.

I am now in the middle of Rhenish Bavaria, (Rhein Pfalz.) Having learned that the Crown Prince was coming forward from Munich, I determined to cross from the right wing to the left, not only because the left has an equally important position, but in order to pass through and study the intervening country, which is likely so soon to be the scene of battles. The Prince FREDERICK CHARLES was at Mayence Friday, and left on Saturday morning. I saw him several times but made no attempt to interview him. He has his forces on the ground that I have described in former letters. They form the right wing of the German Army. The reader must be familiar with the fact that the two great divisions are called the North and the South German Armies. It is true, however, as I have previously noticed, that many men from the South German States have been sent north, while many Prussians and Hanoverians are incorporated with the army under the Crown Prince. As at Sadowa, Prince FREDERICK CHARLES is in a position to be first engaged, and the Army of the South to be the reserve with which the Crown Prince should come up at the right moment and secure a victory. But battles do not follow precedents, and I dispute that our knowledge of the seven days' campaign is more likely to mislead than assist us in forming theories for the present war.

THE ARMY FRONT.

The whole distance from Luxembourg to Switzerland must be considered as the army front. Next to Luxembourg Prussian territory borders upon France. Next comes Rhenish Bavaria, extending to the Rhine. So far the line has a direction north-west and south-east. Next, and on the Rhine, the Grand Duchy of Baden forms the frontier. An angle of Switzerland here enters the German territory, nearly at right angles, each side being about one hundred miles, extending from the Luxembourg to Lauterburg, and from Lauterburgen Bale. I have given my reasons heretofore for thinking that the French will not attempt an advance north from their left, nor to cross the Rhine for any grand advance into Baden. The great conflict, then, will be here in the Pfalz and on the lines of the quadrilateral. I took the liberty of assuming between this Province and the crooked Moselle. I shall describe at some length this section of country. An engagement, regarded here as unimportant but a repulse of the French, which took place, day before yesterday, at Saarbrück, indicates where the opposing forces are nearest together.

THE RAILWAY LINES.

The Prussians have two lines of railway from the Rhine to that point. The one along the Nahe, which I have already described, a line having more tunnels and bridges than any other I ever saw, for the same distance, and the line further south, through the middle of the Pfalz, by Homburg, Landstuhl, Kaiserslautern and Neustadt. At Neustadt it branches south to Landau and beyond, but the main line goes straight east, fifteen miles to Schifferstadt, where it forks off north to Mannheim and south to Spayer. There is a multifold connection at the eastern termini, both of this line, which I will call the Kaiserslautern line, and of the road on the Nahe, with the great network of German railways. It would seem, by looking at the map, that it would be worth while for the French to make a grand attempt to cut this Kaiserslautern road, say at or near Homburg, in order to divide the German forces on the Saar from those in the Pfalz. But the injury that this would inflict is not so great as it would be, were there not a new road, not on the maps, from Kaiserslautern to Kreuznach, thus joining midway these two strategic lines. The junction is seven miles east of Kaiserslautern. There is a fertile and beautiful plain about eighteen miles wide, between the Rhine and Haardt Mountains, traversed by splendid roads and dotted with villages, while dozens of little streams mark a crooked course into the Rhine. Across this plain the French have a line of fortifications from Lauterburg to Wissembourg, which marks the boundary line. The Rhine here is very crooked, though the present course is straight compared with the old bed, which is one series of loops and doubles from Lauterburg to Speyer. Naturally this plain forms the easiest approach for an invading army, and therefore on both sides it is guarded by fortifications. I have mentioned the French line of works. The German bulwarks are Landau and Germersheim. The former next to the mountains, and the latter on the river. I shall speak of these places again in relating my own adventures.

It is not to be supposed that the mountains are impassable, but from the Rhine valley thirty miles west, there are no good roads and no chance for a force to approach with sufficient rapidity to divide the Prussian Armies. The country is more open again west of these mountains and there are plenty of good roads through all that section lying north of the French town of Bitsche, from which point the Imperial forces could advance in conjunction with the columns moving upon Saar-louis and Saarbrücken, upon Zweibrücken and Homburg.

THE PROBABLE BATTLE-GROUND.

Should this latter point be gained by the French, Kaiserslautern becomes the centre of the field. It is indeed already the key of the situation, and, as will be seen by the position of the forces, such as I shall describe in the narrative of my travels, it is the pivot upon which the main line of the German armies is ready to turn. But if the French do not advance very soon, the battle-field will be nearer the head-waters of the Moselle. Indeed, there is plenty of serious expectation here that to-morrow is the last day of waiting for NAPOLEON to strike. He had a week the start. He has lost that now. The long heavy trains which we have seen moving over every road, night and day, have not counted for nothing, and I think Gen. MOLTKE, in his cabinet at Berlin, has got the figures on his map into a satisfactory shape. Why should Prussia not take the offensive? NAPOLEON seems to be waiting for his fleet in the North. But what does he expect to do with the forty or fifty thousand men which are said to have been sent there? True, Stettin is very near to Berlin, but fifty thousand is not an overpowering force in this age.

I hope my colleagues on the other side have studied the topography of that part of France between Lauterbourg and Metz, and if this state of things continues a little longer they would do well to look over the ground as far as Paris.

DOWN TO MAYENCE.

My last letter was written from Frankfort, whence I intended to return at once to the Saar. I ran down to Mayence that day, having to drive to Niederad, a little station on the line, to get the train, which would not come up across the Darmstadt road. Everything is done to facilitate the movement of the great military trains, and the lesser routes are made tributary to the greater. Every train is a military train since a week ago now. The railway companies announce with the utmost coolness that after Aug. 4 they will resume their regular business. Evidently they expect the battles to be fought on some other field. We crossed the magnificent iron bridge at Mayence an hour later, having examined with great care that charming district on the Main, where the London Telegraph anticipated the first great battle. I think I shall have time to survey these fertile and undulating fields before the French get there. Mayence was a little changed since three days before. More guns, more stores, more new earthworks, particularly about the east head of the railway bridge, and a different army corps (Twelfth) moving through. The presence of Prince FREDERICK CHARLES gave an additional interest to matters going at the moment, but as he was in council at the Governor's house, and I saw large bodies of troops on the other side of the river, at Castel, I took occasion to drive to Wiesbaden. The coachman all seemed to think it a very unfortunate occasion for any such move, but one venerable John yielded to my inducements. We stood at the end of the boat bridge about half an hour, during which time the Nin

Havre, and is negotiating with the Postmaster-General for the carrying of the mails. It is thought probable that his proposition will be accepted.

NINTH REGIMENT ENCAMPMENT.

Official Orders From the Colonel—Details of the Arrangements.

On Saturday morning next the officers and men of the Ninth Regiment National Guard will assemble at their armory for the purpose of proceeding to Long Branch for a ten days' encampment. The camp selected for the regiment is to be called "Camp Jay Gould," in honor of Mr. Fisk's railroad partner, and will be located on the open ground beyond the West End Hotel. The command will assemble on Saturday at 9 o'clock A. M., for roll-call, in full-dress uniform, with knapsacks packed. The regimental line will be formed on Twenty-third-street, right on Eighth-avenue. Men will carry one woolen blanket, rolled on knapsack; in blue jacket and black belt, over or under jacket, one pair of white pants; extra pair of white gloves, and necessary change of under-clothing. The fatigue cap will be slung from left top button. Two servants will be allowed to each company; one to the non-commissioned staff, and one to each of the field and staff officers. Every member is expected to accompany the regiment, and those desiring to go or to call upon, on the following Monday.

After marching down Broadway the regiment will proceed to the foot of Murray-street, and embark upon one of Col. FISK'S mammoth steamers for Sandy Hook, at which place a special train will be in readiness to convey the command to Long Branch. The regiment will undoubtedly make a splendid appearance while en route, for the Board of Officers and the honorary members are making great exertions to place the rank and file on a perfect military footing.

The expenses of the encampment are to be defrayed by a subscription fund, made up by Col. FISK and his friends, among the leading contributors being JAY GOULD, WM. M. TWEED, JAMES FISK, JR., and others equally well known. The members of the regiment will therefore be enabled to enjoy themselves without any serious calls on their pockets. The Colonel, in a recent circular to his regiment, says:

"The commandant particularly requests the co-operation of every officer and man to make a camp which shall be a model; and if it be found that all who can do so will make arrangements to be in camp the entire time, your Colonel is trying hard to place the regiment in the van of all in every respect, and is sanguine that he can count on the cordial co-operation of both officers and men. Show me, by a faithful performance of all duties during this encampment, that my efforts have not been in vain, and I am entitled to your confidence and support. The camp will be strictly a camp of instruction."

The following standing orders are announced for the government of the Regiment while in camp:

Commandants are directed to report to the Colonel immediately after every parade, and to return to the Regimental Court-martial all absentees, without leave, on parade or drill, and for any other neglect of duty or other delinquencies, in order that they may be punished in accordance with the law, and that their companies may be announced in orders at the next following parade.

Reveille will be beat at sun rise, when the morning gun will be fired, and the sentinels (save off challenging) all officers and men will rise and form in front of their respective quarters, in full dress, ready for inspection, after which police-call will be sounded, when the men will put their tents and equipments in order, under the supervision of the first sergeants, who will also designate for the day the details for guard duty.

At 7 o'clock A. M. the drum will beat the calls for breakfast at the hours specified, when the companies will form in fatigue uniform and march to the regimental parade, and thence to the mess barracks. Officers will dismiss their commands at 8 o'clock precisely.

At 5½ o'clock P. M. the officer of the day will proceed to inspect the quarters of every company, commencing on the right of the regiment, and ending on the middle line, to do which the tents will be thrown open. A non-commissioned officer will be stationed in each street to receive and convey to his commandant any information or complaint the officer of the day may deem proper to give. After inspecting the company quarters he will proceed to inspect the quarters of the staff, non-commissioned staff and the remainder of the camp.

The "tattoo" will be beat at 9½ o'clock P. M., after which no soldier is to be out of his tent without permission. All strangers, unless having special permission, will be excluded from camp before the corporal's guard is given out.

Taps will be sounded at 10 P. M., when all lights will be put out.

Guard-mounting will be in strict compliance with the forms prescribed in Upton's Tactics, page 289, and sentinels and guards will be governed by the rules as laid down in the general regulations of the State of New-York.

All persons, will be allowed to enter and have camp by the consent of the guard tent.

Between tattoo and reveille no person will be allowed to pass either into or out of camp without the countersign, or a pass from the officer of the day.

No person will be allowed to take any bundle or property from camp, except by permission of the officer of the guard.

All persons, of whatever rank in the service, are required to observe respect toward sentinels.

All company formations will take place in their respective streets, on the side nearest the main street, their ranks resting on the front line of company tents.

Each company will be divided into squads, under the charge of a non-commissioned officer, under the first sergeant; and each subaltern officer will consider and use of his company street as under his special superintendence.

No officer will sleep out of camp except by permission of the Colonel or officer of the day; and those by members will not be permitted in camp.

The customary salutes and courtesies of camp life will be observed. No liquor of any description will be permitted in camp.

Custom-House Affairs.

Collector MURPHY has made very few changes of late, but those few he has attempted to keep quiet, in order not to be overwhelmed by a host of applicants, who, seeing the changes announced, would most likely importune him to act upon their papers. The appointment clerk at Washington, however, does not regard his wishes in this respect, and, yesterday, the following were announced as among the confirmations:

J. H. Kimbedly, clerk; John Brophy, John Campbell, George Young and Hugh J. O'Reilly, inspectors; H. J. Hite, messenger; William Bennett, porter.

It is expected that after the Republican State nominations are made a number of removals will take place for the supposed benefit of the party. There are not many hangers on at the Collector's office now, the army of applicants having become satisfied that it was useless for them to attempt to urge an examination of their papers.

Police Affairs—A New Shield—Transfers.

At a meeting of the Board of Police, yesterday, a resolution was passed adopting a new shield for the Department. The new emblem of authority is much smaller than that now in use, and the word "Metropolitan" has given place to Municipal; the shields for Captains and Sergeants are of yellow metal and for patrolmen white. The new insignia with new buttons, from which the obnoxious "Metropolitan" has been expunged, will be worn by the force on and after Sept. 1.

HENRY STUYSBERG, Tenth Precinct, and WM. HASSAN, JR., Twenty-seventh Precinct, were made roundsmen, and transferred to the special squads. ASHER S. OREE, Second Precinct, was retired at a pension of $750 per annum; Serge. JAMES H. PARKS was transferred from the Twenty-first Precinct to the Twenty-eighth, and Serge. WM. H. MCCONNELL from the Twenty-eighth Precinct to the Twenty-first.

Commissioners BOSWORTH and SMITH yesterday investigating complaints against policemen made by the general roundsmen, most of which were dismissed.

LAW REPORTS.

COURT CALENDARS—THIS DAY.

SUPREME COURT—CHAMBERS.

Held by Barnard, J.—Court opens at 10 A. M.—Calendar called at 12 o'clock.

No. 49—Mercantile Loan Warehouse Co. vs. Ashcroft.

MARINE COURT—TRIAL TERM.

Held by Joachimsen, J.—Calendar called at 11 A. M.

Nos.		Nos.
1805	Talcott vs. Recht.	1816	Tobin vs. Hutner.
1807	Lumagon vs. Bleecker-street and Fulton Ferry R. R. Co.	1817	Graves vs. O'Reilly.
1808	Johnson vs. Mosher.	1818	Sebula vs. Pauly.
1812	Walker vs. Homans.	1819	Hackett vs. Gilmore.
		1820	Cassidy vs. Haynes.
		1821	Arras vs. Rohr.

DECISIONS.

SUPREME COURT—SPECIAL TERM—AUG. 17.

By Judge Spencer.

Ball vs. Lynch; motion granted, with $10 costs.

COMMON PLEAS—SPECIAL TERM—AUG. 17.

By Judge Van Brunt.

Ledoux et al. vs. Karr, $250; extra Allowance granted.

Lessner vs. Bowen; motion granted.

Carpenter vs. Green; motion to open default granted on judgment of $29 costs.

Pesold vs. Bowen; motion granted.

Kibber vs. Bowen; motion granted.

Hawson et al. vs. Beaudine; motion granted.

Steinberg vs. O'Connor; injunction granted.

Deering vs. Lake; motion to direct defendant to pay judgment denied.

Leuthner vs. Hubard; motion denied with costs.

Lawrence vs. Hill; motion granted.

SUPERIOR COURT—SPECIAL TERM—AUG. 17.

Before Judge Sprague.

APPLICATION FOR ALIMONY—WHERE IS THE "BETTER HALF?"

Louisa Wick vs. Robert Wick.—The plaintiff makes her application for alimony, alleging that she has commenced an action for divorce on the ground of the adultery of the defendant. Her statement is supported by affidavits, which show that the defendant is earning $15 a week in addition to the salary of a position he holds, and claiming that he was earning $35 a week, expressed his willingness to allow the plaintiff $5 out of the $15.

The defendant, however, claims that the plaintiff is in receipt of a good salary, and that the wife was equally confident in his claim that his client was entitled to more than one-third of the income.

The Court ended the discussion by decreeing that the wife was the "better half," and awarded her the odd dollar by fixing the alimony at $6 per week.

Alexander H. Reaver for motion; Defendant in person, opposed.

FINANCIAL AFFAIRS.

Sales at the Stock Exchange—1870.

FIRST BOARD—10½ A. M.

$10,000 U. S. 5-20, c.	112½	$4,000 do.	108
10,000 U. S. 5-20, c.	112⅝	1,000 Ill. Cent. S.	92
5,000 U. S. 5-20, c.		1,000 do.	92
...ed, new	114½	2,000 C. C. & I. Guar.	91½
10,000 U. S. 5-20, c.	112	1,000 do.	92
...c.	111½	2,000 M. & St. Paul
60,000 do.	111½	7 S.-D. Gas	58
2,000 U. S. 5-20 R., c.	110½	1,000 L. S. Div. Bds.	82½
10,000 U. S. 5-20 C., c.	110½	50 Am. Exchange	114
20,000 do.	110½	50 Mechanics	116
10,000 do.	110½	50 Continental	97
5,000 U. S. 10-40 C.	108½	50 Phenix Bank	102
1,000 Tenn. 6s, new	69	50 Del. & Hud. Can.	121
1,000 do.	69½	100 Erie	26½
20,000 do.	69½	100 Mich. Cent.	91
15,000 Tenn. 6s, o.	61	100 Pacific Mail	32½
20,000 do.	60½	100 do.	32½
10,000 do.	60½	100 Adams Express	58
10,000 do. b. 60.	60½	100 do. b. c.	58
20,000 do.	60½	200 N. Y. C. & H. R.	164
70,000 do.	60½	100 Erie	26½
20,000 Va. 6s, c.	62	100 Del. & Hud. Can.	121
2,000 N. C. 6s, new	38	100 do.	121
1,000 N. C. 6s, old	38	100 Pacific Mail	32½
1,000 N. C. 6s, old	38	20 C. C. & I. C.	79½
51,000 Mo. 6s, c.	89	20 New-Jersey Cen.	57
5,000 Erie 2d M.	80	200 T. W. & W.	5 c. 62½
24,000 U. P. 1st M.	80½	100 Att. & T. H.	26½
2,000 A. & T. H. 1st	78½	100 Chic. & A. Gr. Gv.	112½
1,000 do.	78½	100 do.	112½
2,000 Ch. West. 1st	86½	5 N. Y. & N. H.	180
2,000 C. & Mil. 1st	87	50 Nat. Stock Yards	50
1,000 P., F. W. & C. 1st	70	100 C. C. & Ind. C.	77½
		100 do.	b. c. 77½

SECOND BOARD—10½ AND 2½ P. M.

$1,000 U. S. 6s, '81, c.	114½	10,000 N. Cen. Sp. Tax	23½
10,000 U. S. 5-20 C., c.	112½	20,000 Missouri 6s	65
32,000 U. S. 5-20 C., c.	112½	11,000 Ark. & T. R. R.	75
20,000 do.	112	1,000 C. & R. W. Con.	95½
10,000 U. S. 5-20 C., c.	111½	100 Pacific Mail	32½
30,000 U. S. 5-20 C., c.	111½	100 N. Y. C. & H. R.	164
5,000 U. S. 5-20 C., c.		30,000 N. Y. Cen. & H.
...new	110½	...R. Con.	95½
140,000 U. S. 5-20 C., c.	111½	10 Lake S. & M. So.	91½
5,000 U. S. 5-20 C., c.	112	20 P., F. W. & C. Guar.	95
10,000 U. S. 10-40 C.	108½	100 St. Louis & T. M.	41
1,000 Tenn. 6s, new	69½	100 Chic. C. & I. Con.	77½
10,000 Tenn. 6s, o.	61	200 Hav. & St. Jo. Pf.	33½
5,000 Virginia 6s, new	62

WEDNESDAY, Aug. 17—P. M.

The War news this forenoon was construed as favorable to the French and the effect on the direction of higher Gold. The dispatches were much confused, however, and the inclination among prudent operators was to await clearer accounts of the events since Sunday morning than the Cable thus far has developed either from Paris or Berlin. The Gold market was partially bullish and advanced from 117½ to 117⅝, but falling back to 117⅜@117½ ₱ cent, and the bidding for the million of dollars offered by the Treasury at noon was quite large, $3,995,000 in the aggregate. The accepted bids were at 117.46@117.27 ₱ cent.

The Exports of Gold by the steamers today amounted to $1,460,000. The demand for Bills for the present mail proved quite considerable, and as the export movement of Domestic Produce, as usual at this season of the year, is on a moderate scale, the remittance of Gold, while money is dearer in London than here, very reasonably follows. The transmission of United States 5-20s to the New-York market from England and the Continent has almost entirely ceased, and the quotations on the other side have been so decidedly strengthening for a week or ten days past that an early reversal in the course of the remittances of United States 5-20s is not improbable. Exchange on London today is 109½@109¾ for 60 days, and 110¼@110½ for Sight.

The following are the bids and accepted bids for the Treasury Gold today:

BIDS FOR TREASURY GOLD, AUG. 17.

Trevor & Colgate.		Gibson, Bradleston & Co.
$100,000	117.26	$20,000	117.22
200,000	117.13	10,000	117.20
100,000	117	Baass & Brown.
100,000	117.25	$5,000	116.25
Duff & Tienken.		Eckler Bros.
20,000	117.20	5,000	117.41
10,000	117.10	20,000	117.25
20,000	117.21	5,000	117.42
20,000	117.17	5,000	117.30
20,000	117.21	Kennedy, Hutchinson & Co.
Lewis, Daniel & Co.		5,000	117.42
20,000	117.26	10,000	117.41
20,000	117.20	20,000	117.40
10,000	117.20	10,000	117.35
10,000	117.17	10,000	117.30
10,000	117.17	10,000	117.27
10,000	117.17	10,000	117.20
10,000	117.17	10,000	117.17
10,000	117.17	10,000	117.17
10,000	117.17	10,000	117.17

The New York Times.

NEW-YORK, THURSDAY, AUGUST 18, 1870.

Amusements this Evening.

WALLACK'S THEATER.
Broadway, corner 13th-st.
OUR COUSIN GERMAN. Leading characters by Messrs. Joseph K. Emmet, Blanchard, Leonard, Miss Emily Mestayer, Miss Fanchon, Miss Fowler.

BOOTH'S THEATER.
Corner 23d-st. and 6th-av.
RIP VAN WINKLE. Leading character by Joseph Jefferson.

NIBLO'S GARDEN.
Broadway, between Prince and Houston sts.
DUKE'S MOTTO. Leading characters by Messrs. Barrett and Bangs, Miss Moore, Mme. Ponisi.

GRAND OPERA-HOUSE.
8th-av., corner 23d-st.
SITALA, THE JUGGLER'S DAUGHTER. Leading character by Mme. Kathi Lanner.

Terms of the New-York Times.

MAIL SUBSCRIPTIONS.

The DAILY TIMES, per annum, including the Sunday Edition $12
The DAILY TIMES, per annum, exclusive of the Sunday Edition 10
The Sunday Edition, per annum 2
The SEMI-WEEKLY, per annum 3
Two copies, one year 5
Ten copies, one year 25
An extra copy to getter-up of club, and a special old steel engraving of the late HENRY J. RAYMOND.
The WEEKLY TIMES, per annum 3
Five copies, one year 12
An extra copy to getter-up of club, and a special old steel engraving of the late HENRY J. RAYMOND.
Twenty copies, one year 35
An extra copy to getter-up of club, and a special old steel engraving of the late HENRY J. RAYMOND.
The European Edition, per annum, postage extra 3
Subscriptions to other of our editions received for a longer or shorter time than one year, at the yearly rate.
The Semi-Weekly and Weekly mailed to clergymen at the lowest club rates.
Additions may be made to clubs at club rates.
These prices are invariable. We have no traveling agents. Remit in drafts on New-York or Post Office Money Orders if possible, and where neither of these can be procured send the money in a registered letter.
Address,
E. J. RAYMOND & CO.,
TIMES Office, New-York.

To Advertisers.

Advertisers in the TIMES are requested to hand in their notices as early as noon in the day as possible. If received after 8½ o'clock, it will be impossible to classify them under their proper heads.

☞ For the accommodation of uptown residents, advertisements for insertion in the TIMES will be received at No. 24 West 23d-st., junction of Broadway and 6th-av., and at No. 49 East 125th-st., between Broadway and 4th-av., at same rates as are charged at office of publication.

☞ Messrs. DREXEL, HARJES & CO., Bankers, No. 31 Rue Scribe, Paris, are the accredited agents for the NEW-YORK TIMES in that city.

Notices.

We cannot notice anonymous communications. In all cases we require the writer's name and address, not for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith. Letters received by mail will be opened, and we preserve manuscripts, unless specially requested not to do.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

THE WAR.

A dispatch received in Paris, dated Metz Aug. 17, 3 P. M., reports a severe engagement at Gravelotte, a village six miles south-west of Metz, on Tuesday. The French claim a victory, but admit heavy losses. This dispatch is the only one of importance received concerning the recent movements up to 1 o'clock this morning. In another dispatch from Paris it is stated that after the brilliant combat of Sunday night, two German divisions attempted to intercept the French march and were repulsed. NAPOLEON is at Chalons, where he is organizing a large force. BAZAINE insists upon secrecy as far as his movements are concerned. It is reported that a request from Prince CHARLES for an armistice in order to bury the dead has been refused. That severe fighting has been in progress for several days past, is beyond a doubt, but the news received is of the most meagre description. London dispatches state that the main body of the French Army is at Etain, about twelve miles east north-east of Verdun. The French troops are said to have entered the last conflict in a starving condition. Rumors are rife that NAPOLEON is preparing for flight, and that boxes containing his private property have arrived at Madrid, Spain. The Empress, it is again reported, has asked permission to pass through Belgium on her way to England. The Emperor, it would seem, still continues to interfere with the army movements, instead of leaving them to his commanders, hence his unpopularity. The London Post states that the telegraph has been cut in the rear of the Prussians, and thinks no decisive results have as yet followed the recent fighting. The Times, on the contrary, is of the opinion that the French have received a finishing stroke at Metz, and that after another great battle has been fought at Chalons, English intervention will take place. On Tuesday night the garrison of Strasbourg is reported to have made a sortie toward Hunheim. They were driven back with great loss. A German dispatch from Carlsruhe, dated Aug. 14, states that several light skirmishes occurred the day before, but with no particular result. King WILLIAM has appointed Governor-Generals of the French Provinces of Lorraine and Alsace.

The anxiety of the populace of Paris to gain intelligence of the war movements is great. On Tuesday night crowds surrounded the Ministry of the Interior and other places where news are received. The journals counsel patience and forbearance. The Archbishop of Paris has placed at the disposal of the authorities for hospital purposes all the diocesan schools and other institutions in his charge. Prominent leaders of the Legitimists have also lent their estates to the Government for the same purpose. It is rumored in Paris that the wife of LEBOEUF is a Prussian, and the General is now imprisoned at Vincennes. The nephews of the King of Sweden are reported to have joined the French Army. A proclamation has been issued in France requiring Germans in the country to take out permits for a residence. A formal proclamation has been issued by Vice-Admiral FOURICHON, Commander-in-Chief of the French naval forces in the North Sea, declaring that from the 18th inst. all the coasts of Prussia and the North German Confederation, from the Island of Borkum to the north of the Eider, are in an effective state of blockade, neutral vessels are given ten days to leave the blockaded ports. Austria, in view of the situation, is allowed by Russia to pass merchantmen free of duty through the port of Riga. The German schooner Pfeil (Arrow) has been seized by a French man-of-war. The British steamer Haswell, from Hamburg, for Sunderland, was recently fired at by a French iron-clad, near the mouth of the Elbe. She was afterward boarded, but allowed to proceed after showing her papers. Another Prussian note, relating to secret negotiations of France, was published in Berlin yesterday. The contents are similar to those of documents heretofore made public. A Prussian loan of 40,000,000 thalers, at 68, is announced. The war loan, it is said, is unsuccessful at Hamburg. Italy has increased her army, and an extraordinary loan has been negotiated for war purposes. On the second page of today's paper we print another installment of letters from our correspondents at the seat of war, received by the last steamer.

GENERAL EUROPEAN NEWS.

M. WALLENBERG, Officer of the Bank of Stockholm, urges the adoption of a 25 franc piece as a general monetary unit....The steamship India, from the Clyde, has put in at Greenock for repairs....The Papal Nuncio has been recalled from Austria....Baron GEROLDS has been appointed Ambassador of Holland to the Court St. James.

GENERAL.

The latest advices from Mexico declare that the Government of that country is completely bankrupt. It is also stated that ROSECRANS will probably leave the Cabinet, and return to his former post as Minister to the United States.

The funeral obsequies of the late Admiral FARRAGUT took place at Portsmouth, N. H., yesterday. A large number of prominent military and naval officers, and other distinguished citizens, were present, and the procession was a mile in length. The services were conducted by Rev. R. W. CLARK, of Portsmouth, assisted by Rev. Dr. MONTGOMERY, of this City. Dr. MONTGOMERY delivered an eulogistic address on the life and services of the illustrious deceased. The body was placed in a vault at Portsmouth, but will be removed to Annapolis, Md., for final interment.

At the Labor Convention in Cincinnati, yesterday, the resolutions relating to Cherokee lands were adopted without amendment. Other resolutions were offered deprecating anything looking to repudiation; welcoming all immigrants, but protesting against the importation of human freight; favoring the eight-hour system; opposing the granting of public lands to private companies, and declaring that the time is ripe for the formation of a political party in the interests of working men. President TREVELLICK'S address was referred by the Committee to which it was referred only so far as it relates to Chinese immigration.

The Regents of the University of California have elected HENRY DURANT, of Oakland, President, and appointed FRANK BRETT HARTE Librarian of that institution.

The State Temperance Convention at Syracuse yesterday nominated a ticket of State officers for the coming canvass with MYRON H. CLARK at its head for Governor.

The store of D. M. & E. G. HALBERT, at Binghamton, N. Y., was entered yesterday morning by three burglars. They were surprised by two clerks who slept in the store, and in the struggle one of the clerks was shot dead. A reward of $2,500 is offered for the apprehension of the murders.

Hon. JOHN A. BINGHAM was renominated for Congress in the Sixteenth Ohio District yesterday.

A Washington dispatch says a proclamation of neutrality has been prepared and is to be submitted to the President.

An extensive fire occurred at Fremont, Nebraska, yesterday morning, involving a loss of $80,000.

The Convention called by the Massachusetts State Temperance Alliance met, yesterday, in Boston, to organize an Independent Prohibitory Party. After the customary business, the Convention nominated Mr. WENDELL PHILLIPS for Governor and a complete State ticket. A series of resolutions was also adopted.

The American Association for the Advancement of Science met at Troy yesterday. Some of the most prominent scientific scholars of the country were present, and important papers are announced to be read at subsequent sessions.

Bishop CONROY, of the Diocese of Albany, reached home yesterday on his return from the Ecumenical Council, and was welcomed by a large concourse of people.

Peace between Brazil and Paraguay has been formally proclaimed.

The Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows of the State of New-York held a meeting at Rochester, yesterday, and elected officers of the Grand Encampment. A procession was formed and marched through the streets and addresses were made by prominent Past officers and others.

The Ninth Regiment N. G. S. N. Y. will leave the City on Saturday next for Camp Gould, Long Branch, where they will remain ten days. The command will assemble at the armory, in Twenty-sixth-street, at 8½ A. M. Line will be formed at 9 o'clock, immediately after which hour they will commence their march up Twenty-third-street to Broadway, down Broadway to Murray-street, and so to Pier No. 26 North River, where they will embark on the steamer Plymouth Rock. The men will be in full uniform, with knapsacks and blankets. The field and staff officers will be mounted.

Delegates from the Matthew T. Brennan Associations of nine wards met last evening at Botanic Hall, No. 66 East Broadway, and formed an organization to be known as the Matthew T. Brennan Central Organization of the City of New-York.

The motion for an order to show cause why a receiver of the assets and property of the National Stock Exchange should not be appointed was argued, yesterday, before Judge BARNARD, in the Supreme Court, Chambers. The Court took the papers and reserved the decision.

The funeral of the late GRANVILLE T. JENKS, yesterday, was attended by a large concourse of people. Rev. HENRY WARD BEECHER delivered an impressive discourse on the occasion. The remains were interred at Green-Wood.

The collections of the German Patriotic Aid Society, of this City, amount thus far to $68,697 84, and besides the North German Consul-General at this port has received $2,368 from other parties, for the aid of wounded German soldiers, and of German families bereaved by the European war.

The War.

The news which we publish this morning renders it evident that terrible fighting is going on around Metz, but it cannot be ascertained that either side has gained a decided success. An official dispatch dated "Metz, Aug. 17—8 P. M." states that a serious engagement took place on Tuesday in the vicinity of the fortifications, and that the French obtained the advantage, but "lost heavily,"—two words fraught with tragical significance. Amid the smoke and confusion which obscure those red battle-fields, we can distinguish only the fact that thousands of human beings have been slaughtered, and that no limit can yet be assigned to the work of destruction. Every device which the ingenuity of man has yet conceived for sweeping out of existence vast masses of men, is brought to bear upon this desperate contest, and already rivers of blood have been shed. The Prussians no more dare to make their losses known than the French. No statements have yet been put forward on either side. It is all guesswork, but when the Prussians admit one day that they have purchased a "bloody victory," and the French acknowledge on another that they have sustained heavy losses, it scarcely needs official returns to assure us that the carnage has been fearful. Those who predicted that one severe engagement before Metz would put an end to the war, may now begin to realize their mistake. The armies which were dispatched to meet each other last month may be annihilated without bringing the war to a conclusion. Both France and Prussia are capable of putting other armies in the field, and they would do it, for this is a struggle of life and death—a struggle, take it all in all, the like of which Europe has never seen before. NAPOLEON did not deceive the French people when he warned them at the outset to prepare for a long and bloody war. Which side was best prepared no one can hesitate to point out. It was the side which we were asked to believe had been taken unawares, but which in reality had counted upon this war as one of the inevitable events of the age.

The slaughter which has been going on since Sunday morning may be continued for days to come, or it may be interrupted for a time, and transferred to another scene. It is only certain that every inch of ground will now be hotly contested, and that since the French have everything at stake, they will never relinquish the contest until they have exhausted every resource at their command. When that is said of a great and proud nation, it means a great deal more than the confident capitalists of Wall-street seem disposed to understand. There are times when a nation must sacrifice its last man and its last coin, rather than yield to the enemy. The French people have now to face such an emergency. They have risen to the occasion by offering all that they have for the prosecution of the war. If they complain of their Generals, they do what all nations have done under the sting of defeat. The cry for peace has not been heard in the land. That the Germans are equally resolute is but natural, for they are in the flush of victory. Their spirit would doubtless undergo no change under defeat. Hence, from the first, there has been every reason to believe that the war would be protracted, and there is less reason than ever now for changing that opinion. NAPOLEON, who took up the sword, may perish by the sword—but these two great nations will never yield until complete exhaustion renders further exertions impossible.

Family Differences.

Encouraged, perhaps, by the courteous reception extended by the Southern Democratic Press to its "earnest word" in favor of moderation and conciliation in the construction of local platforms, the World now administers to the same section some very sensible advice with regard to the selection of candidates. It previously urged the avoidance of the irritating issues which were incident to the reconstruction era; it proposed that the negro question should be quietly discarded, and all "dead issues" abandoned. Now it suggests that only those persons shall be nominated to whom neither the test-oath nor the Fourteenth Amendment will present insurmountable obstacles.

There was a time, and that not long ago, when these suggestions would have subjected the World to maledictions loud and deep. Our contemporary then stood almost alone in its moderation—the Chicago Times and the Louisville Courier-Journal being its only conspicuous allies. The change which has occurred in this respect is very significant. The untamed fire-eater of the Mobile Register met the proposal in favor of "accepting the situation," with the declaration that "this is a white man's Government." Generally, however, the Democratic journals of the South, and such Southern Democratic organizations as have given expression to their opinions, have shown a determination to confine the Fall campaign to living questions, and the nominations to candidates whose eligibility is undoubted. An address of the victors in North Carolina breathes the same spirit. It dwells upon the necessity of establishing friendly relations between whites and blacks, and of so treating the latter that they shall be brought into political alliance with the Democracy. In other words, it is proposed to turn negro suffrage to partisan account, instead of assailing it as hitherto. The lesson is a hard one to teach, as the Louisville Courier-Journal can testify; but the fact that it is being taught in several of the old slave-holding States, is a sign of progress which no prudent Republican will ignore.

Unfortunately for the World, there are two or three ugly facts whose significance lies in the opposite direction. One of them is that, notwithstanding the address of the Congressional Democratic Committee in favor of dropping "dead issues," the Democratic members of the House refused to join in a declaration that the recent constitutional amendments came within that category. Such a refusal reveals a purpose to retain these amendments, and the policy of reconstruction with which they are identified, as grounds of partisan agitation. Nor has anything occurred to show that the Northern and Western members, who thus falsified the terms of their own address, acted at variance with the views of their constituents. In the Iowa Convention, we believe, common sense triumphed over insanity on the negro question; but, so far as we know, the case is exceptional. The Maine Democracy, who met in Convention on Tuesday, do not, indeed, name the negro in their resolutions, but they violently assail the legislation of which negro suffrage is an essential part. Reciting acts of the National Administration, the Maine platform affirms that "in many of the States it has established military despotisms, "trying thereby to intimidate the people thereof, and make them subservient to their wicked rule." With the untruthfulness of the statement we have for the moment nothing to do. We addduce it only to prove that when the World and its colaborers have led the Southern wing of their party to adopt moderate platforms and nominate moderate candidates, they will find among Northern Democrats ample opportunities for the exercise of their persuasive power, and their reforming influence.

What may happen before the campaign fairly begins, we will not attempt to predict. This, however, we at present know—the contest between the extremists and the moderates is not over. The moderates have perceptibly gained ground, but the party, as a party, is yet far from accepting the sagacious counsel of the World.

Free Trade Has Had.

The Republican advocates of free trade are making a very great mistake, if they did but know it. Nothing will satisfy them, it appears, but elevating their pet crotchet into a "test question" during the approaching campaign. The Evening Post of this City was the first to urge this course upon the electors, and the remonstrances which have been addressed to it do not seem to have convinced it of its folly. It advises Republicans to vote for any candidate who is in favor of free trade, without regard to his general politics. Vote for him, whether he be a Democrat or not. The Evening Post has nursed its theory so long that at last it appears to have gone wild over it.

Revenue reform within reasonable limits is one thing: this demand for free trade at any price, is another. The people would gain by a wise and cautious revision of the tariff, but they would not gain by the policy recommended by the Evening Post. The recommendations of that journal are opposed to true American interests. They are regarded with the greatest repugnance by the vast proportion of the Republican Party. If the ultra free traders did not shut themselves up in a band-box, they would know how thoroughly unpopular they are rendering themselves. They are not fighting their own battle so much as the battle of the ultra protectionists. They give occasion to the Tribune to cry out with sweet unction, "we shall bear 'protection to home industry' proudly on our banners." In fact, the Tribune must be delighted with the melancholy tactics pursued by the Evening Post. The two extremes meet, and the Tribune gets the best of it. The general public cannot possibly sympathize with the Post, which would sacrifice all principles for the sake of a hobby.

Free trade, as the Post demands it, is not acceptable to the people. If any section of the Republicans determine to stand by the Post or fall, we can tell them beforehand the result—they will fall. Such a section must necessarily be limited in numbers, and they cannot bring the party into jeopardy. Still, it would be desirable for them to think once more over their course. Would they be willing to hand the government of this country over to Democrats for the sake of seeing free trade established? Two or three dozen may answer yes, and it would be well for them to go over to the Democrats at once. The bulk of the party would spurn the proposal to put their antagonists into power in order to gratify a few extremists. We must give up all hope of intelligent revenue reform if the advocates of free trade continue to make the cause odious to the people.

The Labor Question.

The San Francisco Labor Union appears to base its action upon grounds strangely contradictory. It says, first, that the Chinaman is so debased a creature, "so submissive a tool of those who try to oppress the laborer," that contact with him involves pollution from which every right-minded American should shrink; and, secondly, that his intelligence is of so high an order that he will rapidly acquire dexterity in any branch of labor or handicraft, and before long expel the native white mechanic from the occupations at present open to him. Both arguments are followed by a third, which, whatever its value, is in reality the only available objection to Chinese immigration—that, whether debased or intelligent, the Chinaman will work cheap. It is of no use to point out to these advocates of labor protection that a practical limit even to Chinese "cheapness" exists; and that the assertions as to the wages they would, if necessary, be content to receive, betray an entire ignorance of the condition of the handicraft classes in the Chinese Empire. Because coolies can be found to dig and excavate at a rate which effectually underbids any other nationality, it is erroneously concluded that carpenters and shoe-makers would accept the same remuneration.

The average daily wages of a Chinese artisan is, in his own country, from one hundred to one hundred and twenty-five "cash," or from twenty to twenty-five cents per day. But this represents in China a sum nearly equal to fifty cents in the United States. It will thus be seen that the ninety cents a day paid to Chinese artisans in California is, although a rise compared to the wages they receive at home, by no means so much in excess of their needs as to justify the belief that they would accept any material reduction. One argument brought forward by the anti-Chinese party is thus disposed of.

It is of course useless to appeal to general principles of political economy, or to the provisions of our Constitution in dealing with the more extreme members of an opposition whose reasoning, as expressed by some one present at the recent Ohio meeting, is simply "We don't want Chinese here anyhow." But such an avowal has at least the merit of simplicity, and can be met in an equally downright manner. A certain number of men say "we won't have the Chinese;" the country, represented by the chief wealth, intelligence and honor of its citizens, says in reply: "We live under a Constitution which guarantees equal protection and liberty to all who seek it; we cannot make a class exception without establishing a precedent fatal to its integrity, and dishonorable in view of the relations in which we stand with China. Take your own measures, within the law, to maintain a proper distribution of wages, but you cannot be permitted to violate a fundamental principle of the general Constitution of the States." This is in effect what the "labor question" must come to, unless the anti-Chinese party acquire a power sufficient to mold laws and Constitution alike at their own will. It is well that this issue be clearly understood by those who are endeavoring to excite public opinion against the Chinese. The question of emigration is one with which the opposition have no shadow of right to interfere. They are at perfect liberty to inform the Chinese who arrive that no contract made in China is binding upon them; they may use all legitimate efforts to induce them to join trades-unions, labor associations, and similar fraternities; and they may bring all legitimate influence to bear upon the masters who employ imported labor. But beyond this they cannot go without violating the law.

A Combination Against the Public.

It is announced that an arrangement has been made between the New-York Central, the Erie, and the Pennsylvania Central Railroads, by which they are practically consolidated. It is also reported that the rates of freight and fare are to be the same on each of the roads, and that a common policy is to control them all. The first fruit of the new arrangement is a large advance in freight and passenger rates, and still further advances are anticipated as soon as the arrival of Winter stops the competition of water routes.

The new arrangement will doubtless be a very advantageous one for the roads, but it involves a new attack upon the rights and interests of the people. The thought at once suggests itself that this new compact between three of the most powerful railroads in the country, may be the preliminary to a more complete consolidation. Such a consummation would be a natural result of the tendency which has prevailed in railroad management for the past few years, and which has built up so many colossal railroad interests in this country. That these interests are in direct and growing antagonism to the public, besides forming a powerful agency for corruption, is generally admitted, and the problem how they are to be controlled is one which will soon force itself more urgently than ever upon public attention.

Within certain limits, railroad combinations have sometimes been desirable. In the infancy of our railway system, roads were necessarily constructed in short lines, and afterward, as the country developed, these were naturally consolidated, thereby securing economy of management, and greater convenience to the public. The New-York Central is an illustration of this, and no one will now dispute that the combination by which that line was formed was desirable, besides being inevitable. But when it is proposed to make a similar consolidation of competing lines, the case becomes very different, and the public have a right to protest. Such a combination becomes a gross form of monopoly, and will be sure to lead to other alliances by which a dangerous power must be created.

How best to deal with this threatened evil is a subject for grave discussion. There are those who advocate the purchase and management of the leading lines by the States. In an address delivered before the Boston Board of Trade, in 1866, Mr. JOSIAH QUINCY urged that Massachusetts should own the Boston and Worcester, and the Western roads, and should run them for the benefit of the public at bare cost. In Illinois a remedy has been sought for by a constitutional provision, which has just gone into effect, prohibiting such railroad combinations as are reported to have been made by the Erie, New-York Central, and Pennsylvania Central. In Michigan a similar amendment to the Constitution has just been proposed, and will be submitted to the people in November, and the same course is being urged in Pennsylvania and several other States. But a few more great railroad combinations, such as have been made within two or three years, would build up a power which might prove stronger than the Legislatures. Our railroad managers have already discovered the folly of competing with each other, and now make common cause in behalf of their great interests, and against the public. It is asserted that there is already more than one State in the Union, the political and financial policy of which is directed and controlled by railroad "Rings." We trust that the new combination just made in this State will not be the means of adding New-York to the list.

War, Women, and Agriculture.

Complaints are already beginning to reach us from the Continent of a scarcity of laborers in the agricultural districts of both France and Prussia. The war is making large drafts on the peasantry of those countries, and by reducing the number of producers is sure to inflict immense damage on the victors as well as the vanquished, to say nothing of the destruction of property and crops wherever the armies fight or encamp. At this season of the year the crops are ready to be harvested, and large numbers of men are required to cut and store them. In Prussia, we notice that application has been made for permission to employ the inmates of the district prisons as harvesters, but it is hardly probable that they will be put to this use. In some towns, however, the women are calling upon those of their sex whose health will permit, to form themselves into companies to assist in gathering the harvest, and it would seem as if much might be accomplished by this means.

It is not customary in this country to consider agriculture as offering an opening for female labor, and yet there is much connected with the planting, cultivation, and harvesting of crops which could be performed by them, as, indeed, it has been in times of emergency and war. It is hardly to be expected that tender hands should hold the plow or drive mowing-machines, but women's presence in the hay-field, or during the grain harvests, is no novelty, and most frequently they appear on these occasions as workers and not as spectators. The turning of a swath of timothy or the binding of a row of wheat, is not work above the strength of an average healthy woman who has been brought up to labor with her hands, and is quite as healthy as roasting before a fire or bending over a seam all the day long. Among the Germans who cultivate market gardens on the outskirts of our City, men and women labor side by side, each using the hoe or the weeding-fork, as occasion may require, or working with the weeders that nature has provided. So, too, in the cotton and rice-fields of the South before the war, as in the sugar plantations of Cuba now, men and women worked together as field hands. The introduction of machinery has done much to lessen the severe toil of the farmer, and when steam-plows and horse pitch-forks become more generally introduced, his field work will be still less laborious, and there will be so much more that can be performed by women. Without advocating the substitution of female for male labor on the farm, the fact may be accepted that agriculture gives an opening to such women as are physically robust enough to enter it. Many girls in Germany will doubtless this year attempt to perform much of the field work on the farms of their fathers and relatives, and we shall look with interest for a report of the result of their labor.

Whatever may be thought of the practicability or advisability of employing women more extensively in the laborious processes of cultivating and reaping crops, there can be no question but that horticulture offers a boundless field for the exercise of their skill, industry, and energy, and with the prospect of a reward commensurate with the amount of intelligent effort put forth. The national bureau, in Paris, thoroughly organized on the glorious soil by the press, and several horticultural schools for women are projected or have been commenced in various sections of the country. It may be that the action of the German and French peasants, during the present war, will present some new phase of the field which offers employment for women's energies and skill which will be worthy of careful study and discussion.

The Massachusetts Temperance Alliance has now mounted its hobby. Every proprietor of a grocery regards it as the only thing in life worth struggling for, and the "Prohibitionists" of Massachusetts are not more unwise in their generation than the Free-traders of this State. They would alike sacrifice much higher objects than their own for the sake of winning the day. The meeting at Boston, yesterday, of which we present a report elsewhere, pledged itself to be satisfied with nothing less than the suppression of "dram-drinking." They are satisfied that there is no middle course. In fact, like all fanatics, they believe that all the truth is on their side, and not a particle on any other. The Free-traders will probably recognize the folly of this idea in the case of the Prohibitionists—but why not take the beam out of their own eyes while they are about it?

It takes seven volumes of the Congressional Globe to contain the precious debates of last session—two volumes more than were ever required before. One volume, our correspondent states, is entirely filled with "speeches" which were never delivered, but which the people have to pay for putting into print. A more scandalous misuse of the public money is would be very difficult to conceive. The tax-payers are victimized in order that the writer of some hideous trash, which every newspaper or magazine editor would instantly pitch out of the window, may have the pleasure of seeing himself "bound up" with a score of other needles. Since the Congressional Globe is thus abused, would it not be a wise course to abolish it altogether?

It is to be hoped that no personal or political consideration will be allowed to check the departmental investigation into pension frauds, or to mitigate the penalties which all concerned in them have earned. The pensioners have suffered far too much from the delays in obtaining their dues, and from the vexation which has attended the periodical payments. The cruelty and injustice in the latter particular have been greatly abated by the legislation of the late session. But wrongs remain to be redressed to which only the department can give proper attention. Robbery of the Government has been exceeded by robbery of disabled soldiers. Now that the authorities are on the track, let them push their inquiries to the end. We expect some startling revelations, and perhaps some party scandal, but these will be endurable if followed by the stern punishment of the detected scoundrels.

Missouri Democrats propose to spare themselves the mortification of defeat by not exerting themselves to secure victory. The State Central Committee have issued an address, in which they deprecate the nomination of a regular party ticket, of whose success they can have no hope. The extent to which disfranchisement still exists is the assigned cause. Republicans, however, are divided in reference to the continuance of this proscriptive agency, many of the more influential leaders and journals demanding its abrogation, as well on the ground of expediency as of right. We are convinced that the longer the harsh measures which sprang out of the war excitement are continued, the more will the Republican Party ultimately suffer. Meanwhile, the Democratic Committee recommend their friends to constitute themselves a balance of power, and to use the votes at their command in strengthening liberal Republicans as against the proscriptionists.

The Star adds a timely and earnest protest against the abominable ice monopoly. It wisely suggests that the business should engage the attention of the better class of capitalists; and certainly the men who now hold it tightly in their greedy hands cannot be brought under this category. The loss and suffering which the Knickerbocker Company has inflicted upon the people of this City and its environs, can hardly be overestimated. One point which the Star urges is of great consequence. Whatever is done in the formation of new companies, should be done at once. The requisite timber for ice-houses has to be cut to order, and no time should therefore be wasted. The houses ought to be ready before November. Let us add one consideration, which is by no means to be forgotten. Some people say that a Summer like this can hardly recur, for years to come at all events. But the meteorologists predict a series of these dreadful seasons. The mere thought of another in 1871 ought to stimulate people to secure themselves against the disgusting rapacity of the Knickerbocker Ice Company.

Mr. CHILDERS has made a statement to the House of Commons, which, considering his position as First Lord of the Admiralty, must of course be accepted as correct. He says that England possesses forty iron-clads, all of great and some of tremendous power, and carrying 566 guns of seven tons weight and upward. The navy is manned by 42,000 men, and the coast guard and reserve are also available in case of necessity. There are sixteen iron-clads exercising in the English Channel, and a strong Mediterranean fleet is ordered to join them. The supply of coal in the depots abroad is unusually large, and the stores are adequate for any service. The French iron-clad fleet consists of thirty-one vessels, with 383 heavy guns. As one duty of the diplomatic services of all nations is to report upon the condition and changes of the military and naval forces of countries to which it is accredited, Mr. CHILDERS is no doubt well informed as to the naval strength of France. The facts as he gives them leaves no room for argument upon the relative strength of the two nations, in respect to what is now the most effective branch of naval service.

The extravagant prices brought by Mr. DICKENS' unfinished and best-loved work go to have satisfied people of running after the novelist's "relics." Mr. DICKENS knew what he was about when he ordered in his will that his property should be sold within a month of his death. He had not studied the disposition of the public for nothing. In the first excitement of feeling, an old inkstand will bring a fancy price, whereas, when the judgment gets a little cooler, people are inclined to look for the value of their money. The other day Mr. DICKENS' house was put up for sale. The auctioneer assured the company that the family sought to get at least twenty thousand pounds for it. No doubt upon the merit of Mr. DICKENS' works, and pitched on the manifest advantages of occupying a house in which the master had lived, and in which the greatest work had been produced, the property was bandied down for seven-and-a-third of the sum the auctioneer named—and even then the buyer was a member of the family, Mr. Charles Dickens, jun., who, it is to be hoped, will be able to keep it in the family for many years and years after the death of his father.

Gen. MOGTON, it appears, is another of the men who have learned how to set a bridle upon their tongues. He seldom speaks to anybody, and never converses. He knows seven languages, but it is a superfluous accomplishment, since he never uses one of them—a man, in fact, entirely after Mr. CARLYLE'S heart. Just before he started for the war, a great speculator in stocks met him, and desiring to get a hint or two for future use, said: "Well, General, how are things getting on?" "Thank you, Sir," was the reply, "my rye crops are getting on beautifully, but my potatoes are very backward." Things have been getting on better with the General since then.

HAYTI.

Salnave's Sons Planning a Revolution—Treaty of Alliance with San Domingo—an Anti-Slavery Movement.

From Our Special Correspondent.

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Friday, July 29, 1870.

A very small war-cloud appears on the political horizon, but it is impossible to say what may come of it. One thing, however, is certain, and that is, that the sons of the late SALNAVE and their friends would into nothing better than a revolution in Hayti, and the overthrow of the present Government; and it is more than hinted that President SAGE stands ready to aid the malcontents in any manner possible. President SAGE having learned that young SALNAVE was about making a movement at the Cape, detrimental to the peace of the country, immediately sent to him requesting that he would give his parole of honor that he would commit no act against the peace of Hayti, or else he should require him to leave the country. Young SALNAVE declined to make any promises as to his future conduct, and left, with his family, for Porto Plata, San Domingo. Another of SALNAVE'S sons, who has been living at Porto Plata, went to San Domingo City, in company with several Generals of his late father's army, and had an interview with President Baez, the purport of which is not positively known here. He then returned with his party to Porto Plata, where he met his brother and several Salnavists, who were waiting for him. The Government is watchful, and is prepared to meet any attempt to disturb the quiet which now reigns throughout the Republic.

PROPOSED ALLIANCE WITH SAN DOMINGO.

The Government here is desirous of being on friendly terms with the Dominican Government, if it is possible, and M. HANNEZIERE, formerly Minister to Paris, and other prominent friends of the Administration, are exerting themselves to arrange for a convention to make a treaty between Hayti and San Domingo for continued friendship and alliance. They think that, since the United States has declined to accept the treaty of annexation, the present is the proper time to prevent the recurrence of attempts to dispose of any part of this island to a foreign Power, and propose that a treaty be entered into between the Governments of Hayti and San Domingo. As both countries are desirous of stopping all further political dissension and civil wars, which have in the past so fatally divided them, and have seriously endangered the security and independence of the two nations, the treaty is to be for perpetual friendship and alliance, defensive and offensive, without restricting the individual rights of either of the two Republics, or disturbing their geographical or constitutional autonomy, or in any way interfering with the political rights of either nation. For the better carrying out of the alliance, the armies and navies of the Republics are to be consolidated as a Federal army and navy for the defence of the entire island. Free commerce between the two Republics is to be permitted in all goods or products, whether the same have been imported from abroad, or are of native origin. In 1861 M. THOUVENEL, the French Minister of Foreign Relations, advised a course somewhat similar to this, and assured the Haytian authorities that France would recognize such a treaty.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The Haytian war steamer Duchess, while going out of the harbor of Jeremie on the 20th, went ashore off the east part of the town and is now a total wreck. The weather was calm and fine at the time and all of her crew were saved.

Gen. ERICM, who took Port-au-Prince from SALNAVE, has been appointed Minister Plenipotentiary to the Courts of France, England and Spain, and has sailed from Jacmel by the British mail steamer.

On Wednesday last a solemn requiem mass, in honor of the memory of the late Gens. NORMEIL, HECTOR, and PETION FAUBERT, and all the victims of the Revolution, was celebrated at the cathedral in this city. The President, together with the American, French and English Ministers, the United States Consul, and a large number of officials, were present. They afterward repaired to the palace, where they were addressed and dined by the President.

There are a few cases of yellow fever here, but no more than is usual at this season.

A New Advertising Medium.

An exhibition was made last evening of the Daylight and Illuminated Advertising Medium, which has been put up, at a cost of $10,000, on the corner of Broadway and Twenty-third-street. The peculiar features of this medium are that it displays the announcement of the advertiser to most excellent advantage, both by day and night, and that it is located on one of the most public places on Broadway. A series of panels of war-tinted glass have been put up on the long two-story building on the corner of the streets above named, (forming, to all appearances, a third story thereto,) and on these panels are painted the advertisers' announcements. In the daytime these advertisements are quite conspicuous, but they show to still better advantage after dark, when they are illuminated by an improved gas-burner, the light of which sheds a brilliance over the whole width of Broadway. The new medium is a curiosity to the general public and a decided advantage to the advertisers. It is owned by a company, who have an office in the building.

Meeting at the Bar of Kings County.

The Supreme Court-room in the Kings County Court-house was filled, yesterday morning, with the most prominent members of the Bar from New-York and Brooklyn, friends of the late GRANVILLE T. JENKS, and the eyes of many of the associates of the deceased were dimmed with tears, as one after another rose to testify to his many excellent qualities, his acts of generosity, and his remarkable ability as a counsel.

Hon. JOHN A. LOTT was called upon to preside, and Ex-Judge BINNEYS, CALVIN C. PRATT and Judge TROY were chosen Vice-Presidents.

Appropriate remarks were made by Hon. Wm. C. DeWitt, J. J. Armstrong, of Queens County, Hon. Alexander McCue, Judge of the City Court, J. M. Van Cott, J. T. Williams, of Westchester County, Geo. Rice, Esq., and others.

The following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That we the members of the Bar of the Second District yield with profound sorrow to the event, which in the full vigor and maturity of his great powers, has taken from us and this community our beloved brother GRANVILLE T. JENKS.

Resolved, That in his decease the Bar has lost its most brilliant representative, the social circle a contributor to its enjoyment of inestimable value, and society so large a member, whose excellence of heart, together with his great and rare gifts as an orator, advocate and jurist, render his loss a public calamity.

In his conditions and affections, his love of truth and of fair dealing, he was fervid. His detestation of fraud and artifice was uncontrollable. The conviction that the merit of a case was on his side of it was necessary to awaken his powers. Then, indeed, he was invincible.

He was careful and conscientious in the selection of his cases. Seeking employment and large emolument unless he saw and felt that he was called upon to defend the right.

As a lawyer he was honorable and enthusiastic, as a friend generous and constant, as a citizen unexceptionable, liberal and loyal.

He held all his relations with a lofty yet simple pride which gave great ambiguity to his character. Calvin E. Pratt, Hon. Alexander McCue, Hon. James Gray, Gen. Crooke, Hon. Justice E. Rickards, Hon. James Smith, John Winslow, Esq., and Hon. Robert Comstock, were appointed a committee to prepare and cause to be placed in the Law Library in Brooklyn, a portrait of our deceased brother, and to collect the proceedings of this meeting to be published in extenso in the Times.

And also to be presented a copy of these proceedings, with expression of our earnest sympathy, to the family of the deceased.

Resolved, That we attend the funeral of our deceased brother in a body, and wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days.

CUBAN AFFAIRS.

ARRIVAL OF THE STEAM-SHIP MORRO CASTLE.

The steam-ship Morro Castle, which left Havana on the 13th, arrived at this port yesterday. We are indebted to the courtesy of the Purser, Mr. E. W. ALBERT, for the prompt delivery of our files and correspondence.

Interview with Gen. Castellanos—His Opinion of the Insurgent Commanders—Gen. Rodas and the Volunteers—Secretary Wan News—Miscellaneous Matters.

From Our Own Correspondent.

HAVANA, Saturday, Aug. 13, 1870.

The City of Havana has at present among its inhabitants a person who has figured very prominently in the insurrection, namely, Gen. FEDERICO CASTELLANOS, whose voluntary surrender to the Spanish troops at Puerto Principe I announced to you a few days ago. Gen. CASTELLANOS is a young man, of a fine and soldier-like appearance, looking every inch a gentleman. Your correspondent had the pleasure of an interview with him, and his statements of numbers and things in insurrection (and are very interesting, some of the information communicated by him being of the most recent date. The following is a resumé of the interview:

INTERVIEW.

Correspondent—You are Gen. FEDERICO CASTELLANOS of the Cuban Army?

Castellanos—Ex-General, if you please. Having surrendered, and no longer exercising any functions, I cannot admit of any title, nor do I wish to be considered as anything more than a man who has thrown off certain aims and ideas, and who retires from the country of his birth.

Correspondent—How was you treated by the Spaniards after your surrender?

Castellanos—I was treated uniformly well.

Correspondent—What truth is there in the report of Gens. FORTUN, ARTEAGA and PORRO having been assassinated?

Castellanos—FORTUN, the ARTEGAS and RODRIGUEZ were arrested by IGNACIO AGRAMONTE, and are now held as prisoners. An order for PORRO's arrest was also issued, but up to the latest date, say about the 15th of July, he had managed to avoid an arrest, but is hiding and fleeing from AGRAMONTE.

Correspondent—Gen. JORDAN has published a card in the New-York journals referring to a letter which he claims to have received from PORRO, wherein the latter assures him of his unwavering loyalty to the Cuban cause. What is your opinion of it, or what knowledge have you of this proposed surrender of PORRO's?

Castellanos—I firmly believe that PORRO acted in good faith whilst treating with the Spanish Government about his surrender, and I think he will carry out his agreement at the first opportunity. I don't know what he may have written to JORDAN.

Correspondent—Who commands the Cuban Army at present?

Castellanos—That is very hard to tell. AGRAMONTE is the head-figure, arrests persons, and don't care for anybody.

Correspondent—Is not Gen. CAVADA Commander-in-Chief, and where is he?

Castellanos—My latest information from CAVADA is that, after being escorted to Sancti Spiritus by BERMEZA, he made his way into the Cinco Villas.

Correspondent—Is CAVADA a good General?

Castellanos—I've never heard of him as being in any fight; wherever you hear of houses and plantations burning, there CAVADA commands.

Correspondent—Who are the fighting Generals?

Castellanos—We have had but one good fighting General; that was JORDAN; and he was also the only real honest one in that capacity. I like him very much, but you know the objection to foreigners, and especially to those to whom the term military adventurer may be applied. AGRAMONTE's trickery made JORDAN leave; had he remained, affairs would present a very different aspect for the Cubans now. The other fighters are MAGIN DIAS and BERMEZA, and both are very honest men.

Correspondent—But where do you leave AGRAMONTE?

Castellanos—There is no danger of him; AGRAMONTE don't like to hear bullets whistle.

Correspondent—Was QUESADA a fighter?

Castellanos—In the beginning, yes; but after he had formed a strong party for himself he was so no longer, but commanded the troops at a distance of seven leagues.

Correspondent—How would the return of QUESADA and JORDAN affect the insurrection?

Castellanos—If they send the men and arms, it will be as well, and perhaps better, if they remain away, although JORDAN would at least fight, and set the rest an example of honesty.

Correspondent—You seem to be very fond of JORDAN?

Castellanos—He made me a General; after he left, AGRAMONTE wanted me to resign and go into the ranks, treating me somewhat as QUESADA used to treat the negroes—a Captain today and a private to-morrow.

Correspondent—Speaking of negroes, how do they behave?

Castellanos—When the war broke out a battalion of colored troops was organized, and they behaved exceedingly well. QUESADA, with his guerrilla warfare, split them up into parties of twenty-five to fifty each, with its commander, whom he would transfer from the ranks to the command, and vice versa. This broke down all discipline among them, and since then no regularly organized band of blacks has existed.

Correspondent—That's not what I meant; are the blacks in the Cuban army or living within the Cuban lines on good terms with the whites, and are they brave and patriotic?

Castellanos—They are brave, if cruelty and bravado can be called bravery, and as to living on good terms, I am sure that before long Cubans and Spaniards will be compelled to unite in order to exterminate them. These blacks obey nobody's orders unless they feel so disposed, and it is too late and they are too far gone to try to bring them within the bounds of subordination.

Correspondent—How about CESPEDES?

Castellanos—He is somewhere about Bayamo. I hardly ever heard of him, and nobody cared where he was, or paid much attention to his doings. CESPEDES is played out, and has been powerless for some time.

Correspondent—Do you know Col. BYRNE?

Castellanos—Somewhat. Col. BYRNE's brigade consists of 180 men, well-mounted and well-armed.

Correspondent—Is this the largest single army which the Cubans have in the field?

Castellanos—No, Sir. Both BERMEZA and MAGIN DIAS have larger forces.

Correspondent—What do you consider the entire strength of the Cuban forces, both black and white, in the Central and Eastern Departments?

Castellanos—In the Central Department, about 12,000, and in the Eastern Department about 7,000. But these are matters I do not like to speak about. I have left the whole business, and although I no longer belong to the Cuban Army, I nevertheless have many friends and relatives among them. I have made up my mind not to say anything, and had you not been accompanied by my friend——, I should not have answered any questions.

RODAS AND THE VOLUNTEERS.

On Thursday evening the streets leading to the palace were thronged with thousands of people, making locomotion almost impossible, to witness the grand volunteer procession, which was to come from the Tacon Theatre, with the uniform and equipments of a volunteer, which were to be presented to Gen. RODAS. The different bands belonging to the Volunteer Corps, were united into one monster band, and when the procession passed in front of the palace it presented a grand appearance. The rank and file of the volunteers did not turn out, only the elite engineers and miners, band and officers. The band, composed of 275 instrumental performers, 100 buglers, and about 30 drummers, flanked by the sappers, who bore lighted torches, and the officers in the centre, formed in the Plaza, filling it to repletion. A hat, Winchester rifle, and uniform, were then presented by the commission to RODAS. A splendid table was spread in the saloons. Speeches were made by prominent filibusters and the commanders of the French and German Volunteer Legions, the band meanwhile playing in the Plaza.

[illegible] RODAS [illegible] bugbear of the volunteers, and particular stress was laid on the fact that RODAS had identified himself with the people, that is to say, according to their idea, with the Volunteers. But this is no proof that RODAS is altogether trusted by them. RODAS managed to get the volunteers out of the fort, and as a volunteer gravely remarked, while the celebration was going on, "RODAS is an old fox; he don't trust us, and we don't trust him. He is either trying to use us for purposes of his own, or else he is trying to disband us." There is something in this, but as regards disbandment at present, it is altogether out of the question. If peace should be restored, the volunteers will disband by themselves, as the respectable portion prefer selling cloth and sugar to carrying the musket, and the disreputable portion will give up in disgust when they see that the volunteer uniform is no longer a protection and a cloak under which they can insult and insult peaceable or inoffensive citizens. A body of men composed of such homogenous elements cannot last any length of time, without some very powerful motive to hold them together.

WAR NEWS.

The official news from the Eastern Department is of but little interest, the military operations being reduced to engagements of small importance in the jurisdictions of Bayamo, Giguani, Manzanillo and Cuba, which have resulted in the killing of a number of insurgents, taking of some prisoners, and the destruction of a few intrenched camps. Telegraphic communication has been re-established between Santiago de Cuba and Bayamo.

On the 3d Lieut. J. NIRO, stationed at Simeonina, marched about the neighboring districts, and having been attacked by a large force of the enemy, was compelled to retire after three hours' fighting, the Lieutenant and two soldiers being killed.

On the 17th, 24th and 26th the insurgents attacked and burned the plantations of San Agustin, San Rafael and San Diego, garrisoned by movilisted troops. The losses on both sides were insignificant.

During a heavy shower on the 26th, the column of SAN QUINTIN, near the Majaguaco River, at a place known as Hondon, took an entrenchment after an hour's fighting, killing seventeen insurgents, destroying 600 huts, and capturing two prisoners. The column had one killed and two wounded. The column under Commander MAESTRE surprised the insurgent chief BALDOQUIN and his party, killing them all. On the 2d inst., three columns, commanded by Col. CAMPILLO, took possession of the important position of Florida Blanca. No details are given of this feat of arms. The means of communication are improving, and tranquillity is being partially restored in the Eastern Department. A drove of cattle from Bayamo reached Santiago de Cuba under the protection of only fifteen armed men.

The Commander-in-Chief of the jurisdiction of Holguin, under date of the 30th ult., informs the Captain-General of the surrender of twenty-one insurgents, belonging to the bands of ANTOLIN AGUILERA and CORNELIO ROJAS, who lately had made their submission. Their arms were taken from them by other insurrect chiefs, who mistrusted them since their leaders had presented themselves to the authorities. On the 26th Lieut. LORES with sixty-five men of the Madrid battalion and some [illegible] attacked an entrenchment defended by three hundred insurgents, and, after half an hour's fighting, Lieut. LORES retired for want of ammunition, having two wounded, which means that the troops were driven off. On the 3d two columns combined at El Chago Hill, attacked and took possession, after an hour's fighting, of an entrenched camp defended by three hundred insurgents, who were dispersed and pursued for a long time with twenty-four killed—two Spaniards killed and four wounded.

The ex-insurgent chief ANTOLIN AGUILERA, with ten men who had lately surrendered, was commissioned to capture the insurgent chief PEDRO ARIAS, who almost every evening came into the city by stealth, and on the 5th captured ARIAS near the city. Being tried by Court-martial, ARIAS was executed on the 8th. ARIAS had a great reputation as a criminal, and his execution has produced a good effect. On the 1st, Col. MARIN, of the artillery, at Palmarito, killed fifteen insurgents and their leader, GRIU. The Spaniards had one wounded. On the 19th, Col. LAFUYA escorted a convoy from Baga to Guaimaro, and at the Guira and Tana Hills had three engagements with the insurgents, driving them off from three intrenched camps, and killing three. On the 24th, the Union Battalion destroyed, in the Consuegra Mountain and at Palo Quemado, many huts and a number of plantations. It is reported that the Cuban General JULIO PERALTA has been imprisoned by his own men for his lack of courage, as some say, and as others say for trying to leave the island with his acquired booty. This report, coming from Spanish sources, needs confirmation, the only reason for believing it being that nothing has been heard from PERALTA for some time.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The sanitary condition of the city remains unchanged; a large number of deaths from cholera, yellow-fever and small-pox are daily reported. The mortality among the shipping is not so great as in former years, owing to the small number of foreign vessels in port. The so-called aristocracy of the city has joined in the protest against the language of DIAZ QUINTERO. The Havana aristocracy is famous for its profligacy, ignorance and embarrassments, its condition as a general rule, forming a strong contrast to the middle and poorer classes. Every steamer from the central and eastern department brings numbers of sick and wounded soldiers and officers. Mr. ORTEGA has been appointed Chief of Police.

QUASIMODO.

State of Things at Cardenas—Indignation of the Volunteers—Miscellaneous Matters.

From Our Special Correspondent.

CARDENAS, Thursday, Aug. 11, 1870.

From a second-rate town in the Island of Cuba, the readers of the TIMES must not expect that anything of much importance can proceed. At this season of the year, every branch of business—particularly the sugar trade—is extremely dull, and the number of ships in port is small. Freights are low, and many of the shipmasters are leaving in ballast for the United States—hoping that the war in Europe may have brought American vessels into demand.

THE VOLUNTEERS DISMANT.

The volunteers throughout the whole island, but those of this place in particular, have lately been wrought up to a very high pitch of patriotic indignation by the statement of a Deputy in the Cortes that the volunteers of Cuba had disgraced the Spanish name, and that those in Cardenas had shot two Cubans who had been legally pardoned. As the latter statement was untrue, the volunteers lost no time in improvising discourses full of patriotic fire to convince the Spanish people of the honorable and disinterested services they have given to their country, and launching furious philippics and bitter anathemas against the unfortunate diputado—who merely asserted what he had read in a Madrid paper. The two young Cubans, alluded to as having been shot, are still in prison here. A short time ago an envoy of DE RODAS came here for the purpose of releasing them, but the threats of the volunteers deterred that official from executing the orders of the Captain-General.

STATE OF THE INSURRECTION.

The Spanish troops, according to a correspondence from Trinidad of 30th July, had buried eight hundred bodies, killing and capturing two hundred persons. The insurrection in this part of the island is pretty much as it was a year ago. The elections for representatives to the Spanish Cortes are to take place this month. I learn from good authority that FRANCISCO DE CORZO, of the New-York Herald, is to represent this jurisdiction. The rainy season is now half over; but little rain has fallen as yet. This city is very healthy just now. Cholera is raging at Regla and Regladiso, and a great many negroes and Chinamen have been carried off. Our American Consular Agent sailed for New-York in the latter part of July. Here we want a man who is not afraid to represent the dignity of the United States. At present there is the utmost desideratum.

OBSERVADOR.

POLITICAL.

SITUATION IN THE SOUTH.

Republican Prospects—Whittemore's Withdrawal Compulsory.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—Accounts from various sources at the South received here, show that the Republicans have a prospect of success in most of the reconstructed States, although they are involved in difficulties in many localities, through the bitter contests which have sprung up between the different aspirants for office. Senator SAWYER, who passed through here today, on his way to Ohio, speaks confidently of the situation in South Carolina, notwithstanding the dissensions which have been raised by some of the mere cooperate office-seekers. It is stated here that WHITTEMORE's withdrawal from the contest for re-election was really compulsory, he having been moved thereto by fears of a criminal indictment, if he persisted in pressing his claims.

Democratic State Convention at Georgia—A Platform, but No Ticket.

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 17.—The Democratic State Convention met today. Nearly every county in the State was represented. Gen. A. H. COLQUITT was elected President. The utmost harmony prevailed, and the Convention unanimously adopted a platform, as follows:

"That the Democratic Party of Georgia stand upon the Constitution of the United States as the Union, bringing into special prominence as applicable to the present extraordinary condition of the country, the fundamental doctrine that the rights of the States and of their citizens are in equality with each other are an indivisible part of our political system; that in the ensuing election the Democratic Party invite everybody to cooperate with them in a unanimous effort to carry the State of Georgia in the elections to be held on the 1st, the present usurping and corrupt administration of the State Government, by placing in power men who are true to the principles of the Democratic Party, and to the Union; and, as a consequence, the restoration of public affairs; that whatever policy others may pursue, we pledge ourselves to do all in our power to secure a free and fair election by all who are qualified to vote under the existing laws."

The Convention then adjourned sine die.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Formation of a Prohibitory Party—Wendell Phillips Nominated for Governor—The Resolutions and State Ticket—A Lively Canvass in Prospect—Senator Wilson's Prospects.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

BOSTON, Aug. 17.—At a meeting of the State Temperance Alliance held in this city on the 2d of July last, a committee, consisting of, among others, Ex-Governor ELIPHALET TRASK, of Springfield; H. D. CUSHING, of Boston; J. H. CROSMAN, of Lynn; GEO. F. CLARK, of Stowe; GEO. S. BALL, of Upton, and J. H. ORNE, of Marblehead, was appointed to prepare a call for a Delegate Convention for the purpose of organizing an Independent Prohibitory Party. In pursuance of that call, a convention at the Melonson, this morning, at half past—o'clock, was called to order by WILLIAM WELLS BROWN, a well-known colored man. A permanent organization was soon effected by the choice of JOHN I. BAKER, of Beverley, as President, with the customary lists of Vice-Presidents and Secretaries. Mr. BAKER's address, on taking the chair, was short, and devoted to a simple statement of the purpose of the Convention, which he characterized as one of the most important ever held in the State. He expressed confidence in the power of the friends of prohibition to carry the State at the Fall election, and closed with a few words of hopeful advice.

DELEGATES.

The report of the Committee on Credentials showed that about one hundred and fifty towns were represented by about eight hundred delegates. A motion was made to invite all in favor of an independent political party, on the basis of prohibition, to take part in the Convention, and after considerable debate it was adopted. This was equivalent to shutting out all such as might be in favor of forming a new party, provided the nominations of the regular Republican State Convention should prove unsatisfactory, but who were averse to quitting the Republican ranks until it was clear that a temperance candidate could not be obtained in any other way. Judge CROSBY, of Lowell, one of the Vice-Presidents, did not favor such summary action, and presented his resignation, which was accepted after a sharp debate.

RESTRICTED DEBATE.

At 11½ o'clock the Melonson became so crowded that the Convention adjourned to Tremont-Temple. A large body of the delegates evidently wished for some discussion of the assertions contained in the call, but most of them were not recognized by the Chairman as delegates, and so all debate was at once choked off. Committees on Finance and Resolutions were then appointed, the Chairman of the latter being Rev. A. A. MINER, D. D.

PHILLIPS' NOMINATION.

At this point Mr. H. D. CUSHING, of this city, moved that WENDELL PHILLIPS be nominated for Governor, by acclamation, and the motion was carried unanimously, and with great applause. To the inquiry if he would accept, the reply was, "No doubt of that."

DRAWING THE PARTY LINES.

Several changes were here made in the list of Vice-Presidents. Some additions were made, and the names of ROBERT FRENCH, of New-Bedford, and two others, were stricken off, they not being prepared to take an irrevocable leave of the Republican Party. Mr. THOMPSON, of Walpole, then entertained the delegates with a short speech devoted to criticism of the Republican Party and of its grand ringleaders, (as he called Mr. W. S. ROBINSON,) "Warrington."

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The Convention came together for the afternoon session at 2 o'clock. A motion that Mr. PHILLIPS be requested to address the Convention at 3½ o'clock was withdrawn, after it was said that Mr. PHILLIPS was out of town, in attendance at the funeral of a nephew, and could not be present. Rev. Dr. MINER, from the Committee on Resolutions, then reported the following, which was circulated through the Convention as the platform of the Temperance Party:

RESOLUTIONS.

1. Resolved, That the policy of the State toward the liquor traffic affects every political interest; that it affects production, expenditure, taxation, pauperism, prostitution, the peace of the streets, the repression of crime, the prosperity of the industrious, the interests of labor, the purity of the ballot, the success if not the existence of Republican government.

2. Resolved, That a policy which affects every political interest, must be decided by the ballot, and should by common consent have precedence of other issues.

3. Resolved, That we can have no hope from a divided party organization (one authorizing the licensing of prohibition; that a divided party can neither decide for license nor for prohibition; that it can neither pronounce for the life nor for the death of the dram-shop system, and that its opposing forces neutralize each other so that it can neither adopt any policy, enacte any laws, nor make any issue on this question.

4. Resolved, That there can be no greater peril than party competition for the liquor vote; that any party not openly opposed to the traffic will engage it into competition, and that the river of ruin, criminal classes will darken the public morals, the purity of the ballot and every object of good government for party success.

5. Resolved, That this corrupt competition must be coexistent with the life and political power of the traffic; therefore, an issue with it is the only remedy, and no such issue can be made without independent political action.

6. Resolved, therefore, That as a political party, we seek a political object; that we aim at the extinction of the entire dram-shop system, National and State, because it is dangerous and injurious to every interest of the Commonwealth.

7. Resolved, That while we recognize the importance of other reforms and other political measures, we postpone them at present to make party issues; we propose our first work is to place the State in unequivocal opposition to the dram-shop system, and then until that object shall be secured, we will not be diverted from it by other issues.

8. Resolved, That the abolition of slavery, and that the preservation of our national union having been accomplished, no issues may have the country equal to that of prohibition; and we therefore invite our fellow-citizens of all political parties to unite with us in giving this great reform a complete victory.

9. Resolved, That we invoke the blessing of Almighty God upon the proceedings of this body.

Rev. Dr. MINER then defended the resolutions in a speech about twenty minutes long, which was warmly applauded. He was hopeful of the success of the party, and had little doubt of the election of Mr. PHILLIPS. Hon. JOHN C. PARKS, of Dedham, followed with a short address, and the resolutions were then adopted seriatim.

STATE COMMITTEE AND TICKET.

A State Central Committee of eleven at large and one from each Senatorial District was then nominated and elected. The following names were then reported as candidates for the other State offices:

Lieutenant-Governor—Hon. SYLVESTER TRASK, of Springfield.

Secretary of State—Hon. GEORGE S. BALL, of Upton.

Treasurer—Hon. JOHN J. [illegible], of Bayeux.

Attorney-General—WHITING GRISWOLD, of Greenfield.

Auditor—LYMAN W. DAGGETT, of Attleborough.

FURTHER RESOLVE AND DEBATE.

The following additional resolutions were reported and adopted after a few short speeches:

Resolved, That in adopting WENDELL PHILLIPS as our standard bearer, we place in nomination a fearless temperance reformer, a fearless champion of truth, a brilliant orator, a patriotic citizen, and a true man, and we believe that the Gubernatorial chair, which has been graced by so many honored and eminent citizens of Massachusetts, has never been more honorably filled than it would be by the man of our unanimous choice.

Resolved, That the other names upon our ticket are of gentlemen well known to the whole community of honorable record, and of tried and true principles, and we commend them also to the hearty and united support of all good citizens of the polls.

After authorizing the State Central Committee to fill any vacancies in their own body and on the ticket, should any occur, the Convention adjourned sine die.

EFFECT OF THE MOVEMENT.

The movement which this Convention inaugurates must give the vice-pullers of the Republican Party a good deal of uneasiness. Mr. PHILLIPS will contest the labor as well as the temperance vote, and the only course left open for the Republican Party seems to be the declaration of an out and out license policy, which will be a rather awkward thing to do, with Gov. CLAFLIN at the head of its ticket. It really appears today as though Mr. PHILLIPS has quite as good a chance of being our next Governor as any man that either the Republican or the Democratic Party can bring forward. In case he is successful, it means the return of Hon. HENRY WILSON to the United States Senate for another six years; if he fails, Mr. BUTLER, or somebody else, will surely be Mr. SUMNER's colleague.

OAKHAM.

THE LABOR CONVENTION.

Announcement of Committees—Resolutions on the Cherokee Land Question Adopted—Report on Travellick's Address.

CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 17.—In the Labor Congress, this morning, the following Committees were announced:

On Ways and Means—Messrs. Campbell of Illinois, Donahue of New-York, Miss Walbridge of Massachusetts, Brady of Pennsylvania, Delano of California, Harrigan and O'Fay of Indiana, Coffin of Washington.

On City Organization—Messrs Cogswell of Illinois, Cummings of Massachusetts, Davis of Ohio, Gilchrist of Kentucky, William of Illinois.

The resolutions on the Cherokee Land question, introduced yesterday, came up and elicited debate, which was stormy at times. A motion to amend the resolutions by substituting the words "stand by," for the word "strike," were carry area the settlers to "strike for their homes," was defeated with other amendments offered, and the original resolutions were adopted. Mr. McLEAN, of Boston, offered resolutions repudiating everything looking to a repudiation of the National Debt, welcoming immigration, and declaring that all men should receive the protection of our laws, but denying the right of capitalists to import human freight for the purpose of lessening wages and degrading labor, favoring a general adoption of the eight hour system, protesting against further land grants to private companies for railways or other purposes, and declaring that the time is ripe for the formation of a distinct political party in the interest of the working men. The resolutions were referred to the Committee on Resolutions. President TRAVELLICK's address was submitted, with a report indorsing it, only so far as relates to the Chinese emigration question. Mr. QUINN, of the Committee, dissented from the majority report so far as it relates to the money and land question. Another member of the Committee dissented from its declaration on the subject of forming a political party.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Temperance Party Convention at Syracuse—A State Ticket Nominated—County Convention at Portland, Me.—Congressional Nomination in Illinois.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Aug. 17.—The Anti-Dram-shop State Convention met here today. The attendance was small. A long and very radical address was adopted as the platform of the party. The following nominations, to be supported at the November election, were made: For Governor, MYRON H. CLARK; Lieutenant-Governor, C. C. LEIGH, of New-York; Controller, JAMES H. BRONSON, of Amsterdam; Inspector of State Prisons, H. WILCOX, of Tompkins; Canal Commissioner, JOHN R. EDWARDS, of Oswego, and W. W. DOWD, of Washington County. The State Committee appointed last December was continued.

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 17.—The Advertiser estimates that of the 151 delegates in the Republican County Convention here today, 110 are in favor of CHAMBERLAIN. The balance are classed as opposed to himior "indifferent."

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 17.—The Democrats of the Ninth Illinois District, yesterday, nominated THOMAS W. MCNEELY for Congress.

Renomination of Hon. John A. Bingham for Congress.

WHEELING, West Va., Aug. 17.—At the Congressional Convention held at Cambridge, Guernsey County, Ohio, in the Sixteenth Ohio District today, Hon. JOHN A. BINGHAM was nominated for Congress on the third ballot.

GENERAL NOTES.

The Pittsburg (Penn.) Gazette says that Gen. JAMES S. NEGLEY will, in all probability, receive a renomination to Congress from that district by the unanimous vote of the approaching Republican Convention. Thus far no other candidate has been named for the office.

Col. CERBS, the candidate of the Democracy in the Thirteenth Illinois Congressional District, on accepting the nomination, said: "I do not want the negro to vote for me. The negro would be a fool to vote the Democratic ticket. Let him stand by his friends. The Republican Party gave him all his rights. Let him stand by that party.

A special dispatch to the Washington Chronicle from Florence, S. C., says: "The Republican Convention in WHITTEMORE's district nominated State Senator JOSEPH H. RAINEY, (colored,) both for the unexpired term of the Forty-first and the full term of the Forty-second Congress. WHITTEMORE's candidate only got nine out of thirty votes on an informal ballot."

The Boston Post says there is much to be done in Massachusetts to place the Democratic ranks in the most effective position for a vigorous contest. The home issues are not removed, and the national issues are matter of notoriety. There is a large liberal sentiment in the State that seeks safe direction, so that it may tell on the local and general result. This year, besides a Legislature and a State ticket, six Congressmen are to be elected and a United States Senator is to be chosen. There is enough in this to challenge the personal attention of every citizen.

The Erie Dispatch of the 16th inst. says: At the fullest Democratic Convention assembled in this county for years, it was decided yesterday to devote the party to the work of disorganization. Aspirants for the empty honors of Democratic nominations must stand back. The race is to be open to Republicans; the old and spavined Democratic stagers must keep clear of the track and the party is to stake its fortunes on such imported stock as will not drive in Republican harness.

A correspondent of the Boston Advertiser, writing from New-Hampshire, says the Republicans of the State are, as heretofore, united and enthusiastic. While they will doubtless refuse to incorporate in their platform a distinctive prohibition or constabulary plank, they will manifest a willingness to array the organization on the side of practical temperance as a moral conviction and a personal duty, but beyond this point they will not probably be induced to go. The names mentioned most prominent in connection with the Republican Gubernatorial nomination are those of Rev. JAMES PIKE of Newmarket, Hon. HORTON D. WALKER of Portsmouth, Hon. B. J. COLE of Gilford, and Hon. J. B. LADD of Exeter, all of whom are uncompromising Republicans and staunch temperance men.

SARATOGA RACES.

Fifth Day of the Summer Meeting.

Charlotte Wins the Handicap, Without Fifty the Two-Year-Old Race, and Midday the First Handicap.

From Our Special Reporter.

GRAND UNION HOTEL, SARATOGA, Wednesday, Aug. 17, 1870.

There was a slight falling off in the attendance yesterday, showing that the racing was losing some portion of its interest as the meeting drew to a close. Still, the grand stand presented a superb appearance when viewed from the lawn below, the elegant and many-hued toilettes of the ladies lending an attractive charm to the scene. The sun's warm rays were agreeably tempered by a delightfully cool breeze, thus increasing the enjoyment of the visitors. The course was in splendid order, and as it is confessedly one of the fastest tracks in America, unusually good time was looked for.

The first race was a free handicap, dash of a mile, and brought out a good field of horses, among them Alice Vela and Judge Curtis, both winners at this meeting. These two monopolized the favor of the betting men, but they caught it heavily, for Charette, a complete outsider, sailing at the rate of 90 in pools of $1,800, beat the two favorites, who ran second and third.

The second race, for two-year olds, was also a grievous disappointment to the knowing ones, and the fielders again had occasion to rejoice, for Mr. WITHERS' colt beat the favorite, on whose winning $800 to $100 was currently offered.

The third race, a dash of two miles, was the only race of the day won by the favorite, Midday, who had won the three-year-old race on Monday. She was again successful in landing the large stake her stable this time trusted her with. On the previous race, they lost their money by laying against her, under the impression that she was amiss.

THE ONE-MILE DASH.

This was a free handicap for all ages for a purse of $600, and had six runners—KEENE RICHARDS' gr. c. Charette, 4 years, 91 pounds; J. O'DONNELL's ch. h. Judge Curtis, 5 years, 115 pounds; HUNTER & TRAVERS' ch. c. Southlock, 3 years, 81 pounds; J. J. O'FALLON's br. f. Alice Vela, 4 years, 106 pounds; J. MCCONNELL's b. c. Chillicothe, 3 years, 90 pounds, and R. W. WALDEN's ch. h. Sanford, 5 years, 108 pounds. The betting on this race, especially between Judge Curtis and Alice Vela, was heavy, while Southlock had a strong party backing him on account of the favorable weight, 81 pounds, at which he was handicapped. Judge Curtis sold for $600, Alice Vela $315, Southlock $135, field $140. Alice Vela was first off, with Judge Curtis second, Southlock third, and Chillicothe fourth, and in this order they ran to the quarter-pole, where Alice Vela was a length in the lead. Along the backstretch Judge Curtis got on even terms with Alice Vela, Charette four lengths behind. At the half-mile pole the two leaders were still lapped, Charette third, Chillicothe fourth, Southlock fifth, and Sanford last. Alice Vela gained on the lower end, and led Judge Curtis a length into the homestretch. The latter horse appeared confined to the pair, when suddenly Charette came with a terrific rush half way up, caught and passed Judge Curtis, challenged Alice Vela, and won in the last few strides on the post by three parts of a length, Judge Curtis a length behind Alice Vela, Southlock fourth, Chillicothe fifth, and Sanford last. Time—1:46½. It is highly probable that if too much use had not been made of the favorite in raking with Alice Vela, that Judge Curtis would have been declared the winner. The low estimation in which the winner was held may be judged from the fact that in pools of $2,600 he sold only for $60.

PRESS HANDICAP, SECOND RACE, one mile; conditions as of handicaps of third day.

A. KEENE RICHARDS' gr. c. Charette, 3 years, by Lightning, dam Lorette, 91 pounds..... 1
J. J. O'Fallon's br. m. Alice Vela, 4 years, by Vandal, dam Filagree, 106 pounds..... 2
John O'Donnell's ch. h. Judge Curtis, 5 years, by Lexington, dam Lilla, 115 pounds..... 3
Hunter & Travers' ch. c. Southlock, 3 years, by Bolivar, dam Fanny Washington, 81 pounds..... 4
Joseph McConnell's br. c. Chillicothe, 3 years, by Lexington, dam Lilla, 90 pounds..... 5
R. W. Walden's ch. h. Sanford, 5 years, by Uncle Vic, dam Daily Carbine, 108 pounds..... 6
Time—1:46½.

THE TWO-YEAR-OLD HANDICAP.

This was the second race, for a purse of $600, one mile, and four started for it—D. THOMAS' b. f. Aurelia, 86 pounds; D. D. WITHERS' br. f. by Leamington, dam Bubble, 98 pounds; KEENE RICHARDS' b. c. by Knight of St. George, dam by Glencoe, 90 pounds, and his ch. f. by Leamington, dam Silly Lewis, 87 pounds. The pool betting was good on WITHERS' filly took the lead, with the Silly Lewis filly second and Aurelia last, and they ran thus to the quarter, where WITHERS' filly was half a length in front, RICHARDS' colt third and Aurelia last. The latter became third on the backstretch, and the filly maintained her leading position past the half-mile pole and along the lower stretch, turning into the last quarter half a length before RICHARDS' filly. Coming up to the stretch, Aurelia came with a rush half way up, passed RICHARDS and challenged WITHERS; but the latter, after a struggle, finished, winner by half a length, RICHARDS' filly third and the colt last. Time—1:45¾.

SECOND RACE.—Handicap, purse $600; for two-year olds; one mile; conditions as of above handicap.

D. D. Withers' br. f. by Leamington, dam Bubble, 98 pounds..... 1
R. G. Tanner's b. f. Aurelia, by War Dance, dam Dixie, 86 pounds..... 2
A. Keene Richards' ch. f. by Lexington, dam Silly Lewis, 87 pounds..... 3
A. Keene Richards' b. c. by Knight of St. George, dam the dam of John Kilcour, 90 pounds..... 4

THE TWO-MILE RACE.

The two-mile race was for a purse of $700, a handicap for all ages, and had six runners: Tom Woolfolk, 97 pounds; Carrie Atherton, 108 pounds; R. P. Connolly, 100 pounds; Midday, 87 pounds; Abdel Kader, 94 pounds, and Climax, 115 pounds. Dewitt's entry, Midday and Abdel Kader, sold for $300; Carrie Atherton for $225, Connolly $120, Climax $225, and Tom Woolfolk $20. Midday, with Connolly and Carrie Atherton alternately second, made the running from end to end, and won cleverly by two lengths, Carrie Atherton and Connolly two lengths for second place; Tom Woolfolk fourth, Climax fifth, and Abdel Kader last. Time—3:30.

THIRD RACE.—Free handicap, purse $700, for all ages; two miles; conditions as above.

Thos. W. Doswell's b. f. Midday, 3 years, by Eclipse, dam Nimette, 87 pounds..... 1
A. Keene Richards' ch. f. Carrie Atherton, 4 years, by Lexington, dam Glycera, 108 pounds..... 2
John O'Donnell's b. h. R. P. Connolly, 5 years, by Lexington, dam Lucy Fowler, 105 pounds..... 3
Hunter & Travers' ch. c. Tom Woolfolk, aged, by Lexington, dam Florida, 97 pounds..... 4
R. W. Walden's br. h. Climax, aged, by Baltrowzie, dam Jewel, 115 pounds..... 5
Thos. Kinney's b. c. Abdel Kader, 3 years, by Australian, dam Rescue, 111 pounds..... 6
Time—3:30.

This afternoon Lucy and George Wilkes trotted for a purse of $1,000, mile heats, best three in five, in harness, on the Glen Mitchell half-mile track. Lucy won in three straight heats. Time—2:37½, 2:38, 2:37¾.

There are four races to-morrow, the last day of the meeting: A hurdle-race, with Oysterman, Biddy Malone, Sir Joseph and Morris; a three-quarter-mile dash for Horses that have not won at the two meetings, with eight entries; a four-mile race with Helmbold, Pat Malloy and Carrie Atherton; and the Consolation Stakes, and three quarters, with Glenely, Alice Vela and Tom Woolfolk. Oysterman, Helmbold and Glenely are the favorites in the respective races.

Bay-Street Affray on a Barge.

When the barge William Myers was off Governor's Island, last evening, an affray occurred on board which will probably result in the death of one of the parties concerned in it. The First Ward Boatmen's Guard had been upon a picnic, and had received the pound stated on their return to the City, when a quarrel arose between THOMAS MALONEY, an engineer employed at the corner of Broadway and Bleecker-street, and DANIEL HOLLEY, alias Yankee Hankins, which ended in the latter's stabbing his antagonist in the right lung and the stomach, causing wounds which are considered dangerous. Upon the arrival of the barge at a North River pier, the assailant jumped ashore and escaped. But he is known to the Twenty-seventh Precinct Police, and will probably be arrested. The wounded man was taken to the Park Hospital by Officer THOMPSON, of the Twenty-seventh Precinct. The origin of the affray has not been ascertained by the Police.

Clever Capture of a Burglar—Recovery of Stolen Property.

Detective REILLEY, of the Fifteenth Precinct, last evening arrested one ROBERT FIRSON at No. 417 East Houston-street, who is charged with having committed two daring burglaries. Some time ago he was employed as a workman in ROCKWOOD's photographic gallery, No. 841 Broadway, but being discharged he soon after made a forcible entry during the night time into the place and secured property valued at $200, which he carried away. From the rear of ROCKWOOD's gallery, he made an entrance into the premises of JOSEPH ISAACS, diamond broker, No. 37 East Thirteenth-street, which he rifled of a gold watch, a number of opera-glasses and other articles, altogether valued at $150, with which he also escaped. The case being given to Detective REILLEY, he soon traced the Rockwood burglary to FIRSON, and recovered all of the stolen property; but it is alleged that [illegible] prevailed, and for a consideration promised, ROCKWOOD declined to make any complaint against the culprit, who therefore escaped punishment for that crime. But in making the entrance into the diamond broker's the burglar had cut his hand in breaking a pane of glass, and finding some of the paper in which ROCKWOOD's articles were wrapped, REILLEY suspected that FIRSON was guilty of the other offense, and arresting him, found all of ISAACS' property in his possession. The prisoner was locked up in the Mercer-street Police Station and will be arraigned,

A SUMMER RETREAT.

Life by the Lake-Side—Sensible and Sports in Orange County—Primitive Natives and Rural Pleasures.

From Our Special Correspondent.

GREENWOOD LAKE, Wednesday, Aug. 10, 1870.

Of all the divisions of water on the globe, lakes seem to be regarded with especial fondness by the New-Yorker, who wishes to find "some boundless contiguity of shade" where bricks and mortar are not, and where gold, stocks and the state of the market are things unknown. He seems to tolerate seas only because they are large lakes, ponds because they are small lakes, and approve of rivers as they are the supplies or outlets of lakes. These appear to attract all visitors. The mountains have their hundreds, the sea-shore its thousands, but the lakes have their tens of thousands of admirers. They are especially attractive as affording most of the pleasures of the sea-shore without any of its inconveniences. One can bathe and laugh at the idea of an undertow, and can emerge triumphant, without having his eyes, mouth, ears and nose stopped with sand. The bare, monotonous flat of the sea-shore is replaced by bold and attractive scenery, and one can take long walks, drives or mountain clambers without once losing sight of water.

Greenwood Lake, where I am at present sojourning, lies in the southern part of Orange County, New-York. It is a beautiful sheet of water, about ten miles in length and of varying width. From its edge rise abruptly on every side steep hills. In this natural basin lies the lake, like a watery gem in its setting of wooded hills. From the top of one of these ridges the whole valley lies spread out to the view. On the right boldly rises Mount Sugar Loaf, while on the left lie Mount Adam and Mount Eve in contrast like that even Chicago could not sunder. Gazing over a wide stretch of rolling and beautifully-diversified country, the eye encounters the Shawangunk range, while, sweeping along the horizon just above it, may be seen on a clear day a faint blue mass which is pronounced to be the Catskills. In the depths of the lake are to be found all the representatives of the finny tribe that in such places most do congregate. King Pickerel, however, is the mighty potentate in that watery realm, and is at once the dread of smaller fry, and the object of the sportsman's anxious solicitude and care. The trolling-spoon glitters daily in the pellucid waters, the genuine disciple of ISAAK WALTON broils daily on his raft, while the restless fisherman paddles hither and thither, all in the hope of getting a friendly recognition from his finny majesty. Once in a while a large mess is caught. A gentleman, a day or two before our arrival, had caught sixty pickerel in one day's fishing. It is a most remarkable circumstance that these large messes are almost always caught the "day before yesterday," or at some equally indefinite period. No one has ever been known to catch them, no one has seen them when caught, but a day or two after the news is promulgated. We do not mean to insinuate anything. We merely chronicle this as a plesiotorial phenomenon.

This is, indeed, a land flowing with milk, if not with honey. The reign of King Cotton at the South, or Prince Erie at the North, is nothing to the way the mild-eyed kine exert their gentle sway over the inhabitants of Orange County. It is "milk, milk, everywhere," and if you are in some boarding-houses, you may aptly conclude, "nor any drop to drink." Creameries, as they are called, for the reception of milk, are established everywhere, and "from morn to noon, from noon to dewy eve," the traffic continues. All day long a ceaseless stream of wagons, in all stages of dilapidation and decay, drawn by all varieties of quadrupeds, from the sleek, well-fed household favorite, to the starved, bony hack, conveys to its destination what a friend, observing a bovine, whose candal appendage had been somewhat abbreviated, called the "lack-tail fluid." In this part of the country "the cattle on a thousand hills" become a reality and an eminently useful one.

The inhabitants of the immediate vicinity of Greenwood Lake, are decidedly of a primitive class. A little patch of ground and the lake, are all they have to depend upon for subsistence. Living, as many of them do, a whole family in a two-roomed cabin, they are decidedly a social problem. A locomotive to them is a hidden mystery; a daily newspaper, or, in fact, any newspaper at all, "a consummation devoutly to be wished" but seldom attained. Still, rude as they are, they have many of the traits that civilization cannot give. Every article of furniture is scrupulously clean, the old moss-grown well is hospitably full, and a call for a drink of cold water will bring you their only glass polished to a crystal brightness, filled with water, beside which the nectar of the gods would be insipid. They are, perhaps, behind the age. They probably know little and care little as to what BISMARCK is plotting behind that high German brow; what he will tell KING WILLIAM to do next, or what the Prince of WALES is doing in Denmark. They do not know how CHARLES DICKENS died, and are, perhaps, ignorant of the fact that such a man ever lived. They do not know who won the Queen's Cup, or was victorious in the ocean race. They have no idea what Gen. GRANT is doing at Long Branch, or Commodore VANDERBILT at Saratoga—in short, how the world is moves on in spite of Papal infallibility.

The hotel accommodations at the Lake are excellent. The Windermere Cottage is shortly to be enlarged to satisfy the demands of guests, and the Brandon House is well filled. The sojourners at these two houses bear, of course, much of the character of Summer guests at every place of resort. There are a few who seek enjoyment and health, and find both. Then, again, there are those young ladies who never appear out of doors until 4 o'clock in the afternoon, and then in a most elaborate toilet; and there are those young gentlemen who spend the most of their days in the billiard or bar-rooms—all flattering themselves that they are gaining health the most robust. There is, of course, the maneuvring mamma with her tribe of marriageable daughters; the young "catches" just coming into capillary bloom; the traveled tourist, who has been everywhere; the heiress and the adventurer—all are here, and every fortnight papa runs up from the hot, dusty City, gets a whiff of fresh air, and returns like a broker to his gold.

To those who wish a quiet but thoroughly pleasant place of resort, we cannot too highly recommend Greenwood Lake. D. D. L.

A Veteran Widower—He Goes to Meet His Affianced and Marries Another Girl—A Touching Prayer.

The Kokomo, Ind., Tribune, of a recent date, has the following:

On Wednesday last a wagon arrived in this city from the neighborhood of Middle Fork, containing the following persons: MILTON BIRELEY, an engineer in the saw-mill of a Mr. MORRISON, LUCINDA and MARY ANN MORRISON, and Mr. and Mrs. DONOHUE, the latter a sister of Mr. BIRELEY. The object of the visit was to meet Miss LIZZIE LANKER, of Richmond, Ind., to whom Mr. BIRELEY was to be married. Having implicit confidence in the sincerity and honor of Miss LANKER, he went to the Clerk, EL WINSLOW, proved the age of Miss LANKER and secured license. The party at the proper time went to the train, as they say, but failed to see Miss LANKER. BIRELEY was not to lose a wife in this way, so he proposed to LUCINDA MORRISON and was accepted. He came down town, went to the Clerk again, returned the license, and upon the statement of himself, his sister, and the sister of his sweet LUCINDA, he obtained a new license. The party then sought and found Rev. Mr. PUCKETT, a New light preacher lately removed here, who bound the twain in the happy bonds of wedlock. The entire party, happy as so many morning stars, especially MILTON and LUCINDA, struck out for Middle Fork. But LIZZIE LANKER had arrived here from Richmond, and could not understand why her MILTON was so cold. She sought him, but found him not. LIZZIE was going to see about it. She found a wagon going to New London. On this she took passage. At that place she secured a Mr. FUNK, a churn peddler, to drive her to Middle Fork. She arrived at DONOHUE's ten minutes after the other party had reached that place. When she appeared before the door, BIRELEY appeared in the door, and as soon as he saw who she was, he turned into something that looked like a petrified man. For a time he could not move a muscle, but his eyes, or once his opened mouth. LIZZIE settled with Mr. FUNK and then walked in. MILTON regained his senses and introduced the visitor to his wife. LIZZIE took the matter more coolly at first than could have been expected. She talked kindly, heard and made explanations, and said: "Let us pray." The entire party knelt. Miss LANKER with trembling voice uttered the following prayer:

"Our Father, who art in heaven, Thou who hearest for The children, who hearest the fatherless, the orphan, and the unprotected, hear, pray, pray, on me. O, Lord, pity my sorrows, take away the sting of this infliction. Have mercy on this new wife. While I thank Thee, O, God, for my deliverance from such a fickle husband, from such a pitiable creature, I would ask Thy blessing upon his new wife. Give her grace to bear the affections of such a husband. Keep him from drink, and may he become a better man. Watch over me, our Father, and preserve me from ever again approaching so nearly to utter ruin. Give me strength to return to my home and receive my sex from such men. Wake me and keep me in Thy love. Amen."

After this prayer LIZZIE, who had appeared to be cool, showed signs of intense excitement and fainted. She was watched throughout the night, was kindly cared for, but was not able until after two days to return to her home. She left this city on Friday for Richmond. Mrs. BIRELEY has since been sick, and is still in a dangerous condition. MILTON BIRELEY has now his fourth wife, although he is not above thirty-five years old. He was in town on Monday looking for a divorce. His wife's brother, in whose employ he was, not being pleased with the condition of things, has discharged him. The above is not a fancy sketch, but true, as we learn it from the best authority.

CURRENT NOTES.

Hillsborough, N. H., is to have a musical convention on the 27th inst.

The value of real estate at Springfield, Mass., is estimated at $21,343,000.

The work on the new Capitol at Albany is being rapidly pushed forward.

The citizens of Richmond, Va., suffer from a scarcity of ice.

The first steamer on the Staunton (Va.) River was launched on the 19th inst.

The State Prison in Jefferson, Ind., has twenty-one prisoners who are serving out life sentences.

The handsome Marquis of Sligo, Ireland, has caused a serious palpitation of the feminine heart at the "Hub."

There are nine pin factories in Rhode Island, which turn out six million points per diem. Happy State.

The strike of the miners at Kingston, Ill., has ended in the return of the strikers to work at the Company's terms.

A poor baker of Lynn, Mass., was robbed of $1,500 a few days back by a sneak-thief, who called at his house during a temporary absence.

The Eighth Jewish Synagogue at Boston was dedicated on Sunday last with appropriate ceremonies.

An extensive deposit of marl has been discovered about eight miles from Hamilton, Canada. A sample of it has been sent to Toronto to be analyzed.

The coal miners of Clay County, Ill., have not yet succeeded in arranging their grievances with the employers, and work continues suspended.

The Northern Pacific Railroad is to have its sole terminus at Duluth, Wis., during the six years ensuing, in consideration of procuring the land, to be occupied by stores, without cost.

ALFRED ELSON has undertaken the task of walking back and forth from Augusta to Lewiston, Me., a distance of thirty miles, every day for a week.

The monotony of Springfield, Mass., was relieved on Monday last by a foot-race between the Postmaster of the city and a sturdy blacksmith. The prize was $20; and the son of Vulcan was declared the winner.

Several young ladies of Elkhorn, Wis., recently demonstrated their belief in the doctrines of LUCY STONE BLACKWELL and ANNA DICKINSON, by starting on an excursion into the country without male incumbrances.

There is an old gentleman named HAYNER, at Hamburg, Mich., who has completed his one hundred and second birthday, and is still in good health. His wife, aged 101, died quite recently.

A woman named FOGARTY, residing at Syracuse, N. Y., is accused of having starved one of her children to death. Another child, two years of age, was reduced to a skeleton. It was found wrapt in a blanket, and under the influence of paregoric.

A boy of sixteen, giving the name of JOHN GERST, made a "goose" of himself a few days since at Pittsburg, Penn., by getting married to a girl of fifteen. The ceremony was performed with the concurrence of the mothers of the interesting pair.

A gentleman named RIPPLE has been subsisting on boiled corn for several years, in accordance with the desire of a spirit, who once appeared to him, and promised a long lease of life, provided he would renounce the use of all other kinds of food.

Three Christian Brothers emigrated to St. Louis in 1849, and began to teach school in that city. Their number has since increased to fifty-seven, in addition to a novitiate of thirty. They give their services to the city at $600 a year each. Most of the schools are under their control.

A man named M. THORNE has been in communication with the Chief of Police of St. Louis in reference to a beautiful but erring New-York girl, whom he offers to marry if it should meet with the approval of her grief-stricken parents. He hails from Chicago, and claims to have plenty of means and a good education.

A young girl named GIBHOUSE put a period to her existence, at St. Louis, a few nights since, in consequence of having received no communication from her lover for several days. The excitement of watching the mail day after day unscated her reason, and she swallowed a large dose of morphine.

The examination in the case of the young man, CLAFLIN, who is in custody at Albany, charged with robbing the United States mail, will be resumed to-morrow. The evidence already adduced goes to show that he had been seen on one occasion destroying a number of letters in a stove at his lodgings.

Co-operation does not seem to thrive in Pennsylvania. By a report from Pittston, we learn that the business of the Co-operative Association in that city is being wound up, preparatory to a collapse. The goods, although offered at cost price, do not find ready purchasers. It is wonderful how blind the working men are to their own interests.

Mr. CHARLES C. BLOMERTH, of Everett, Mass., has built a house two stories in height, with his own hands. Immediately over the door there is a brick bearing date 1799, which was brought from the ruins of a church in Sweden. The building has a handsome Mansard roof. It is surrounded by a wall, which is also the work of Mr. BLOMERTH.

There is now no doubt of the lynching of CHARLES BACK, the murderer of the GOODS family, on Favorite Island, Tenn., by a band of masked men, who took him from the custody of the jailer at Austin, last week, and hung him over the grave of one of his victims. It is reported that he made a full confession of his crime as the rope was being adjusted around his neck.

Judge GILLESPIE, of Illinois, is so doubtful of the construction of the law in relation to adultery, as far as regards whites and blacks, that he recently decided to give the benefit of his uncertainty to Col. JOHN THOMAS, who has been under indictment for that crime with a black woman, for quite a considerable time. The motion was made in the Circuit Court to quash the indictment, and it was acceded to for the reason named.

The Fultonville (N. Y.) Republican requests us to correct a statement about the murderer of THOMAS BURDICK, at St. Johnsville, N. Y., which was copied into the TIMES of the 11th ult. from the Utica Observer. It was claimed that he had married the daughter of JAMES QUACKENBUSH, of London, and that, as the heir of the latter, he should be worth several thousand dollars, and it now appears that there was no foundation whatever for such a report.

The Digby Child Stealer—Her Arrest in Mobile.

The New-Orleans Picayune of the 19th inst. says:

Special Officer JOURDAN will arrive in the city this morning with the woman LOUISA MURRAY, accused of kidnapping the child of Mr. DIGBY. Her arrest was effected yesterday, in Mobile, where she resides, by Officer JOURDAN. The celerity and skill manifested by Superintendent BADGER by the arrest of this woman is certainly commendable. There is not little doubt of her guilt. There is a chain of circumstantial evidence fixing the crime upon her, that admits of scarcely a possibility of her innocence. By the confession of the little girl of ELLIS, it was her aunt LOUISA who brought the child to her house, on the corner of Camp and Religieuse streets. The young white girl now staying at the house of Mrs. FOLLIN, says that she went to the house of LOUISA MURRAY, in Mobile, about the 10th of June, and the woman informed her that she had just returned from New-Orleans, where she spent several weeks. About this old old the MURRAY woman came over here the 2d of July, LOUISA MURRAY saw and familiarly addressed the child of Mr. DIGBY as it played in the room. Her description, too, answers perfectly that of the abductress. Two facts, however, are also conjecture. She was in the city when the child was stolen, and she took it to the house of ELLIS FOLLIN. Unless she's can explain these facts away her culpability is beyond denial.

REAL ESTATE TRANSACTIONS.

At the Exchange, yesterday, no sale was made. Quite a large number of persons were in attendance, however, expecting the sale of two pieces of leasehold property, advertised for the day. One on Eighth-street, near Broadway, and the other, on the Sixteenth-street, between Eighth and Ninth avenues. The sale did not take place, and no reason being assigned for the postponement, considerable disappointment was manifested. The principal sale of today is that at Carlstadt, N. J., under the direction of Messrs. JOHNSON & MILLER, a full report of which will be given to-morrow.

The sale of LAWRENCE, OAKLEY & FLEURY which began on Tuesday, of lots at Scranton, Penn., is, we learn from private advices received, meeting with great success. The attendance of buyers is large and considerable interest is taken in the sale, which, each being 25x100, have thus far averaged from $150 to $200 apiece. The aggregate of the sale will reach the large sum of $200,000. On Tuesday eighty-five lots were disposed of and yesterday 223. The sale will be concluded today. The auctioneers have reason to congratulate themselves at this, the successful result of their effort.

Transfers of Real Estate.

NEW-YORK.

Columbia-st., e. s., 81 ft. n. of Houston-st., 17.9 x90 ..... $9,000
4th-st., n. s., 213 ft. e. of Avenue A, 25x92 10,000
11th-st., n. s., 275 ft. w. of Avenue A, 25x92 10,000
14th-st., n. s., 250 ft. w. of 8th-av., 25x92 25,000
30th-st., s. s., 220 ft. w. of 3d-av., 22x44.10 9,600
48th-st., n. s., 125 ft. e. of 10th-av., 25x100.5 (2 lots) 7,875
48th-st., n. s., 150 ft. e. of 10th-av., 25x100.5, 2d lot 7,875
67th-st., n. s., 250 ft. e. of 11th-av., 25x100.5 2,500
72d-st., s. s., 250 ft. e. of 11th-av., 25x100.5 2,000
60th-st. and Lexington-av., N. E. w. corner, 25x100 27,000
125th-st., n. s., 275 ft. w. of Lenox-av., 25x100 4,000
126th-st., n. s., 100 ft. e. of 3d-av., 25x100 6,000

KINGS COUNTY.

Brooklyn.

Bergen-st., n. s., 200 ft. w. of Underhill-av., 50x105.7 ..... $6,000
Commercial and Ann sts., n. s. cor., 47x100.7x 200,000
Conselyea-st., n. s., 100 ft. w. of Jackson-st., 25x100 2,000
Grand-st., n. s., 100 ft. w. of Olive-st., 25x100 2,400
Harrison-st., n. s., 225.7 ft. e. of Clinton-st., 50x 50.10 5,000
Herkimer-st., n. s., 200 ft. w. of Ulema-st., 25x100 1,000
Jacob-st., s. w. s., 200 ft. n. e. of Central-av., 25x100 1,500
Navy-st., No. 241, old No., contract 6,125
Pacific-st., n. s., 275 ft. w. of Troy-av., 25x100 720
Quincy-st., s. s., 225 ft. e. of Bedford-av., 25x100 5,000
Raymond-st., w. s., 200 ft. n. of Fulton-av., 25x100 2,000
Willoughby-st., n. s., 100 ft. e. of Bedford-av., 25x100 7,000
Willoughby-st., n. s., 200 ft. e. of Bedford-av., 25x100 6,000
26-st., w. s., 60 ft. n. of 7th-st., 20x98 2,000
6th-av., w. s., 304 ft. n. of Prospect-av., 25x98 4,000
14th-st., n. s., 416 ft. e. of 6th-av., 16.8x100 2,000
Atlantic-av., n. s., 100 ft. w. of Ulema-av., 25x94.1 1,700
Fulton-av., n. s., 179 ft. e. of Reid-av., 24.7x 4,000
Pinehing-av., s. s., 250 ft. e. of Nostrand-av., 25x100 4,000
Willoughby-av., n. s., 75 ft. e. of Stratford-place, 25x100 375
Williamson-av., e. s., 200 ft. s. of Stratford-place, 25x100 375

RICHMOND COUNTY.

Castleton.

Adjoining land of John Vanderbilt, 2 1-4 acres $25,000
Pond road, 100 ft. n. of A. Dunham's, 100x231 850
Grand View Park, adjoining Park and Atlantic-ave., 3 1-10 acres 400

Factoryville.

Shore road, adjoining land of Geo. Drake, 22.10x 45 ..... $400

New-Brighton.

Brook-st., s. s., 125 ft. e. of Jersey-st., 25x125 ..... $400

Middleton.

Lot in burying ground, 100 square feet $50

NEW-JERSEY.

Jersey City.

Vorkort, e. s., 65 ft. w. of Green, 25x100 ..... $2,500
Lots Nos. 36 and 38, block No. 349, Sisson's map, 50x100 1,800
Lots Nos. 17 and 37, block No. 349, Sisson's map, 50x100 1,800
Lots Nos. 41 and 43, block No. 349, Sisson's map, 50x100 3,150
South 1st-st., s. s., 125 ft. e. of Monmouth-st., 25x100 3,750
South 1st-st., s. s., 150 ft. e. of Monmouth-st., 25x100 1,050
Madison-av., e. s., 40 ft. n. of Newark and N. Y. Plank road, 25x100 1,000
Kennedy-st., w. s., 92 ft. n. of South Hoboken road, 25x100 1,000

Bayonne.

Abby-st. and Avenue A, n. s. cor., 25x100 ..... $2,000

Hoboken.

Davis-st., e. s., 125 ft. w. of 4th-st., 25x100 ..... $800

Union Township.

Hudson-av., e. s., lots Nos. 207 and 209, block No. 81, on Hammond's map, 61x100 ..... $1,300

COUNTRY REAL ESTATE.

PLAINFIELD, N. J.—AN ATTRACTIVE finished, and having bath, furnace, gas, hot and cold water, and all the modern improvements; grounds comprise about one acre, situated on one of the best streets; terms, $4,000 cash, balance of $12,000, $2,000, $1,000 each, balance on bond and mortgage for five years. A. D. MELLICK, Jr., & BRO., No. 5 Pine-st.

VILLA SITES, 50X150 FEET—EQUAL to three City lots; finely situated, ground high, commanding view, at Unionhurst, N. J.; price, $300 to $400 each; five minutes from depot; fourteen trains daily; or Newark and Bloomfield horse-car line, foot of Cortlandt-st., or Dey-street. For tickets to view the property inquire at office New-Jersey Land Improvement Company, No. 107 Broadway, corner Dey, Room No. 4.

FOR SALE—AN ELIGIBLE PROPERTY AT Highlands, N. J., on the Shrewsbury River, comprising about 7 acres; fine bathing, boating and excellent river and surf bathing; Summer residence, boat-house and stables, plenty of fruit trees, &c. Apply to Messrs. JOHNSON & MILLER, No. 25 Nassau-st., New-York.

ORANGE, N. J.—VILLAS, VILLA SITES and farms, a great variety, beautifully situated one hour from N. Y., for sale low. Also, country seats and houses to let for the Summer, apply to BLACKWELL & SMITH, No. 343 Broadway, N. Y., 9 to 11 A. M.; Orange, corner Main and Cross Sts., 1 to 3 P. M.

AT ORANGE, N. J.—HAMILTON & WALLIS, No. 9 Spencer-pl., corner of Pine-st., New-York, offer an elegant residence, gas, water, fountains, stables, &c., on the finest street, Grove-st., or sacrifice. Rent furnished with privilege of purchase.

STORES, &c., TO LET.

OFFICES TO LET,

IN TIMES BUILDING.

Fine, handsome offices on second and third floors. Inquire of GEORGE JONES, Times Office.

DWELLINGS TO LET.

TO LEASE—AT GREENPOINT, NEAR the 10th and 2d-sts. Ferries to New-York, a substantial two-story brick building, 80x100 feet, with adjoining lots. Inquire of SAMUEL D. CLARK, Franklin-st., Bank Building.

HOUSES & ROOMS WANTED.

WANTED—BY A GENTLEMAN AND WIFE, from Sept. 1, apartments in a private house for house-keeping; rent not to exceed $25 per month. Address J. M., Box No. 112 Times Office.

WANTED TO RENT—PRIVATE STABLE in the vicinity of 9th-av., between 42d and 52d sts. Address, with particulars, terms, &c., &c., J. E., Box No. 11.

REAL ESTATE AT AUCTION.

J. JOHNSON, JR., Auctioneer.

GREAT ADJOURNED SALE.

BERRY FARM, CARLSTADT, N. J.

THURSDAY, Aug. 18, at 11 o'clock at the premises, by

JOHNSON & MILLER,

will positively sell the balance of the BERRY FARM, near Carlstadt Depot, consisting of 50 choice lots, as above, without limit, upon easy terms. Take Secaucus Ferry, Free collation. Take easy. Parties can Free tickets of JOHNSON & MILLER, No. 25 Nassau-st.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS FOR the City and County of New-York.—JOSEPH G. MCGLONE, plaintiff, against JAMES GOODWIN and others, defendants.—In pursuance of a judgment of the Court of Common Pleas for the City and County of New-York, made and entered in the above-entitled action, bearing date the 2d day of April, 1870, I, the subscriber, referee named in said judgment, will expose to sale at public auction on the 1st day of October, 1870, at 12 o'clock noon, at the Exchange Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, in the City of New-York, by Thomas E. Fairchild, auctioneer, the following described real estate, to wit: All that certain lot, piece or parcel of land, situate, lying and being on the south-easterly corner of Rivington and Willett streets, with the southerly side of Rivington-street, bounded by the intersection of the southerly side of said street with the easterly side of Willett-street; running thence easterly along the southerly side of said Rivington-street twenty-five feet, thence southerly and parallel with Willett-street seventy feet, thence westerly and parallel with Rivington-street twenty-five feet, and thence northerly and along the easterly side of said Willett-street seventy feet to the point or place of beginning.—New-York, Aug. 17, 1870.

L. S. CHATFIELD, Referee.

STEPHEN J. COLEMAN, Plaintiff's Attorney. aug-jawsWTh

REAL ESTATE AT AUCTION.

J. JOHNSON, JR., Auctioneer.

BY JOHNSON & MILLER,

TUESDAY, AUG. 23, AT 12 O'CLOCK, ON THE PREMISES, GRAND CONTINUATION SALE, 200 SPLENDID LOTS

VAN NUSE FARM, NEW-BRUNSWICK, N. J., MAGNIFICENT PROPERTY, UNPARALLELED FOR SAFE AND PROFITABLE INVESTMENT.

The storm Aug. 10 compelled an adjournment after half of the property had been sold to an appreciative buyer. The disappointment expressed by many who wished to purchase one or more lots, and induced the owner to consent to offer the balance on TUESDAY, AUG. 23.

His instructions to the auctioneers are positive, to sell every lot to the highest bidder, without reserve or price, commencing at ten o'clock, with a SPLENDID COLLATION, consisting of ice-cream and other luxuries, will be served up under a fine tent on arrival of cars.

How to go: Take 10 o'clock train from foot of Cortlandt-st., or 10 o'clock train from foot of Barclay-st.

MAPS AT JOHNSON & MILLER'S, No. 25 Nassau-st.

FINANCIAL.

LAKE SHORE AND MICHIGAN SOUTHERN RAILWAY COMPANY SEVEN PER CENT. Consolidated Mortgage Sinking Fund Bonds.

The Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railway Company, for the purpose of providing for the payment of its several mortgage debts as they become due, has executed a mortgage to the Union Trust Company of New-York, as Trustee, upon the whole of its Railroad and branches, payable on the first day of July, in the year one thousand nine hundred.

COUPON BONDS at $1,000 each will be issued, with interest at Seven per centum per annum, payable semi-annually, on the first day of January and July, in each year, and REGISTERED BONDS of $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000 each, without coupons, with interest at Seven per centum per annum, payable quarterly on the first day of January, April, July and October, in each year, principal and interest payable at the office of the Union Trust Company in New-York.

We call the attention of investors especially to this class of REGISTERED BONDS, which, on account of the SECURITY AFFORDED AGAINST LOSS BY ROBBERY, FIRE OR OTHERWISE AND THE PAYMENT OF QUARTERLY INTEREST, offer an investment peculiarly desirable.

A limited amount of these bonds can be purchased at 97½, and accrued interest, upon application to

ROBINSON, CHASE & CO., NO. 11 BROAD-ST.

New-Jersey Seven Per Cent. TOWN BONDS,

AUTHORIZED BY ACT OF THE LEGISLATURE and the issue restricted to one-tenth the assessed valuation of the real estate of the following towns

NEW PROVIDENCE, Union County;
BEDMINSTER, Somerset County;
BERNARD, Somerset County;

In $100s, $500s, and $1,000s, and having from 15 to 23 years to run.

AT 95, AND INTEREST.

Interest payable semi-annually, January and July, at the American Exchange Bank, New-York, free of tax. For full particulars apply to

PARKER & LAWRENCE, BANKERS, NO. 1 WALL-ST.

THE NATIONAL TRUST COMPANY,

OF THE CITY OF NEW-YORK, NO. 526 BROADWAY.

CAPITAL, - $1,000,000
DEPOSITS, OVER $5,000,000.

PAYS 4 PER CENT. INTEREST ON DEPOSITS SUBJECT TO CHECK AT SIGHT.

PAYS 5 PER CENT. INTEREST ON SPECIAL DEPOSITS FOR SIX MONTHS OR LONGER.

THE COMPANY IS A LEGAL DEPOSITORY FOR MONEYS PAID INTO COURT, AND RECEIVES MONEYS IN TRUST.

DARIUS B. MANGAM, President.
R. I. SOLOMON, ELI. F. RANCROFT.
First Vice-President. Second Vice-President.
JAMES MERRELL, Secretary.

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS,

Guaranteed by the State of Georgia.

Bearing Seven Per Cent. Interest in Currency.

A LIMITED AMOUNT FOR SALE ON FAVORABLE TERMS.

HENRY CLEWS & CO., NO. 32 WALL-ST.

The Undersigned Offer for Sale

The First Mortgage Eight per Cent. GOLD BONDS of the

St. Joseph and Denver City R. R. Co.

Interest payable February and August. Price, 97½ and accrued interest in Currency. Pamphlets, with Map, &c., furnished on application.

W. P. CONVERSE & CO., Commercial Agents, No. 54 Pine-st.
TANNER & CO., Fiscal Agents, No. 40 Wall-st.

1st Mortgage 8 PER CENT. GOLD BONDS,

Guaranteed by the State of Alabama.

FOR SALE AT 85 AND ACCRUED INTEREST.

HENRY CLEWS & CO., BANKERS AND FINANCIAL AGENTS FOR THE STATE OF ALABAMA, NO. 32 WALL-ST.

SEVEN PER CENT. BONDS OF THE CITY OF CHICAGO,

Interest payable semi-annually, January and July, in New-York. Principal redeemable 1886. For sale by

GALLATIN NATIONAL BANK, No. 30 Wall-st.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, STATE TREASURY'S OFFICE, LANSING, Aug. 4, 1870.

THE UNDERSIGNED, BEING DESIROUS of investing the amount of money now held in the Sinking Funds, solicits proposals for the surrender of any of the bonds of this State.

Bids will be accepted or rejected and bidders advised promptly.

Bonds maturing Jan. 1, 1879, preferred.

E. C. GROSVENOR, State Treasurer.

FINANCIAL.

Eight Per Cent. Per Annum in Gold.

FREE FROM UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT TAX.

THE BALANCE OF THE ISSUE OF

$1,500,000 First Mortgage Bonds OF THE ST. JOSEPH AND DENVER CITY Railroad Company,

NOW FOR SALE BY THE UNDERSIGNED.

These are a New-York selling fund, bond, issued only upon a completed road, and bear eight per cent. interest in gold, payable in the city of New-York, February in New-York, London or Frankfort, free of tax. These bonds are the direct obligation of $1,000 and are secured by a mortgage, duly executed and recorded, upon the road, equipment, franchises, and all the property of the company, including its land grant, which is at the rate of 12 miles to the county, and all the earnings of the road, which are now in excess of the interest thereon. The road is now in operation for 200 miles from the Missouri River, through the richest portion of the Union Pacific Railroad, and is daily receiving large accessions of business from the Pacific Railroad, which it connects with the Mississippi River, and the Eastern and Southern States. The road is being rapidly completed, and will be finished and in operation to the Rocky Mountains in 1871. The company have no other bonds, and no other mortgage can be made upon the road, equipment, franchises, and land grant, which are the security for these bonds. The company have also a large amount of stock, which, with the earnings of the road, will be applied to the completion of the road, and the purchase of its equipment. The road is now in operation for 200 miles, and the earnings are more than double the interest on the bonds

SHIPPING.

CUNARD LINE.
THE BRITISH AND NORTH AMERICAN ROYAL MAIL STEAM-SHIPS, BETWEEN NEW-YORK AND LIVERPOOL, CALLING AT COBH HARBOR.
Palmyra, Thurs., Aug. 25 Batavia, Tues., Sept. 6
Perth, Saturday, Aug. 20 Java, Wednesday, Sept. 14
Abyssinia, Wed., Aug. 24 Calabria, Thurs., Sept. 8
Samaria, Tues., Aug. 30 Russia, Wednes., Sept. 14
Scotia, Wednes., Aug. 31 Persia, Thurs., Sept. 15
RATES OF PASSAGE.
By the Steamers not carrying Steerage.
First Cabin, $120, gold. Second Cabin, $80, gold.
Steerage, $30, currency.
By the Steamers carrying Steerage.
First Cabin, $80, gold. Steerage, $30, currency.
Children between 1 and 8 years of age, half price.
Steerage tickets from Liverpool and Queenstown to and all parts of Europe at lowest rates.
Through bills of lading given for Belfast, Glasgow, Dublin, Antwerp and other ports on the Continent, and for Mediterranean ports.
For freight and cabin passage apply at the Company's Office, No. 4 Bowling-green.
For steerage passage at 8 Broadway, Trinity Building, or 191 Greenwich-st. CHAS. G. FRANCKLYN, Agent.

THE ANCHOR LINE STEAMERS
SAIL EVERY WEDNESDAY AND SATURDAY TO AND FROM GLASGOW AND LONDONDERRY.
Passenger bookings and intermediate at REDUCED RATES to and from all railway stations in Great Britain, Ireland, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, and America, also safety deposit boxes, and information by any other route or line.
"EXPRESS" STEAMER. "ETNA" WILLIAMS.
Europa.....Sat. Aug. 20 Caledonia...Wed., Aug. 24
Italia.....Sat. Aug. 27 Siberia.....Wed., Sept. 14
Anglia.....Sat. Sept. 3 Ireland.....Wed., Sept. 21
India.....Sat. Sept. 10 Calabria.....Wed., Oct. 5
Australia.....Sat. Sept. 17 Britannia...Wed., Oct. 26
Canada.....Wed. Sept. 21 Europa.....Wed., Nov. 2
Second cabin, WEDNESDAY and SATURDAY steamers, $40. First cabin, $60 to $80. Steerage, $30. Gold.
RATES OF PASSAGE FROM LIVERPOOL OR LONDONDERRY TO NEW-YORK.
POOL, GLASGOW, OR DERRY:
First Cabin $60 and $70, according to location. Cabin excursion tickets, good for 12 months, among the best accommodations. Steerage, $28.
Intermediate, $35. Steerage, $28.
Certificates, at REDUCED RATES, can be bought here by those wishing to send for their friends.
Drafts payable on demand.
Apply at the Company's offices to
HENDERSON BROTHERS, No. 7 Bowling-green.

NATIONAL LINE.

STEAM TO LIVERPOOL AND QUEENSTOWN, From Pier No. 45 North River.
THE QUEEN, THOMSON, Saturday, Aug. 20, at 10 A. M.
HELVETIA, GROSS, Saturday, Aug. 27, at 4 P. M.
HOLLAND, BERRY, Saturday, Sept. 3, at 10 A. M.
ERIN, BRADY, Saturday, Sept. 10, at 3 P. M.
Passage to Liverpool or Queenstown: Cabin, $75 and $80; steerage, $28 currency.
From Liverpool or Queenstown: Cabin, $80 and $85; steerage, $28 currency.
Through tickets from Liverpool, Queenstown, Londonderry and Glasgow, $28 currency.

STEAM TO AND FROM HAVRE AND LONDON (every fortnight, calling at Plymouth to land pasengers).
DENMARK, Saturday, Aug. 27, at 7 A. M.
PENNSYLVANIA, Wednesday, Sept. 7, 3 P. M.
Cabin, second and first, currency.
Steerage passage, $30, currency.
Passengers booked to Paris at reduced rates.
For further particulars apply at the Company's office, No. 69 Broadway.
F. W. J. HURST, Manager.

NOTICE TO CONSIGNEES.
Steam-ship DENMARK, from Havre, will discharge at Pier No. 45 North River, foot of Murray-st., on Friday, 19th inst., at 7 A. M. Consignees are requested to remove their goods as soon as landed.
F. W. J. HURST, Manager, No. 69 Broadway.

ONLY DIRECT LINE TO FRANCE.
THE GENERAL TRANSATLANTIC COMPANY'S MAIL STEAM-SHIPS BETWEEN NEW-YORK AND HAVRE, CALLING AT BREST.
The splendid vessels on this favorite route for the Continent will sail from Pier No. 50 North River as follows:
ST. LAURENT.....LEMAIRE, SATURDAY, Aug. 20
PEREIRE.....DUCHESNE, SATURDAY, Sept. 3
LAFAYETTE.....ROUSSAIN, SATURDAY, Sept. 17
VILLE DE PARIS.....SURMONT, SATURDAY, Oct. 1
Rates of passage, payable in gold, (including wine,) TO BREST OR HAVRE, First cabin, $140; second cabin, $75.
TO PARIS, (including railway ticket,) $145 and $75.
These steamers do not carry steerage passengers.
American travelers going to or returning from the Continent of Europe, by taking the steamers of this line, avoid the annoyance of changing cars at Liverpool, the uncertainty of crossing the Channel, besides saving time, trouble and expense.
GEO. MACKENZIE, Agent, No. 58 Broadway.

NOTICE.—THE INMAN STEAM-SHIP CITY OF DUBLIN will sail from Pier No. 45 North River, on THURSDAY, 18th inst., at 3 P. M., taking a limited number of steerage passengers at low currency.
JOHN G. DALE, Agent,
No. 15 Broadway.

FOR LIVERPOOL AND QUEENSTOWN.—Inman Line of Royal Mail Steamers are appointed to sail as follows:
CITY OF BRUSSELS, Saturday, Aug. 20, H M.
CITY OF BALTIMORE, (via Halifax,) Tuesday, Aug. 23, 1 P. M.
CITY OF WASHINGTON, Saturday, Aug. 27, 3 P. M.
CITY OF PARIS.....Saturday, Sept. 3, 7 P. M.
And each succeeding SATURDAY and alternate TUESDAY, from Pier No. 45 North River.
RATES OF PASSAGE.
PAYABLE IN GOLD IN CURRENCY.
1st Cabin, (single berth) $85 Steerage.....$30
To London.....$90 To London.....$35
To Paris.....$95 To Paris.....$40
To Halifax, N. S.....$30 To Halifax, N. S.....$15
Passengers also forwarded to Havre, Hamburg, Bremen, &c., at reduced rates.
Tickets can be bought here at moderate rates by persons wishing to send for their friends.
For further information apply at the Company's Office.
JOHN G. DALE, Agent,
No. 15 Broadway, New-York.

FOR LIVERPOOL.
(VIA QUEENSTOWN,)
CARRYING THE UNITED STATES MAILS.
THE LIVERPOOL AND GREAT WESTERN STEAM COMPANY will dispatch one of their first-class full-power iron screw steam-ships from PIER NO. 46 NORTH RIVER, EVERY WEDNESDAY, as follows:
NEVADA, Capt. GREEN.....Aug. 24, at 4 P. M.
COLORADO, Capt. FREEMAN.....Aug. 31, at 9 A. M.
WISCONSIN, Capt. WILLIAMS.....Sept. 7, at 8 P. M.
MANHATTAN, Capt. LEITCH.....Sept. 14, at 1 P. M.
MINNESOTA, Capt. WEHRSAT.....Sept. 21, at 3 P. M.
IDAHO, Capt. FRICE.....Sept. 28, at 9 A. M.
Cabin passage, $80 gold.
Steerage passage, (Office No. 20 Broadway,) $30, currency.
For freight or cabin passage apply to
WILLIAMS & GUION, No. 29 Wall-st.

IMPORTANT TO EUROPEAN TRAVELERS.
HARPER'S HAND-BOOK FOR TRAVELERS IN EUROPE AND THE EAST. Being a guide through France, Belgium, Holland, Germany, Austria, Italy, Egypt, Syria, Turkey, Greece, Spain, Portugal, Syria, Russia, Sweden, Norway, Spain, Great Britain and Ireland. With a Railroad Map corrected up to 1869. By W. PEMBROKE FISHER. Revised edition; eighth year. Large 12mo. leather, pocket-book form, $7 50.
HARPER'S PHRASE-BOOK; Or, Hand-book of Travel-talk for Travelers and Schools. Being a guide to conversation in Spanish, French, German and Italian. By W. PEMBROKE FISHER. Square 4to, flexible cloth, $1 50.
FOR SALE BY ALL BOOK-SELLERS.

PACIFIC MAIL STEAMSHIP COMPANY'S THROUGH LINE TO CALIFORNIA AND CHINA.
FREIGHT AND PASSAGE GREATLY REDUCED.
Through rates, New-York to San Francisco.
First Class, $135 to $170. Steerage, $65.
according to location of berth.
These rates include berths, board and all necessaries for the trip.
Steamers of the above line leave Pier No. 42 North River, foot of Canal-st., at 2 o'clock P. M.
ON 5TH AND 21ST OF EACH MONTH, except when those days fall on Sunday, then the day previous.
One hundred pounds of baggage free to each adult. Medicines and attendance free.
AUG. 20.—ARIZONA, Capt. GRAY, connecting with MONTANA, Capt. PARKER.
Steamer JAPAN will leave San Francisco Sept. 1, 1870, for China and Japan.
All freight for San Francisco will go as fast, and be received until 4 P. M. Friday, Aug. 19.
Freight for Central America and South Pacific ports will be received until 12 M. of Thursday, Aug. 18, only. All the usual facilities afforded shippers in collecting inland charges, &c.
For freight or passage apply here, and all further information, apply at the office, Pier No. 42 North River.
F. R. BABY, Agent.

FOR ST. THOMAS AND BRAZIL.
UNITED STATES AND BRAZIL MAIL STEAMSHIP COMPANY.
REGULAR MAIL STEAMERS sailing on the 2d of every month:
SOUTH AMERICA, Capt. TOBLERFRICH, Aug. 2.
NORTH AMERICA, Capt. SEGOUR, Sept. 2.
MERRIMACK, Capt. WIRE, Oct. 2.
These splendid steamers call on schedule time, and call at St. Thomas, Para, Pernambuco, Bahia and Rio de Janeiro, going and returning. For engagements of freight or passage, apply to
WM. P. GARRISON, Agent,
No. 5 Bowling-green, New-York.

U. S. MAIL TO HAVANA.
ATLANTIC MAIL STEAMSHIP COMPANY.
Sailing regularly every THURSDAY at 3 o'clock P. M. precisely from Pier No. 4 North River.
MISSOURI, Capt. J. E. EDWARDS.....Aug. 18
MORRO CASTLE, Capt. H. ADAMS.....Aug. 25
COLUMBIA, Capt. E. VAN SICE.....Sept. 1
For freight or passage apply to
A. G. WHEELER, Pier, Foot of Bowling-green.

HAVANA, VERA CRUZ AND TEXAS CRUZ.
New-York and Havana Mail Steamship Line—Sailing every twenty days, from Pier No. 9 North River.
CITY OF MERIDA, Capt. WEEKS, SATURDAY, Aug. 20, 3 P. M.
CITY OF MEXICO, Capt. TOBERMAN, SATURDAY, Sept. 10, 3 P. M.
For freight or passage apply to
F. ALEXANDER & SONS, No. 78 Broadway.

FOR NASSAU, N. P.,
CARRYING THE ROYAL MAIL.
Adelaide Mail Steamship Company's steamer MAGNOLIA, Capt. E. VAN SICE, Aug. 11, at 3 P. M., from Pier No. 4 North River.
For freight or passage apply to A. G. WHEELER, Pier, Foot of Bowling-green.

FOR SAVANNAH, GA.
BLACK STAR LINE.—THE STEAMERS HAVE RECOMMENCED THEIR REGULAR TRIPS.
MONTGOMERY, Capt. J. E. FAIRCHILD, leaves Saturday, Aug. 20, from Pier No. 13 North River, at 3 P. M.
HUNTSVILLE, Capt. ISAAC CROWELL, leaves SATURDAY, Aug. 27.
Through rates and bills of lading to Savannah, with the Georgia Central and Atlantic and Gulf Railroads.
O. Gordon & Co., Agts., 2 Lowden, Agt.,
Savannah. 39 West-st., cor. Cedar-st.

SHIPPING.

FOR SAVANNAH, GA.,
AND THE SOUTH AND SOUTH-WEST.
GREAT SOUTHERN FREIGHT AND PASSENGER LINE STEAM-SHIPS, AND CENTRAL RAILROAD OF GEORGIA.
GREAT REDUCTION IN PASSENGER RATES TO ALL POINTS IN THE INTERIOR.
FOUR STEAMERS A WEEK.
TUESDAY, THURSDAY AND SATURDAY.
THE STEAM-SHIPS
HERMAN, LIVINGSTON, Capt. CHESEBROUGH.
SATURDAY, Aug. 13, from Pier No. 15 North River, at 3 P. M.
LIVINGSTON, FOX & CO., Agents,
No. 15 Liberty-st.

SAN SALVADOR, Capt. HENRICKS, SATURDAY, Aug. 20, from Pier No. 3 North River, at 3 P. M.
WM. R. GARRISON, Agent,
No. 5 Bowling-green.

MONTGOMERY, Capt. FAIRCHILD, SATURDAY, Aug. 13, from Pier No. 15 North River, at 3 P. M.
E. LOWDEN, Agent,
No. 39 West-st.

LEO, Capt. DEARBORN, TUESDAY, Aug. 23, from Pier No. 15 East River, at 3 P. M.
MURRAY, FERRIS & CO., Agents,
Nos. 51 and 53 South-st.

FOR NEW-ORLEANS DIRECT.
OLD LINE—LOW FREIGHT.
The well-known first class iron steamship
CENTREVILLE, H. RAND, Commander, will leave Pier No. 38 North River, on SATURDAY, Aug. 20, at 3 P. M. Freight taken at through rates for St. Louis, Memphis and Galveston.
For passage, or passage and freight, or other information, apply to LIVINGSTON, FOX & CO.,
No. 15 Liberty-st.
The splendid VICTOR will follow and sail on SATURDAY, Aug. 27, from Pier No. 15 East River.
U. H. MALLORY & CO.,
No. 128 Maiden-lane.

DELAWARE AND NEW-YORK S. B. CO.
Pier 31 N. R.—The steamer Delaware will leave for Lewes, Del., Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 5 P. M. Freight received on the piers, foot of Barclay and Brooklyn Bridge. Through Bills of Lading issued over Lewes Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday at 4 P. M. For Tickets and passage apply at office on pier.

NOTICE TO TRAVELERS.
Passing on account of accident from the foot of the Company's Pier, the steamer will leave the wharf at Newburgh, Tuesday, Aug. 16, at 4 P. M. Passengers will be conveyed to Pier No. 1 North River, free of charge, if they prefer it, by the steamer Orange, or by the cars of the Erie Railway, at the option of the passenger. Tickets will be good on any of the steamers of the Company, or by the Erie Railway, from Newburgh to New-York, and return, at the option of the passenger. Tickets will be good on the steamer Orange, from Newburgh to Cornwall, and return, at the option of the passenger. Tickets will be good on the Erie Railway, from Cornwall to Newburgh, and return, at the option of the passenger.
JAS. H. COUSLAND, Supt., No. 4 Pier, foot of Barclay-st.

UNITED STATES PASSPORT BUREAU.—United States passports indispensable to travelers, issued by J. S. NONES, Passport Agent, No. 285 Broadway.

INSTRUCTION.

THE PACKER COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE.
No. 140 Joralemon-st., Brooklyn, N. Y.
A. CRITTENDEN, Ph. D., Principal.
This Institution offers to young ladies rare advantages for thorough education in all branches of study.
In the BOARDING DEPARTMENT, under the special care of Miss E. J. SMITH, pupils will find simple accommodations and a genuine home.
Music and French teachers of the highest attainments and skill are employed.
NO ENGLISH FOR BOARDING PUPILS.
The school year will commence Sept. 14, 1870.
New scholars, and those who have not passed their last examinations for promotion, are earnestly requested to be present for classification on the opening day.
For circulars, apply to Miss E. J. SMITH or Prof. EATON, No. 180 Joralemon-st.

THE NEW-YORK CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC,
No. 855 Broadway and No. 22 4th-av.
BROOKLYN BRANCH,
No. 102, 104 and 106 Court, near State-st.
THE FALL TERM COMMENCES THURSDAY, SEPT. 1, 1870.
Several eminent Professors have been engaged.
A NORMAL DEPARTMENT HAS ALSO BEEN ADDED.
Subscription-books will be opened and circulars ready on and after MONDAY, Aug. 29.
Applications to be made at the General Conservatory,
No. 855 BROADWAY, near 19th-st., New-York.
No. 102 COURT-ST., near State-st., Brooklyn.

BELLE BOSTAN'S
FRENCH AND ENGLISH PROTESTANT SCHOOL FOR YOUNG LADIES,
NO. 111 EAST 37TH-ST.
will reopen on WEDNESDAY, Sept. 28. The course of instruction embraces the following departments: French education with the practical knowledge of the French and other modern languages.
Special attention is also given to drawing and painting, and the Musical Department, under the care of Professors S. B. Mills and P. L. Ritter, offers peculiar advantages to those who wish to make music a special study.
A limited number of young ladies will be received in the family and welcomed to share in all the comforts and privileges of a pleasant home. Applications to be made at the above address.

SEWARD INSTITUTE FOR BOYS,
FLORIDA, ORANGE COUNTY, N. Y.
This well and favorably known institution, now in its twenty-third year of successful operation, offers peculiar advantages to a few select pupils. Pupils in the limited number of boarders. For full particulars, send for a catalogue.
T. G. SCHRIVER, A. M., Principal.
Hon. Wm. H. Seward, President.

FERRESHOLD INSTITUTE,
FERRESHOLD, N. J.
A BOARDING-SCHOOL FOR BOYS,
WILL BE REOPENED IN 1870.
The next session will commence Sept. 5, 1870.
References—Dr. McCosh, President Princeton College; Hon. Judge Redfe, Jersey City; Alex. Rudhust, Esq., No. 38 Broadway, New-York City.
For circulars apply to Rev. A. G. CHAMBERS, Principal.

MISS ARMSTRONG'S
FRENCH AND ENGLISH BOARDING AND DAY SCHOOL
FOR YOUNG LADIES AND CHILDREN,
No. 23 Madison-av., between 26th and 27th sts.
Will reopen on WEDNESDAY, Sept 21.
Address as above.

MORRIS FEMALE INSTITUTE,
MORRISTOWN, N. J.
AN ENGLISH AND FRENCH FAMILY AND DAY SCHOOL.
Offers superior educational advantages and unsurpassed home accommodations.
Address C. G. HAZELTINE, A. M., Principal.

MRS. CARRETSON'S
ENGLISH AND FRENCH BOARDING AND DAY SCHOOL FOR YOUNG LADIES AND CHILDREN, NO. 36 WEST 47TH-ST.
Will reopen TUESDAY, Sept. 20, 1870. Circulars may be obtained at the office of Messrs. GABRIEL SON, or at the house on and after Sept. 1.

A HOME SCHOOL FOR GIRLS.
At Orange Academy, Orange, N. J.
REMOVED TO SUMMIT, N. J.
The school year, consisting of forty-five weeks, will commence on MONDAY, Sept. 5. Terms, $300 per annum. Music and French the only extras.
MISS HAVENS.

MISS HAVENS'
FRENCH AND ENGLISH BOARDING AND DAY SCHOOL
for young ladies and children, No. 572 Madison-av., will be reopened THURSDAY, Sept. 22. Lessons on the piano by the best resident teacher. For circulars, apply at Miss Haven's residence, or will receive prompt attention. Her school circulars will be forwarded on application.

RIVERVIEW MILITARY ACADEMY,
POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y.
OTIS BISBEE, A. M., Principal and Proprietor.
A wide-awake, thorough-going School for boys wishing to be trained for business, for college, or for West Point, or the Naval Academy.

MRS. LEVERETT'S
French and English Boarding and Day School for Young Ladies and Children,
At No. 32 West 18th-st., will reopen on WEDNESDAY, Sept. 21, 1870. Address as above.

SUNNY-SIDE INSTITUTE,
MALDEN, Ulster County, N. Y.
School reopens on TUESDAY, Sept. 6. For terms, &c., apply to
D. A. WOLF, Principal.

DR. VAN NOSTRAN'S
English, French and German Family and Day School for young ladies, Nos. 24 and 26 West 31st-st., New-York, will commence its fourteenth year, Sept. 22, 1870. Send for circular. Address at No. 26 West 31st-st.

MRS. WILLIAMS
English and French Boarding and Day School for young ladies, No. 25 West 38th-st., will reopen THURSDAY, Sept. 22. Letters address as above.

MISS MCDONALD AND MISS KEITH will continue
MRS. MACAULAY'S
BOARDING AND DAY-SCHOOL FOR YOUNG LADIES, NOS. 275 and 277 MADISON-AV.
The Professors and teachers heretofore connected with it will be retained. Address as above.

LESPINASSE FORT WASHINGTON INSTITUTE.—For young ladies. Opens Sept. 20. Graduating course for modern languages, French the language of the family. Address at the office of G. LESPINASSE, No. 8 Pine-st., WALSH & LEBOY, No. 21 East 16th-st.

JOHN MACFULLEN'S SCHOOL WILL be reopened at No. 805 Broadway, corner of 20th-st., on THURSDAY, Sept. 15. School limited to forty boys. Three boarders taken. Circulars at book-stores of Mesdames de Fetres, 683 Broadway, and at the school.

MRS. J. T. BENEDICT'S BOARDING and Day School for young ladies and children, No. 48 East 34th-st., New-York, will reopen on Sept. 22. Particular attention given to French and German. For circulars call or address as above.

SCHOOL FURNITURE OF EVERY DESCRIPTION, also Office Furniture, Blackboards, School Furniture, at ROBERT PATON & CO.'S, Manufacturers of school, church and lecture-room furniture, No. 3 Grove-st., N. Y.

TROY FEMALE SEMINARY.—THIS institution offers the accumulated advantages of over fifty years of successful operation. For catalogues, apply to JOHN H. WILLARD, Troy, N. Y.

THE MESSRS HUCKENHALL'S ENGLISH and French Boarding-school for young ladies, New Brunswick, N. J., will reopen Sept. 20.

FAMILY SCHOOL, STRATON, CONN. Pupils prepared for business or for college. Number limited. Rev. E. D. GARDNER.

MOHEGAN LAKE SCHOOL, PEEKSKILL, N. Y., reopens Sept. 21.
CHARLES D. MORRIS, M. A.

MRS. STORRS' BOARDING AND Day School for young ladies, No. 13 West 45th-st., will open Sept. 21. Address as above.

INSTRUCTION.

A FAMILY SCHOOL FOR BOYS.
Location of unequaled beauty and healthfulness. Thoroughness in all branches, but no cramming. Terms moderate. For circulars, &c., address H. W. SIGLER, A. M., Principal, Newburg Institute, Newburg, N. Y.

ST. PLEASANT MILITARY ACADEMY,
A SELECT BOARDING-SCHOOL FOR BOYS, AT SING SING, ON THE HUDSON.
The course of instruction embraces the following departments: CLASSICAL, MODERN LANGUAGES, ELEMENTARY MATHEMATICS, ENGLISH STUDIES AND NATURAL SCIENCE. Classes are also formed in MUSIC, DRAWING, FENCING and ELOCUTION. A THOROUGHLY ORGANIZED MILITARY DEPARTMENT, RIDING-SCHOOL, with WELL-TRAINED HORSES, GYMNASIUM, &c.
Will reopen TUESDAY, Sept. 20.
BENJAMIN D. ALDEN, Principal.

MISS CORNTOCKER'S,
NO. 33 WEST 37TH-ST.
ENGLISH, FRENCH AND GERMAN BOARDING AND DAY SCHOOL.
The ensuing school year, commencing THURSDAY, Sept. 22, 1870.
An EXCLUSIVELY French department, for French and German, if desired. Pupils after the best schools abroad, will be organized Oct. 1.
N. B.—No remission of care and talent for regular course of tuition in English and French.
Additional pupils taken after Sept. 5.
Personal application after Sept. 5.

MISS WHITCOMB'S,
Successor to
Miss HARRISON'S,
English and French Boarding and Day School for young ladies and children, No. 59 Fierrepont-st., corner of Henry-st., Brooklyn, L. I., near New-York. This school will reopen WEDNESDAY, Sept. 21, 1870. Address as above.

ST. JOHN'S SCHOOL FOR BOYS,
SING SING, N. Y.
(formerly M. Chevalier's school.)
Rev. J. BECKENRIDGE GIBSON, A. M., Principal.
The next year will begin Sept. 20.

SEDGWICK INSTITUTE,
Great Barrington, Mass. J. & J. BIRD, Principals. A school with the highest reputation. Superior in all branches. Its buildings and grounds elegant. Terms low.

MISS MERLET'S
FRENCH AND ENGLISH BOARDING AND DAY SCHOOL
For young ladies and children,
NO. 7 EAST 45TH-ST., NEAR 5TH-AV.
Will reopen on Wednesday, Sept. 21, 1870. Address as above.

MRS. E. S. HACKNEY'S
BOARDING AND DAY SCHOOL,
No. 1 Washington-sq., New-York.
Will reopen Sept. 14. Pupils fitted for Vassar College if desired.

YONKERS MILITARY INSTITUTE,
Established 1854, for making boys intelligent, healthy, Christian men. Thorough teaching. Commodious gymnasium. Reopens Sept. 5.
BENJAMIN BASON, Box No. 36, Yonkers, N. Y.

WEST SIDE LADIES' SEMINARY,
No. 343 West 34th-st.
(MISS C. E. FERRIS PRINCIPAL,
will reopen TUESDAY, Sept. 20.

HOLBROOK'S MILITARY SCHOOL,
SING SING, N. Y.
REOPENS THURSDAY, SEPT. 8, 1870.
REV. D. A. HOLBROOK, } Principals and HENRY BARNLEIGH, } Proprietors.

HOME INSTITUTE,
Tarrytown, N. Y., a Boarding and Day School for young ladies and children, will reopen Sept. 14. For circulars, address Miss M. W. METCALF, Principal.

A LADY ENGAGED IN TEACHING wishes a large room, furnished, or partly so, in a private family, in a central part of the City, in exchange for lessons on the piano; highest references. Address for one week Mrs. FORBES, No. 72 West 40th-st.

THE MISSES HENDERSON WILL reopen their boarding and day school for young ladies at Mamaroneck on WEDNESDAY, the 14th of September. Circulars can be procured at the resort, Nos. 4 Longacre, or by addressing the principals at Mamaroneck.

FRANCO-AMERICAN INSTITUTE for young gentlemen, No. 67 West 34th-st., will reopen on Sept. 20. Day and boarding scholars. English, French, German and Spanish languages. Primary, Commercial, Classical and Scientific departments. E. FELANDIE, Principal.

ROCKLAND FEMALE INSTITUTE, NYACK, ON THE HUDSON, N. Y.—The Fall term will commence Sept. 15. For circulars with full particulars, address Rev. T. DELOS MANSFIELD, Principal.

ST. JOSEPH'S ACADEMY FOR YOUNG LADIES, Fordham, N. Y., offers superior advantages for the acquisition of a refined and solid education. Terms moderate. Studies resumed Sept. 1. For further particulars apply at Academy.

STAMFORD COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE FOR YOUNG LADIES.—Term opens Sept. 14. Every facility for a thorough and practical education. ROBERT C. BLACK, A. M., Principal, Stamford, Conn.

MISS E. E. CALHOUN'S FAMILY School for young ladies, Cheshire, Conn. (near New-Haven) reopens Sept. 20. Number of pupils limited. Thorough instruction in English, French, Latin, &c.

THE MISSES GREEN'S SCHOOL for young ladies, No. 1 West 18th-st., N. Y., (first door from Washington-square,) will be reopened by their successors, the Misses GRAHAM, Sept. 21, 1870.

THE CHELTON HILL SCHOOL FOR boys, Elizabeth, N. J., will reopen Sept. 21.
J. H. YOUNG, A. M., Principal.

ROSE HILL, DANBURY, CONN., A home school for misses, will reopen MONDAY, Sept. 5. Address Mrs. C. E. WHITE.

MISS SARAH SEDGWICK'S SCHOOL for boys will open Sept. 21 at No. 1,183 Broadway, between 32d and 33d sts.

A HOME AND SCHOOL FOR 10 BOYS; ages 6 to 9. Mrs. G. A. BUSH, Tarrytown, N. Y.

LAW SCHOOLS.

COLUMBIA COLLEGE LAW-SCHOOL.—The next term of the 42d year of this institution commences at No. 37 Lafayette-place, New-York, on the first Wednesday of October, and continues until May 17, 1871; graduates are admitted to the Bar without further examination. For catalogues and information, generally, address, at No. 37 Lafayette-place, THEODORE W. DWIGHT, Warden, &c.

TEACHERS.

A LADY PROFESSOR JUST ARRIVED from Germany, excellent and well experienced teacher of music, French and German, and speaking English, wishes to find a place in a family, or to take reading governess or teacher in schools or families; best references given and required. Apply to Miss E. Meyer, Mrs. Christern, foreign book-seller, No. 77 University-place.

A YOUNG LADY DESIRES A SITUATION as teacher of English and German branches; would accept the position of companion or amanuensis to a lady; can give high recommendation from one of the oldest colleges of New-York; best references; no objection to travel. Address G. H., Station F.

WANTED—BY A GENTLEMAN OF LONG experience in teaching English and mathematics, a position as teacher or of tutor; that of private teacher preferred; strict attention to study and good moral principles. Address CHARLES, Fishkill Village, N. Y.

SURROGATE NOTICES.

IN PURSUANCE OF AN ORDER OF the Surrogate of the County of New-York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against THOMAS H. GAYNOR, late of the City of New-York, deceased, to present the same with vouchers thereof to the subscribers at the office of Robert Gillen, Attorney, No. 32 Nassau-st., in the City of New-York, on or before the 20th day of August next.—Dated, New-York, the 1st day of February, 1870.
CHARLOTTE E. GAYNOR, Executrix.
EDWARD F. GAYNOR, Executor.
218-1awm7Th*

IN PURSUANCE OF AN ORDER OF the Surrogate of the County of New-York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against ELIZA ANDREWS, late of the City of New-York, deceased, to present the same with vouchers thereof to the subscribers at the office of Mahlon Apgar, one of the Executors, No. 73 Dey-street, in the City of New-York, on or before the 15th day of January next.—Dated, New-York, the 27th day of June, 1870.
MARY ELIZABETH ANDREWS,
MAHLON APGAR,
SAMUEL TOOKE,
Executors.
jel0-1awfm7Th*

IN PURSUANCE OF AN ORDER OF the Surrogate of the County of New-York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against PETER I. NEVIUS, late of the City of New-York, deceased, to present the same with vouchers thereof to the subscribers, at their office, No. 11 South-st., in the City of New-York, on or before the 22d day of January next.—Dated New-York, the 22d day of June, 1870.
GEORGE L. NEVIUS,
JOHN F. NEVIUS,
Executors, &c.

IN PURSUANCE OF AN ORDER OF the Surrogate of the County of New-York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against HARRISON FARMAN, late of the City of New-York, deceased, to present the same with vouchers thereof to the subscriber, at his residence No. 34 Waverley-place, in the City of New-York, on or before the 16th day of December next.—Dated New-York, the 8th day of June, 1870.
SAMUEL W. BRIDGHAM, Executor.
jel0-1awfm7Th*

IN PURSUANCE OF AN ORDER OF the Surrogate of the County of New-York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against MARY ROSE REYNAL, late of the City of New-York, deceased, to present the same with vouchers thereof to the subscriber, at his office, No. 6 Water-st., in the City of New-York, on or before the 16th day of March, 1870.—Dated New-York, the 16th day of March, 1870.
JEAN PIERRE JULES REYNAL,
Executor.
jl8-1awfm7Th*

IN PURSUANCE OF AN ORDER OF the Surrogate of the County of New-York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against WOOD GIBSON, late of the City of New-York, deceased, to present the same with vouchers thereof to the subscriber, at his office at the store of Wood Gibson, Jr., No. 798 Broadway, in the City of New-York, on or before the 16th day of September next.—Dated New-York, the 16th day of March, 1870.
JAMES BLAKELY,
Executor.
jel0-1awfm7Th*

IN PURSUANCE OF AN ORDER OF the Surrogate of the County of New-York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against ELIZA ANN ROOTMAN, late of the City of New-York, deceased, to present the same with vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at his place of business, No. 31 Cortlandt-st., in the City of New-York, on or before the 20th day of December next.—Dated New-York, the 21st day of June, 1870.
ROBERT W. ROOTMAN,
Administrator, &c.
jel0-1awfm7Th*

BOARDING AND LODGING.

THREE OR FOUR FAMILY FURNISHED apartments, viz., 2 or 3 without board, to a lady or four or five gentlemen or a private family; no other lodgers; rent moderate; furniture, bedding and plate, piano and guitar; references exchanged; one block above Washington-square. Address Box 88, care Mr. Rae, No. 140 Nassau-st.

FURNISHED ROOMS.—A GENTLEMAN OF living in 16th-st., near 3d-av., would rent (to gentleman) one to four rooms on the second floor, well furnished, with every convenience, at from $5 to $10 weekly. Call or address, No. 315 East 16th-st.

NO. 37 WAVERLEY-PLACE.—ELEGANT furnished rooms for gentlemen and their wives or single gentlemen; excellent opportunity for a physician.

FURNISHED ROOMS TO LET, WITH excellent board, in a private family; location very moderate; terms, with board, if required. Apply at No. 225 West 34th-st.

NO. 48 EAST 38TH-ST.—FAMILIES and gentlemen can find in the Alvin Summer Cottage handsomely furnished rooms and first class board; private table if desired.

$5 50 PER WEEK FOR BOARD, including room, $1 per day, $6 50. Dugout House, No. 161 Hudson-st. Lodgings, 50c. a night.

NO. 7 EAST 21ST-ST., SECOND DOOR from 5th-av. Handsome suite of rooms to let to families, with elegant parlor, on the first floor if wanted; private lodging; references.

ROOMS TO LET.—ALSO, A DESIRABLE table boarder for only, at Tremont. Inquire of R. RICHARDS, No. 125 Chambers-st.

FURNISHED ROOMS TO LET TO GENTLEMEN only, at No. 48 Bond, Washington-square. Elevator, reference.

FAMILIES AND SINGLE GENTLEMEN, MEN, parties from abroad, come with first-class board at No. 141 West 36th-st.

NO. 37 WAVERLEY-PLACE.—ELEGANT furnished rooms for gentlemen and their wives or single gentlemen.

SUMMER RESORTS.

SURF HOTEL,
Fire Island.
Through Sixth and Seventh-avenue cars from foot of Barclay-st. at 6 A. M. and 3 P. M.
D. C. S. RAMSIE.

ORIENT POINT HOUSE.—ORIENT Point, L. I.—Now open, extensively improved, situated on the extreme end of Long Island, fronting on the Sound; most delightful place for the tourist's walk to the water. Splendid sea bathing, fishing and driving. Reached by Long Island Railroad and by steamer Eastern City, Pier No. 22 E. R. Terms moderate. Seats for twenty-five. M. J. PARSONS.

WEST END HOTEL, LONG BRANCH. M. J. Hunt, Proprietor.—Not filled after this date the price of board at this hotel will be $4 per day.
AYERS, GARDNER & CO.
Aug. 11, 1870.

BOARD WANTED.

WANTED—BOARD IN BROOKLYN BY A single man, in a private family, where he can have the comforts of home. Address C., Box No. 165 Times Office.

SITUATIONS WANTED.

FEMALES.

WANTED—A SITUATION, BY A YOUNG Protestant German woman as lady's maid and seamstress; understands hair-dressing and dress-making; experienced in nursing; is a good reader; no objection to the country or to travel; has best City references. Apply at No. 940 4th-av.

WANTED—A SITUATION BY A COMPETENT person who is a first-class seamstress; can cut and fit ladies' and children's dresses; understands all kinds of family sewing; is willing and obliging; no objection to the country. Call at No. 359 East 17th-st., between 1st and 2d-avs.

WANTED—BY A RESPECTABLE YOUNG woman, a situation to do the entire cooking, washing and ironing; is a good cook and baker, and is an excellent washer and ironer; has best City references. Call at No. 338 West 46th-st.

WANTED—A SITUATION BY A RESPECTable young woman as waiter, chamber-work and washing; best of City references can be given. Call for two days at No. 321 East 35th-st., between 1st and 2d-avs., in the rear.

WANTED—A SITUATION BY A PROTESTant German, as first-class cook; understands French, English and American cooking; no objection to the country; good City reference. Call for two days at No. 207 3d-st., near Bowery, lamp-store.

WANTED—A SITUATION BY A COMPETent woman as cook in a private family; understands her business thoroughly; is a first-class baker; City reference; no objection to the country. Call for two days at No. 207 3d-st., near Bowery.

WANTED—A SITUATION BY A PROTESTant girl, as nurse and seamstress; understands her business perfectly; has good recommendations; no objection to the country. Apply at No. 340 4th-av.

WANTED—A SITUATION BY A YOUNG German Protestant girl as nurse and seamstress or chambermaid; and having no objection to country. Apply at No. 340 4th-av.

WANTED—A SITUATION BY AN AMERICAN girl as first-class waiter and sewing-woman; best City reference. Call or address No. 331 West 30th-st., between 8th and 9th avs., for two days.

WANTED—A SITUATION BY A RESPECTable young woman as waiter or to attend to lady; has the best of City references from her last employer. Call at No. 224 West 20th-st.

WANTED—A SITUATION TO DO COOKING, washing and ironing, or general housework by a quiet, capable girl; highly recommended; either City or country. Call at old No. 12 Atlantic-st., Brooklyn.

WANTED—BY A R

THE PRICE OF MILK.

Producers and City Dealers at Variance with Regard to It.

Meeting of the Farmers at Dover Plains—Speeches and Resolutions—An Organization Effected—The Reform Demanded.

A large number of milk-producers of Westchester, Putnam, Dutchess and Columbia Counties, of this State, with delegates from Orange County, assembled at Dover Plains on Tuesday afternoon, for the purpose of devising means whereby they may hereafter realize a fair price for their milk and protect themselves from the impositions and losses to which they claim that they have been subjected by regular and irregular dealers in the City.

The meeting was organized by the selection of Mr. Nelson Boucum, of Boston Corners, for President; Messrs. Edwin Closson and Erwin Travis, Vice-Presidents, and Mr. Artemus Whitlock for Secretary.

The objects of the meeting having been set forth, Mr. G. B. Rowley, Chairman of the Executive Committee, appointed at a meeting held at Croton Falls in March last to carry out the resolutions adopted at that time, made the following report:

"That the resolutions of the Croton Falls Convention embraced, substantially three distinct measures, viz.: First—The daily emptying of the cans (or, in other words, transferring the milk from the cans of the producers to be forwarded to the City by the dealer) on the City platform, and their immediate return. Second—The withholding from the market by each producer, of his quota of milk during a glut. Third—The appointment of an agent for the City to carry into effect the before-mentioned measures, and carried into effect."

The Committee stated to be present some strangers, known as resolutions and agreements. These were signed by a number of milk-producers, at every station along the line of the Harlem Railroad. This was signed by quite a number of producers, representing a sufficient quantity of milk to warrant the Committee in making a beginning (in making a beginning) to carry out the objects set forth in the resolutions.

The first measure suggested, viz.: that of requiring the cans to be emptied on the City platform, the Committee found to be impracticable, to the full extent for two reasons: Many, if not most, of the producers had made their contracts or engagements without provisions for such exchange. The Commissioners of Accounts, however, stated that the assistance which they expected to receive from the Railroad Company in carrying out the measure, could not be extended, not having the power to exercise it, inasmuch as the cans of milk (it is both every can of milk) were consigned to the City customers, consequently the Agent of the Railroad Company could not withhold the can from the customer as long as it was thus consigned, consequently that proposed measure of reform had failed. The Committee, however, still held to their first belief that the practice of furnishing the City vender with cans is a sad component on the farmer's business tact and capacity, and bears no analogy to the time established images of Lilliput and Brobdignag; for instance the grain dealer sells a bag of oats and charges the bag with the oats, and gives credit for the bag on its return. On the other hand, the farmer delivers his cans with the milk, and no distinctive charge is made for the can, and no credit is given for it on its return, and, consequently, nobody is responsible for it further than his honesty. But the Committee, while stamping this practice as shiftless, recommend no measure until some co-operation can be had with producers on other railroads, and some delegation of power to this Committee, shall prove enough unable to carry out this can-emptying measure, were unwilling to let the other measures of the Convention drop without an attempt to execute them. Now, as matters stand, I have a letter from Mr. Litchfield, and sent him to the City platform, on the 1st day of May, as the milk-producers agent, with instructions to report to different stations the supply and deficiency, or to send to different stations the quantities that respective quotas of milk to be withheld, to which cans on the platform, to hunt them in the dark holes of the City, and, in general terms, to be in nature of a proxy for every milk-producer. With reference to the amount of milk withheld during the glut, the Committee are unable to state, with any exactness, but are of the opinion that the measure was effectual to the extent that it must have been more, and believe that thereby the market was saved from disastrous glut; and that withholding of milk during gluts was demonstrated as wise practice—a marked benefit to the producer and dealer, and certainly no injury to the consumer.

The Committee, while having no sympathy with the extreme and illegal measures of trades-unions and St. Crispin Societies, firmly believe that every business man has a right to withhold his product, according to the law of supply and demand. Ten cans of milk a day in New-York City more than the regular trade needs, with a pretty certain prospect of having the same for the next fourteen thirty days, the "average" dealer sassy and impudent, and gives him a depraved taste for repudiating his fairly-made contracts. Whether surplus milk can be diverted into some other channel than that of converting it into butter or cheese—remains, as it always has been, the problem of the situation. Whether an agent shall be continued on the City platform is for this meeting to decide. There will be no special need of voting it down, as it will certainly fall of market for lack of material support, and a vote for its continuance will be of no avail without some responsible source of funds to continue it. The Committee placed Mr. Thayer on the "Morning Star" with claiming any legal responsibility for his salary, promised our best endeavors for collecting it; and we are sorry to report that not even one-fifth part has been collected in money, and that if the debt is repudiated, one at least of this Committee will let milk-meetings alone severely for the future. An attempt to run this organization with the inkwarm spirit of the Commissioners of Accounts, to report who shall be much like attempting to lift ourselves up by the straps of our boots. We respectfully resign our power into the hands that gave it, and congratulate future Committees on the honor and emoluments of the situation.

The City agent, after detailing some of the difficulties he had experienced in performing his duties, and securing the return of the cans, suggested the employment of a person to attend to that matter, who, he felt sure, could soon collect 2,000 cans, worth $5 each, or about $10,000, which now lie scattered about among the City groceries and other places. One farmer who owns 148 cans can now only find forty-two of the whole number.

Mr. B. F. Camp remarked that whether the remedy for loss of cans was to be found in requiring the cans to be emptied and returned on the city platform, was not for him to say; but he contended that there was no more reason why farmers should lose their cans any more than there was reason why the milkman or grocer should lose his wagon. He alluded to the loose manner in which the milk-producers along the line of the Harlem Railroad had been conducting their business and the consequences. He contended that the remedy was in their own hands if they choosed to use it. He felt satisfied that the plan of requiring the retailers to furnish their own cans could be carried out. Be that as it may, he was in favor of trusting the management of their affairs in all the City to some person who would be responsible for the milk, and every can consigned to him, and remarked that Mr. J. Burnelson, agent of the Harlem Railroad Company, if he could be induced to accept the position, could give security to the amount of $100,000 for the faithful performance of his duties and trust. He was in favor of appointing such an agent, with instructions to demand a remunerative price for the milk sold, and if there should be any surplus over the demand, to convert that surplus into cheese and butter, at some place in the City to be established for that purpose; considering that it would be much more for the interest of the producer to dispose of the surplus in the shape of butter and cheese, than to reduce the price of all the milk on account of a glut, for in that case the surplus is actually given away, if the whole is sold for a price which two-thirds the quantity would bring if there was no glut. The speaker concluded by referring to the excellent course adopted by the Orange County Milk-Producers' Association, in bringing the retailers to their senses in the matter.

The City dealers for some time had everything their own way, and only paid three cents per quart for milk, and when the farmers got together and organized for the purpose of obtaining more, the dealers redoubled the audacity of the producers for attempting to fix the price at which they were willing to sell their milk, and threatened to make them pay very dearly for such audacity. Notwithstanding the threats of the dealers, however, the milk-producers of Orange County, on the 20th of May last, notified the dealers of New-York that from the 1st day of June they must pay four cents per quart for Orange County milk or go without it, and it was paid. On the 20th of June the dealers were again notified that for the month of July they would have to pay four and a half cents per quart, and that was paid; and in like manner the dealers were notified, toward the close of July, that during the month of August five cents per quart would be demanded, and that price has thus far been paid. The farmers of Orange County are milking 10,000 cows. Mr. Wood closed by advocating the system of employing a competent and responsible agent in New-York.

Mr. Artemus Whitlock next addressed the meeting, and expressed similar views in regard to the best means of doing business with the City dealers.

On motion of Mr. B. F. Camp, a committee of three was appointed to prepare by-laws for the government of the organization, also a committee of three from the Orange County Association as a Committee of Conference, and the Chair selected the following gentlemen, viz.: Artemus Whitlock and B. F. Camp, of Westchester County, and W. Sheldon, of Dutchess County; O. B. Wood, J. E. Wells, Alfred Hulse, of Orange County. The Committee on Organization shortly afterward presented the following resolutions:

Resolved, That we organize by selecting one person from each station on the Executive Committee, and Committee to select a President and Secretary, also an agent for the City of New-York.

Resolved, That any milk-producer may become a member of the Association by paying an initiation fee five cents per cow owned or kept by him.

Resolved, That no long contracts be made by any member of the Association.

Resolved, That each member pay one cent per can of milk sent to New-York to defray the expenses of the Association, and that the Executive Committee make arrangements to collect this money in New-York.

Another resolution was adopted to the following effect: That three Commissioners may be appointed at $4 per day each and traveling expenses for the purpose of looking after the general interest of the Association.

The Chair appointed the following gentlemen members of the Executive Committee to represent the interests of their producers sending milk from the various stations on the line of the Harlem Railroad:

B. Godfrey, White Plains; Warren Graham, Unionville; S. J. Carpenter, Pleasantville; J. Haight, Chappaqua; F. Carpenter, Mount Kisco; M. Hazard, Bedford; Artemus Whitlock, Katonah; Lewis Travis, Golden's Bridge; Thomas Crane, Purdy's Station; E. Crosby, Croton Falls; A. E. McGoff, Brewster's; Augustus Doane, Dykeman's; W. O. Taylor, Towner's; Benjamin T. Haviland, Patterson; J. E. Nichols, Pawling; E. A. Preston, South Dover; R. Vincent, Dover Furnace; M. D. Hall, Dover Plains; W. H. Tanner, Wassaic; J. H. Conklin, Amenia; W. Dailey, Coleman's; C. Sheldon, Millerton; M. Smith, Mount Riga; E. Cook, Boston Corners.

The meeting was then adjourned.

Meeting of the Milk-Dealers' Association—The Previous Prices of Milk—The Farmers' Demands to be Metcked.

The Milk-Dealers' Association held, yesterday, an adjourned meeting at No. 140 Hester-street. President Wheelid in the chair. The question in dispute between them and the farmers is the demand by the latter of an additional cent per quart for all milk delivered.

Mr. James C. Coleman and Mr. Hiram Horton were present as a Committee from the Orange County Milk-Producers' Association.

The meeting was much larger than on the previous occasions, and quite a number of new members were enrolled. After the reading of the minutes of the last meeting, the President invited any farmers present to speak, offering them the floor for thirty minutes.

B. F. Sears, a farmer from Orange County, said that as it had been thrown out at the last meeting that if the advance of five cents was conceded for August, the demand for six cents would be demanded in September, he had canvassed among the farmers, and they had declared they had no such idea.

The President asked any one who had paid the five cents to rise. No one rose. He then asked if any one had to report a stoppage of carriers. On this question several gentlemen rose and reported Daniel Mowbr, David Mowbr, William Howell, and some others, about a dozen in all.

The producers were then requested to retire.

Mr. Hopkins, a milk-dealer on the Harlem Road, stated that he paid for March four cents a half cents, for June, July and August, three cents, and would probably pay (voluntarily) three and a half cents for August and September. In October last he paid five cents a quart. He recommended that the dealers by the Erie Road should in future pay a little more for their milk. The Committee of farmers state that their firm belief that the practice of furnishing the City vender with cans is a sad component on the farmer's business tact and capacity, and bears no analogy to the time established images of Lilliput and Brobdignag; for instance the grain dealer sells a bag of oats and charges the bag with the oats, and gives credit for the bag on its return. On the other hand, the farmer delivers his cans with the milk, and no distinctive charge is made for the can, and no credit is given for it on its return, and, consequently, nobody is responsible for it further than his honesty. But the Committee, while stamping this practice as shiftless, recommend no measure until some co-operation can be had with producers on other railroads, and some delegation of power to this Committee, shall prove enough unable to carry out this can-emptying measure, were unwilling to let the other measures of the Convention drop without an attempt to execute them. Now, as matters stand, I have a letter from Mr. Litchfield, and sent him to the City platform, on the 1st day of May, as the milk-producers agent, with instructions to report to different stations the supply and deficiency, or to send to different stations the quantities that respective quotas of milk to be withheld, to which cans on the platform, to hunt them in the dark holes of the City, and, in general terms, to be in nature of a proxy for every milk-producer. With reference to the amount of milk withheld during the glut, the Committee are unable to state, with any exactness, but are of the opinion that the measure was effectual to the extent that it must have been more, and believe that thereby the market was saved from disastrous glut; and that withholding of milk during gluts was demonstrated as wise practice—a marked benefit to the producer and dealer, and certainly no injury to the consumer.

The Committee, while having no sympathy with the extreme and illegal measures of trades-unions and St. Crispin Societies, firmly believe that every business man has a right to withhold his product, according to the law of supply and demand. Ten cans of milk a day in New-York City more than the regular trade needs, with a pretty certain prospect of having the same for the next fourteen thirty days, the "average" dealer sassy and impudent, and gives him a depraved taste for repudiating his fairly-made contracts. Whether surplus milk can be diverted into some other channel than that of converting it into butter or cheese—remains, as it always has been, the problem of the situation. Whether an agent shall be continued on the City platform is for this meeting to decide. There will be no special need of voting it down, as it will certainly fall of market for lack of material support, and a vote for its continuance will be of no avail without some responsible source of funds to continue it. This Committee placed Mr. Thayer on the "Morning Star" with claiming any legal responsibility for his salary, promised our best endeavors for collecting it; and we are sorry to report that not even one-fifth part has been collected in money, and that if the debt is repudiated, one at least of this Committee will let milk-meetings alone severely for the future. An attempt to run this organization with the inkwarm spirit of the Commissioners of Accounts, to report who shall be much like attempting to lift ourselves up by the straps of our boots. We respectfully resign our power into the hands that gave it, and congratulate future Committees on the honor and emoluments of the situation.

The City agent, after detailing some of the difficulties he had experienced in performing his duties, and securing the return of the cans, suggested the employment of a person to attend to that matter, who, he felt sure, could soon collect 2,000 cans, worth $5 each, or about $10,000, which now lie scattered about among the City groceries and other places. One farmer who owns 148 cans can now only find forty-two of the whole number.

Mr. B. F. Camp remarked that whether the remedy for loss of cans was to be found in requiring the cans to be emptied and returned on the city platform, was not for him to say; but he contended that there was no more reason why farmers should lose their cans any more than there was reason why the milkman or grocer should lose his wagon. He alluded to the loose manner in which the milk-producers along the line of the Harlem Railroad had been conducting their business and the consequences. He contended that the remedy was in their own hands if they choosed to use it. He felt satisfied that the plan of requiring the retailers to furnish their own cans could be carried out. Be that as it may, he was in favor of trusting the management of their affairs in all the City to some person who would be responsible for the milk, and every can consigned to him, and remarked that Mr. J. Burnelson, agent of the Harlem Railroad Company, if he could be induced to accept the position, could give security to the amount of $100,000 for the faithful performance of his duties and trust. He was in favor of appointing such an agent, with instructions to demand a remunerative price for the milk sold, and if there should be any surplus over the demand, to convert that surplus into cheese and butter, at some place in the City to be established for that purpose; considering that it would be much more for the interest of the producer to dispose of the surplus in the shape of butter and cheese, than to reduce the price of all the milk on account of a glut, for in that case the surplus is actually given away, if the whole is sold for a price which two-thirds the quantity would bring if there was no glut. The speaker concluded by referring to the excellent course adopted by the Orange County Milk-Producers' Association, in bringing the retailers to their senses in the matter.

The City dealers for some time had everything their own way, and only paid three cents per quart for milk, and when the farmers got together and organized for the purpose of obtaining more, the dealers redoubled the audacity of the producers for attempting to fix the price at which they were willing to sell their milk, and threatened to make them pay very dearly for such audacity. Notwithstanding the threats of the dealers, however, the milk-producers of Orange County, on the 20th of May last, notified the dealers of New-York that from the 1st day of June they must pay four cents per quart for Orange County milk or go without it, and it was paid. On the 20th of June the dealers were again notified that for the month of July they would have to pay four and a half cents per quart, and that was paid; and in like manner the dealers were notified, toward the close of July, that during the month of August five cents per quart would be demanded, and that price has thus far been paid. The farmers of Orange County are milking 10,000 cows. Mr. Wood closed by advocating the system of employing a competent and responsible agent in New-York.

Mr. Artemus Whitlock next addressed the meeting, and expressed similar views in regard to the best means of doing business with the City dealers.

On motion of Mr. B. F. Camp, a committee of three was appointed to prepare by-laws for the government of the organization, also a committee of three from the Orange County Association as a Committee of Conference, and the Chair selected the following gentlemen, viz.: Artemus Whitlock and B. F. Camp, of Westchester County, and W. Sheldon, of Dutchess County; O. B. Wood, J. E. Wells, Alfred Hulse, of Orange County. The Committee on Organization shortly afterward presented the following resolutions:

Resolved, That we organize by selecting one person from each station on the Executive Committee, and Committee to select a President and Secretary, also an agent for the City of New-York.

Resolved, That any milk-producer may become a member of the Association by paying an initiation fee five cents per cow owned or kept by him.

Resolved, That no long contracts be made by any member of the Association.

Resolved, That each member pay one cent per can of milk sent to New-York to defray the expenses of the Association, and that the Executive Committee

LOCAL NEWS IN BRIEF.

NEW-YORK.

While Inspector Chapman was examining the baggage of the steerage passengers by the Abyssinia, yesterday, he "tapped" a man who appeared to have some bulky material about his person. The passenger leaped into the hold to escape, but Chapman followed him, and found three pieces of silk wound about his person. From another passenger Chapman took a rusty tin-can containing gold and silver watches and chains. The smuggler attempted to bribe the officer with four sovereigns, which he dropped into the inspector's pocket.

James Keenan, conductor of car No. 8, Third-avenue line, was yesterday held by Justice Coulter, in the Yorkville Police Court, in $1,000, to answer for kicking a little boy named Charles Armour off the rear platform of his car, on Monday evening, as it was passing Fifty-seventh-street. The boy is severely injured in the abdomen, where Keenan kicked him, and is also suffering from concussion of the brain.

Mary Kane, an old woman living in a shanty in Sixty-seventh-street, near Eighth-avenue, yesterday preferred a complaint, in the Yorkville Police Court, against Joseph Meyer, for obtaining $700 from her by fraudulent misrepresentations. On the 3d of July, Meyer, having visited the old woman was induced to invest $700, the whole savings of her life, called upon her and represented himself as a real estate agent. He told her he could purchase property for her very cheap at College Point, Long Island, and she believing him, gave him the money. Finding nothing of the kind, she procured a warrant for his arrest, and yesterday had the poor satisfaction of seeing him locked up in default of bail to answer.

The arrivals at Castle Garden yesterday were confined to the Denmark, from Havre, with ninety-one passengers, and the Abyssinia, from Liverpool, with 232. The first-named steamer belongs to the National line, and is one of the three recently put on which leave London for Havre and thence direct to this port.

A billiard tournament is to be held this Fall at the Club Subscription Billiard Rooms, No. 1,194 Broadway, commencing on Sept. 1, and will continue until Jan. 1, 1871. The master proving himself the victor will be presented with a prize cue and a medal valued at $200.

A grand hop will be given to-morrow evening, at the Gregory House, on the shores of Lake Mahopac, when the extensive grounds and the lake will be brilliantly illuminated. Extensive preparations for the event have been for some time in progress, and it is intended to be one of the finest affairs of the season.

The notorious Dr. King, of Elizabeth, who was reported some weeks since as having attempted a horrible crime upon his stepdaughter, and who was afterward charged with assault upon his wife, was yesterday brought up for examination upon the first charge before Justice Furman. The complainant is his step-daughter, Miss Bradford. He was committed in default of $500 bail.

Messrs. B. K. Bliss & Son, seedmen, in Park-place, have now on exhibition at their store a magnificent collection of Japanese blooms, comprising over five hundred different named varieties, all of them growing for seed-bulbs. They have also a collection of Japanese lilies of great beauty, the new double and tinted varieties being great curiosities for connoisseurs. The flowers will be on exhibition only a few days.

The following were the indications of the thermometer in the shade yesterday, as the property of Messrs. Spencer & F. Byrne's meteorical water "Spy": No. 149 Broadway, 8 A. M., 69°; 8 A. M., 77°; 10 A. M., 80°; noon, 84½°; 2 P. M., 89°; 4 P. M., 80°; 6 P. M., 76°; 8 P. M., 76°; 10 P. M., 75°; 12 P. M., 74°.

Major-Gen. McDowell has arrived at army head-quarters, in this City, where everything now assumes a lively aspect, and Major Chauncey McKeever is engaged making out reports of the most interesting kind, which will be given to the public in a few days.

The recruiting business is pretty lively, and Governor's Island has within the last few weeks been crowded to its utmost capacity, upward of 400 men, the majority of whom are foreigners who have joined the United States Army.

Three hundred and eighty-one men left New-York last Saturday to join the Seventeenth Infantry in Iowa, and 300 more are under orders to proceed to Dakota to join the Fourteenth Infantry.

Patrick Costello, sixteen years of age, of No. 416 First-avenue, while playing ball, yesterday, at Hunter's Point, had his arm broken, and, he fainting, was taken to Police in a disabled condition, was taken to Bellevue Hospital.

A fire occurred, yesterday, on the roof of the dwelling No. 346 Lexington-avenue, owned and occupied by Mrs. Vanderbeck, causing a damage of $100 to the building and $200 to furniture, on neither of which is there any insurance. The fire was caused by a defective flue.

The Department of Public Parks announce that, if the weather be fine, there will be music, by the Central Park Band, in Madison-square, today, from 6½ to 7½ o'clock P. M.

A fire occurred, yesterday morning, in the cigar-store of A. Crane, No. 184 Eighth-avenue, doing a damage of $300, which is fully covered by insurance.

At an early hour, yesterday morning, an unknown man was seen to jump into the water from the Battery. He was followed, but at a distance could reach him. The body has not yet been recovered.

The Beethoven Maennerchor, one of the most prominent of the German singing societies of this City, will hold their Summer-nights festival at the Terrace Garden, corner of Third-avenue and Fifty-eighth-street, to-night.

BROOKLYN.

Conrad Schneider, a German, aged thirty-eight years, residing at No. 145 McKibben-street, E. D., committed suicide, yesterday afternoon, by cutting his throat with a razor. He had for some time been suffering with dropsy, which caused temporary insanity. Coroner Whitehill will hold an inquest on the body.

A distillery owned by Wm. Brody, in Green-lane, was seized, yesterday, by the Deputy Assessors, and $12,000 worth of whisky confiscated.

Michael Carroll was arrested, yesterday, for attempting to pass a $20 counterfeit on Nelson Wallace, of Fifth-avenue, near Nineteenth-street. He, as being questioned, said he did business at No. 152 Cherry-street, New-York, and was on a pleasure trip.

The Coroner's jury impaneled in the case of the steamer Norwalk, will hold their first meeting today.

A young girl whose name is not yet known was found insensible, yesterday, at Flatbush. She had been outraged.

WESTCHESTER COUNTY.

The Germans of Morrisania held a meeting on Tuesday evening and contributed about $600, to be sent to Germany through the Consul-General, in aid of the families of soldiers killed or wounded in battles with the French.

Mr. James M. Roneizin, representing himself as a broker doing business in New-street, New-York, was arrested by Officer Clancy, of the Yonkers Police, and taken before Justice Shannon, of Yonkers, yesterday, on a charge of obtaining goods by false pretenses. It appeared from the complaint of Mr. Radcliffe, butcher, that the accused had obtained meat and vegetables from him to the amount of about $100 in part payment of which he tendered a check endorsed by himself, and drawn on his own office. The check was paid into one of the Yonkers banks and finally sent to New-York, when it was returned with a protest, and on going to Mr. Cromblin's place of business, it was found closed. It was subsequently ascertained that Mr. Cromblin had given other checks in the village, which were protested, but were subsequently settled.

A fisherman by the name of Joshua Goodman was arrested at Yonkers, yesterday, on a charge of having attempted to shoot a fisherman employed by the Hudson River Railroad Company. The accused on being taken before Justice Shannon, stated, in his defense, that the flagman struck him on the head with stick. He was held for examination.

LONG ISLAND.

Today the colored residents of Queens County celebrate their annual Harvest Home reception, at the grove of Joshua Brooks, Lakeville. In addition to dancing and music, which will be kept up till a late hour, matters of interest to the colored people of the county will be discussed.

At the session of the Right Worth Grand Lodge, I. O. of O. F., which has been held for the past two days at Rochester, a petition was presented by D. D. Grand Master Poppe, of Queens county, signed by R. G. Wm. O. Duryall, of Hancock Lodge, No. 48, of New-York; Wm. Heiner, Ferdinand Liebtheg, F. Wm. Krell, and Christian Hendy, of Pacific Lodge No. 25, Flushing; Wm. R. Gowen, of Warren Lodge No. 17, of Baltimore, and Samuel Kolb, of Herman Lodge No. 188 of Jamaica, for a charter for a lodge, to be called Page Post. Also a petition from Hon. James J. Armstrong and other Past Grands of Jamaica, for the institution of the Lodge which ceased working at that place a few years since.

Some time since it was reported in Long Island City that George Purcell, the elected Recorder of the city, who held the position of Justice of the Peace of Newtown, did not intend to resign the office of Justice of the Peace, but proposed to hold both offices. The friends of Purcell indignantly denied the report, and stigmatized the publication of the rumor as a slander. Purcell has now held the position of Recorder nearly two months, and for over two weeks has been exercising the functions of the Recordership, and yet no resignation of the office of Justice of the Peace has been made public. This precludes the Board of Town Justices from appointing a successor.

A team, consisting of a horse and wagon, while attempting to cross the Long Island Railroad in advance of the Northport express train, was struck by the locomotive Tuesday morning. The horse was killed. The occupants of the wagon escaped uninjured.

The Long Island City Base-ball Club and the Clarendons, of New-York, played a game on the latter's grounds, on Saturday afternoon, the former winning by a score of 30 to 7. The umpire was John Booth.

STATEN ISLAND.

By reference to yesterday's Times, it will be seen a young man named Blaine was leader of a party of burglars and thieves who preyed on the people in their neighborhood. One of Blaine's associates was lately arrested, but no specific charge could be made against him. Capt. Holbrook, however, requested the detention of the young man as a witness who could convict the leader, but Judge Kilpatrick let him go. The young man is from Havana with a case of yellow fever aboard.

The Village Commissioners of Middleton are to meet at once to discuss the question of more accommodation in the way of transit from New-York to the Island, after certain hours of the evening.

There is a grand movement on foot among the real estate owners to organize an association to either co-operate with or assist the Commission which the late Legislature appointed to make improvements in the county. The proposed new road have not yet been made, nor have any plans been received or called for.

Capt. La Forge, of the County Police, who now enjoys his head-quarters at New Brighton, has made a raid on New-York thieves, who have visited the picnic grounds, and at once made them the victims of Richmond County justice.

NEW-JERSEY.

On Tuesday afternoon the house of Mr. John Noe of Elizabeth, was discovered to be on fire, volumes of smoke pouring from the room. Mr. Noe met the servant girl, whose name is Catharine Courtney, on the threshold, who seemed to be very much excited. On demanding the cause of the smoke she said she thought the house must be on fire. The fire was finally discovered in the flooring of the cellar, which was torn up and the flames extinguished. On looking about the kitchen rags soaked in kerosene and half burned were discovered, with other evidences of arson. The girl was then taken in custody. About a month since Mr. Noe's barn was destroyed by fire, and no clue to the cause was discovered. It is now believed that it was fired by the same girl. She had been five years in the employ of Mr. Noe.

James Wilson, who stabbed and killed Warden Willard in the Connecticut State Prison, on Sunday last, proves to have been an old inmate of the New-Jersey State Prison, at Trenton. He was sentenced for seven years, in June, 1864, on a very dark and stormy night, by cutting a hole through the prison roof. Although a reward was offered he was never apprehended. He was considered a very sullen and dangerous man while at Trenton, and has been confined in the State Prisons of Ohio and Michigan, from both of which he succeeded in escaping.

Yesterday noon Mr. Walter Westerfield, of Orange, returned from a shop where he is employed, and asked a young man, his brother-in-law, to bring some water from the cistern, which he did, and accidentally left the cover open. The cistern is built in the ground, with the top even with the surface. After dinner Mr. Westerfield's little girl Mary Ella went out into the yard to play, and not seeing the open cistern, fell in and was drowned. A neighbor, who passed shortly after the accident, saw the cover open, and on going to close it saw the unfortunate child. She was immediately taken out, but life was extinct.

All the horse-car conductors and drivers in Newark who have been arrested for obeying the ordinance of the City Council by keeping their cars on Sunday, will be up for examination on Saturday. Very much feeling is manifested by citizens in regard to the matter, many thinking the action of those who caused the writs to be served was uncalled for, while those who opposed the horse-cars are much pleased that trouble has commenced so soon. There will probably be much more of it.

To-morrow evening the festival of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin will be celebrated at Newark by the sodalities attached to St. Patrick's Cathedral, to the number of about 800 young men and women. After forming and marching to the church, a statue will be blessed, which is intended to represent St. Joseph bearing in his arms the Infant Christ.

A man, who refused to give his name, was arrested, yesterday morning, on a charge of having robbed the shops of the Erie Railroad Company, at Jersey City. The shops were broken into on Tuesday evening, and brass and mountings to a considerable amount taken. These shops have been several times robbed, and until now no one has been arrested.

A man named Gottlieb Oschelschul, of Newark, has been arrested, charged with setting fire to his neighbor's house. His friends rescued him from the officer, who again arrested him, with those who interfered.

One hundred and five car loads of peaches passed over the New-Jersey Railroad, yesterday, on their way to New-York.

The will of Christopher Heisden, of Newark, for $85,000, was yesterday admitted to probate.

Yesterday morning an employe on board the Hamburg steamer Cimbria, now lying at Hoboken, entered a complaint against the Captain of the vessel, named Hayberck, and the first mate, Kane. Janesse was severely beaten, and left in an insensible state. It appears that he was ordered to do something which he deemed wrong, and was terribly beaten. Warrants were issued by Justice Conklin for the arrest of the men charged with the offense.

The report of the Chief-of-Police, of Jersey City, for the last quarter, and up to July 31, shows the number of arrests to have been 1,788. One thousand one hundred and sixteen of these were for drunkenness or for offenses of which that was the cause. Of the entire number 1,520 were foreigners, mostly Irish, and 1,364 were persons who had no occupation. Of the arrests made 248 were females and only 19 were colored.

A youth who works in a machine shop on Market-street, Newark, has been dangerously stabbed by a sharp-pointed file, which he held in his hand in such a position that another boy who ran against him forced it into his body.

ARMY AND NAVY RECORD.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—The War Department today issued an order quoting paragraph 2 of the Revised Regulations of the Army of 1863, as follows: "If any disbursing officer shall bet at cards or any game of hazard, his commanding officer shall suspend his functions and require him to turn over all the public funds in his keeping, and shall immediately report the case to the proper bureau of the War Department." The order adds: "In case the officer shall be found guilty of loss or disbursement of public funds shall violate this regulation, he will be brought to trial before a General Court-martial by the Department Commander, and will not be assigned to duty or again put in possession of public funds subsequent to his trial without the approval of the Secretary of War.

Master Edward L. Pendleton is ordered to the Hydrographic Office. Assistant Engineer John Ferry has been ordered to the Kansas. Second Assistant Engineers R. T. Bennet, T. M. Jones, T. Cooper, Henry D. Sellman and Hugh L. Cline have been ordered to examination for promotion. Master John E. Hoge and Ensign George W. Tyler have completed their signal duty and ordered to the Guerriere.

FOREIGN MARKETS.

LONDON, Aug. 17.—The market for American Securities opened firm and closed steady. Stocks opened quiet and colored steady. The course of the market during the day is shown by the following table:

	11½ A. M.	1½ P. M.	4½ P. M.
Consols for money	91¼	91¼	91¼
Consols for account	91¼	91¼	91¼
U. S. 6-20s of 1862	87½	.....	87½
U. S. 5-20s of 1862, old	84½	.....	84
U. S. 5-20s of 1867	84½	.....	85
U. S. 10-40s	82½	.....	82½
Ill. Cen. Railroad shares	110	109½	109½
Erie Railway shares	16	16	17½
Atlantic and Great Western	7	7	7
Railroad shares	22	22½	22

LIVERPOOL, Aug. 17.—COTTON.—The market opened firm, at 1½ P. M. tended upward and closed buoyant. The following are the quotations and sales:

		4½ P. M.
Middling Uplands	11½d.	11½d.
Middling Orleans	11½d.	11½d.

Total sales of the day		10,000
Total sales for export and speculation		1,000

BREADSTUFFS.—Wheat 3s. 10d. 6s. 11d. ⅌ central Rd. Red Western No. 1: Winter, 6s. 10d. 6s. 11d. Flour, 28s. 6d. 34s. 6d. for Western Canal. Barley, 36s. 2d.

LONDON, Aug. 17.—PROVISIONS.—YELLOW TALLOW, 44s. 6d. LARD, 46s. 6d. TURPENTINE 34s. 6d.

FRANKFORT, Aug. 17.—United States Five-twenty Bonds open buoyant at 92.

DOMESTIC MARKETS.

CHICAGO, Aug. 17.—EXCHANGE unchanged. Flour dull and unchanged. Wheat advancing and moderately active; sales at 90c. 90c. cash; $1 11@$1 11½, seller September; at 3 P. M., market lower at $1 10@$1 10½, seller September. Corn firm and higher; at 77c. 77½c. at 1 P. M., market dull at 71½c. seller August. Oats active and higher; sales at 36½c. 36½c. Rye advancing and higher; sales at 71½c. for No. 2. Barley—Large supply; sales at $1 07@$1 08. Highwines quiet and lower, at 90c. for low grades. Provisions dull and almost nominal. Live Hogs quiet at $6 80@$6 90 for Common to Extra Choice. Cattle active, firm and steady at $3 40@$5 for Common Texans to Choice shipping steers. Whiskey—4,000 bbls. Flour, 20,000 bushels Wheat, 14,000 bushels Corn, 40,000 bushels Oats, 5,500 bushels Rye, 14,000 bushels Barley, 3,300 Hogs. Shipments—4,600 bbls. Flour, 34,000 bushels Wheat, 152,000 bushels Corn, 67,000 bushels Oats, 2,400 bushels Rye, 1,000 bushels Barley. Receipts, 24,000